Senate OKs jobless fathers welfare bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Senate approved today a bill to allow an unemployed father to remain in the household while his family receives benefits under the aid to dependent children program.

The sponsor, Sen. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, said the bill contained a defect because it applied only to adopted children. He said he would have it amended in the House to include natural children.

Also passed was a bill to allow ADC benefits to a child or legal guardian if the child is without parental support.

The Senate passed a bill to allow state funds for regional planning commissions.

The money would be on a 5050 matching basis with local funds, but it provides that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council in St. Louis could not use such ,funds in connection with a proposed Illinois airport. ,

Tuesday, a bill to give state employes the right to bargain collectively got a hostile reception in the senate.

The senators voted 19-19 to prevent Sen. Donald Gralike, D-St. Louis, from discussing the bill when it came up on the calendar for action Tuesday.

After several senators objected, another vote was taken and Gralike was allowed to prevent the bill.

During the debate Tuesday, Gralike said some state employes are working full time but are "on welfare and getting food stamps."

The bill was laid over for consideration at a later date to allow time for copies to be made of a lengthy amendment that was offered.

In other action, a bill to exempt drugs from state sales tax and to give taxpayers credit for taxes paid on food was withdrawn after receiving stiff opposition and being weakened by an amendment.

Sen. John Schneider, D-Florissant, withdrew the bill after Sen. A. Clifford Jones, R-Brentwood, amended it to eliminate the provision for corporations to pay an increased tax to make up the revenue lost in the drug and food tax provisions.

House Appropriations Committee Chairman James "Jay" Russell, D-St. Louis, said he will submit a $70 million capital improvements bill to the committee with a $472,000 cut in funds for two state colleges.

Russell said $268,000 for Missouri Western College at St. Joseph and $204,000 for Missouri Southern College in Joplin, will be chopped from the bill because he thinks the appropriation might be illegal.

He said under state laws the two schools are required to finance capital improvements with local tax levies. He has asked for an opinion on the issue from the attorney general's office.

Russell also said a $750,000 emergency appropriations bill to pay the state's share in providing temporary housing for flood victims may be approved by the House early next week.

He said he would introduce the bill today.

Somebody moved the river

Close to the Matthews- East Prairie interchange is a sign advertising the nearness of one of the ferries that crosses the Mississippi River to Kentucky. Under normal conditions, that sign is about 20 miles or more from the ferry it advertises, but floodwaters have brought the sign and water together.

City won't collect fees on garbage

The city will not collect garbage disposal fees unless ordered to do so by the state, City Manager Jim Huff said today.

A representative of the state health department said in a solid waste disposal meeting in March that the health department might not approve Sikeston's waste disposal plans if the people who collect the garbage were the same ones who collect the fees.

The city then considered collecting the fees as part of the city utility bills.

The reasoning of the health department was that under law all garbage must be collected, and under the present setup, if a person does not pay his fee, the trash collector stops picking up his trash.

Huff said the city would face an enforcement problem in requiring everyone to have his trash hauled away. Under new environmental regulations, after June 30 all trash must be hauled in closed water tight vehicles to a sanitary landfill. Open burning is banned, as is open dumping.

A city ordinance, passed last month to comply with state regulations, will require all residents to subscribe to a waste disposal service. Huff told the planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday that the ordinance may be amended to allow people to haul away their own trash.

One way of enforcing the regulation without the city going into the business of collecting garbage disposal fees would be for the city to act on complaints filed against residents who did not have their garbage picked up.

Under that system, he said the city would give the violators one warning. If the warning went unheeded, the city would take the violators to court where they would be subject to a fine.

Helen Shy dies here at age 72

Helen Shy

Helen Cruchon Shy, 72, of 214 Daniel St. died at 9:27 p.m. Tuesday at her home following an extended illness.

She was born March 17, 1901 in New Madrid and was the daughter of the late David Isaac Cruchon and Wilhemina Elise Henze. On Sept. 6, 1919, she married Gordon Samuel Shy Sr., who preceded her in death on Dec. 10, 1939. She was born and reared in New Madrid, then moved to Sikeston in 1936 where she had remained. She was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and St. Ann Sodality.

Surviving are five sons, Gordon S. Shy Jr. of Chaffee, David R. Shy of Sikeston, Richard C. Shy of Cupertino, Calif., Lloyd R. Shy of Centralia, Ill., and Harold K. Shy of Columbia; two daughters, Miss Gwendolyn Shy and Mrs. Helen Marie Grady of Sikeston; one sister, Mrs. Louise Wilson of Kansas City; and 24 grandchildren and one great- granddaughter.

The body is at Nunnelee Funeral Chapel where friends may call after 5 p.m. today.

A prayer service will be conducted in the Nunnelee chapel at 7:30 p.m. today.

Funeral mass is scheduled at 10 a.m. Thursday in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church with the Rev. Robert Schumacher officiating.

Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery in New Madrid.

Pallbearers will be three grandsons, David Gordon Shy, Gregory Shy and Lynn Shy, and nephews Jack Lewis, Ralph Lewis and Tommy Young.

Charleston bond issue approved

CHARLESTON— A light turnout of voters Tuesday approved a $125,000 revenue bond issue for water system improvements and a proposal for the annexation of three areas to the city limits.

The bond issue received 156 votes in favor of the measure and 72 against, including one absentee ballot. A total of 188 persons, including one absentee ballot, voted for annexation, and 39 voted against the proposal.

The $125,000 bond issue, along with federal and Ozark Regional Planning Commission grants totaling $290,000 will be used to install new equipment at the water treatment plant to improve the quality of the water. New loops in the water main will also be installed to provide more water and better water pressure throughout the city.

The three areas annexed include one section along the west side of North Main Road and north of Goodin Avenue. The second section is along South Main Street to Interstate 57. The third area is on the east approach to the city to the new Interstate 57 overpass now under construction.

City to spend $117,000 for airport project

A number of people apparently misread an article in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard relating to funds to be spent at Sikeston Memorial Airport.

City Manager Jim Huff said he has received telephone calls from people who misread the article to mean the city is going to spend $117,000 on the first phase of the project. The $117,000 is the total the city will spend on both phases of the project.

Sikeston will put up about $52,000 for the first phase, including $10,000 from the airport fund, Huff said. The second phase of the project will cost the city between $65,000 and $75,000, if the city council approves, according to Huff.

The remainder of the funds for the $425,000 project are being provided by Ozark Regional Planning Commission, Federal Aviation Administration and the state.

Cline explains teacher bill

State Rep. C. F. Cline, 159th District Democrat, said today that many people have apparently misunderstood legislative action taken on the teachers retirement system and funding for the University of Missouri Extension Service.

Cline said the teachers retirement system has been placed under the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. He added that it remains intact with its own staff and board of directors.

Under the original reorganization bill, the system was assigned to the Office of Administration. Cline said teachers didn't want the system in that office.

He said hundreds of letters and telephone calls have been received on the matter and that he wanted to reassure teachers that their retirement system has been placed in the elementary and secondary education department.

Cline said also that $3 million has not been cut from the University of Missouri Extension Service, as many people believe. Cline said the cut was only a recommendation of the Senate Appropriations Committee and has not been acted upon by the whole Senate.

Cline added that the House of Representatives has voted to fund the extension service in full. If the Senate should approve the cuts, Cline said the bill would be returned to the House for further action.

Rep. James Russell of St. Louis assured Cline that the money will be restored if the bill returns to the House.

Cline said he expected the Senate to act on the bill sometime this week.

Bike safety rodeo set

A bicycle rodeo will be held Saturday on the Bank of Sikeston parking lot, it was announced today by Safety Officer Richard Couch of the Sikeston Police department.

The rodeo is sponsored by Sikeston Optimist Club, University of Missouri Extension Center, the police department, auxiliary police and police cadets.

Couch said the rodeo is designed to promote greater safety practices, among bike riders, and to let them exhibit their skills in maneuvering their bicycles. Police will serve as judges during the rodeo.

A drawing will be held and a bicycle will be given away Couch said. Contestants must be present to win.

Tests arranged for the contestants include a physical checkup for the correct equipment, such as a headlight, bell or horn, good brakes, rear reflector, well-adjusted and tightened seat and handlebars and correctly inflated tires.

Events to be held during the rodeo include crossing a busy street, weaving, left and right turns, straight line riding, balancing, turning curves and turning a figure eight.

Rodeo rules limit competition to contestants between 6 and 13 years old and require contestants to stop for all stop signs, signal for all turns and stops and walk their bicycles across busy streets.

Area bicycle dealers will have new bicycles on display at the rodeo.

Keller heads commission

Ira Keller was elected chairman of the Sikeston Planning and Zoning Commission at Tuesday night's meeting, his first since the City Council returned him to the commission earlier this month.

Keller previously was named chairman when the commission was founded in 1953 and served in that capacity until February 1972 when he resigned because of ill health. Keller has now recovered sufficiently from throat surgery to resume his work with the planning commission.

In the only other action considered by the commission Tuesday night, a proposal for a trailer court on the Bea Pegues property, 228 Westgate, was tabled.

County food stamp sign up set next week

All Scott Countians, who receive a welfare check and are interested in registering for Food Stamps, may come to the Scott County Welfare Department office, 312 E. Center St. next week to sign up, Mrs. Cathleen Gipson, county welfare director, announced today.

Registration will be handled as follows:

Monday, persons whose names begin with A, B, C, D.

Tuesday, persons whose names begin with E, F, G, H.

Wednesday, persons whose names begin with I, J, K, L, M.

Thursday, persons whose names begin with N, O, P, Q, R, S.

Friday, persons whose names begin with T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

Retailers invited to food stamp meeting

Food retailers interested in participating in the Food Stamp Program are invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Security National Bank community room, 625 N. Main St.

The program is sponsored by the Food and Nutrition Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Retailers may not accept food coupons unless they receive an official Food Stamp Program authorization from the agriculture department. Retailers who do not attend the meeting will probably have their authorization delayed, according to Ralph Cutter, officer in charge of the program.

The Food Stamp Program is designed to provide more food and better balanced diet to needy families and enlarge the domestic market for farm surpluses.

The program requires that this additional food be supplied through regular food trade distribution channels.

Course offered

Everything from potholes to complete breakdown of streets and roads has resulted from the wet conditions in the Bootheel area. To help correct these conditions, a three- session short course, Street and Road Construction and Maintenance, will begin at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Vocational Education Building at Sikeston High School, 200 Pine St.

The three sessions will meet at 1 p.m. on May 22, May 29 and June 5.

Frank J. Capek of the Civil Engineering School at University of Missouri— Rolla will be the instructor.

The course is sponsored by the University of Missouri Extension Division and the City of Sikeston.

Wright to take mental test

NEW MADRID— Bruce Joseph Wright, 16, of Portageville, charged with murder in the shooting death of March 31 of Larry Allen Williams, 16, of Portageville and burglary and stealing at the home of Herbert Cummings, was transferred Tuesday to State Hospital No. One in Fulton for psychiatric examinations.

The mental tests were ordered by Circuit Judge William H. Ragland upon motion by prosecuting attorney Hal E. Hunter Jr.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

People can always find opportunities to act foolish, talk too much and get into trouble.

* * *

Richard Nixon and his crew of purer- than-anybody else administrative assistants have really messed up this country with the Watergate. I guess that poor old Richard didn't know anything about it, in a pig's eye. We hope the fellows who resigned or the fellows who got fired at least will keep their mouths shut and keep the President still so that he can go before the television and exhort everybody to be pure and to not pay to much attention to the Watergate.

HOME-BUYING MANIA

Chances are the nation's realtors will find little time this year to observe National Realtor Week, which begins Sunday, May 20. They'll have their hands full attempting to their work of acting as go-betweens in the transfer of real estate. Spring traditionally is a busy season in the private housing market and this year's may be one of the busiest ever. For a variety of reasons, people all over the country are rushing to buy houses, and price seemingly is no object.

Rising land, labor, and materials cost have pushed the price of new housing sharply upward. But instead of discouraging buyers, the inflationary trend seems only to egg them on. Many of those looking for a house to buy are convinced that prices are bound to increase further and that higher mortgage interest rates are inevitable. They probably are right. Philip C. Jackson Jr. of the Jackson Company, Birmingham, Ala., warns (U. S. News & World Report, May 14, 1973): "There is a real threat that if money continues to move out of thrift institutions, we may run out of money for home mortgages at any price."

Burgeoning "no growth" sentiment in many areas of the country also contributes to the current house-buying mania. Housing construction in some parts of suburban Washington, D. C., for example, has been hampered by a moratorium on new sewer connections. And residents of certain partially developed areas have expressed hostility toward new housing tracts that would increase traffic and school congestion -- and, eventually, taxes.

The buyer of a new home -- especially if it is his first -- expects it to be trouble- free. Such is not always the case. Complaints about shoddy workmanship have reached the point where consumer advocate Ralph Nader can assert that, "The housing issue is going to be in the Seventies what the auto issue was in the Sixties. There is no question about it, no question at all." Nader favors the creation of "a government- owned agency, completely independent of private industry, to test and certify building products and techniques, to experiment with new construction methods, and to establish a national building code to be adopted by any local government requesting federal funds." A worthy proposal, to be sure. But operating on the assumption that quality exacts a price of its own, the Nader plan probably would put housing costs even farther out of sight if it were adopted.

All of us can profit by occasionally taking a moment out of our busy life for quiet reflection on our state of being. What is our life's purpose? Are we making progress toward achieving this purpose each day as it slips by us never to be recaptured?

Have we lose sight of the fact that we must live our life one day at a time? Do we tend to repudiate today's realities and embrace tomorrow's speculations, settling for some sort of dream world of the future? Are we living out today in disillusion, dreaming of a better life, a better love, a better job?

The full value of life's experience is within the grasp of everyone who learns to live today to the hilt and make it a pattern for tomorrow.

If what we do, each and every day we do it, isn't fun and a fulfilling experience, it may be time to begin a soul searching audit. We have only to look around us to see those who are making progress toward achieving her life's purpose. Such people are to be found at all levels of endeavor and financial reward. Achievement and frustration are often but a desk apart, a machine apart.

Let us live each day as though this is our life.

Columnist Victor Lasky points out that all of a sudden Washington D. C.'s liberals are discovering good things to say about the late J. Edgar Hoover.

Of course, his having departed this vale of tears may have something to do with their newborn affection.

But, more likely, liberal spokesmen have decided to cash in on the late FBI director's reputation for nonpartisanship as a weapon with which they struck out at L. Patrick Gray (who has withdrawn his name as Nixon's nominee) and any other nominee for the job.

For instance, the New York Times, which hated Hoover's guts while he was alive, contended that "at issue" in Gray's confirmation hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee "are the independence ad integrity of the FBI as well as the capacity and will of its director to act as a shield against any political penetration of the bureau's activities."

The Times' assumption appears to be that, until Patrick Gray came along, the FBI had been a paragon of virtue. But that's not what the Times had been saying prior to Mr. Hoover's death last May. Almost without letup over a period of many years, the Times editorially denounced Hoover and, at one point, even called for his resignation.

Even more astonishing was Jack Anderson's testimony before the Senate committee in which the columnist called for Gray's rejection. "No serious person ever accused Hoover of running a political police force," said Anderson.

Then Anderson couldn't have been "serious" when, over the years, he ran column after column which accused J. Edgar Hoover of "running a political police force." In fact, the week Anderson testified he published a column which alleged that, among other things, Hoover's 47- year tenute as FBI chief was provided confidential information on pending cases, including even the most politically sensitive.

And who can forget the vicious attack on Hoover and the FBI leveled by the late Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana? Where were those senators when Boggs publicly proclaimed that the FBI had tapped the phones of members of Congress.

The senators currently praising Hoover were absolutely silent when the press and electronic media gave favorable coverage to Boggs' phoney allegation.

CBS commentator Eric Sevareid, for example, not only praised Boggs but suggested that the FBI was a menace to American freedom. Life magazine published a cover bust of Hoover as Julius Caesar as well as a two- page assessment of the director by Tom Wicker who, in the New York Times, had exhorted students to "engage in civil disobedience of all kinds."

The fact that Boggs was never able to produce any evidence to back-up his charges was given minimal attention by the media.

As Victor Lasky says, the point is that J. Edgar Hoover is now being canonized by the very people who despised and carped at him when he was alive. The motivation is obvious. And so is the hypocrisy.

NOMINATE MEREDITH

When James H. Meredith was sworn in as a United States District Judge in 1962, the new robe was placed on his shoulders by Judge Marion C. Matthes of the 8th United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Meredith has worn that robe with distinction.

Now that Judge Matthes has announced he will retire from regular service on July 14, the man who should succeed him is Judge Meredith. His 11 years on the federal bench have proven him a distinguished jurist worthy of nomination by President Nixon to the equally distinguished Court of Appeals.

Before Judge Meredith's original appointment, a few less- than - objective critics opposed him because of his success in Democratic politics. The Globe- Democrat said then that such criticism was unjust and that Judge Meredith's political capabilities "obscure Mr. Meredith's very real legal talents. He is thoroughly qualified to ascend to the federal bench." Judge Meredith's devotion to the princples of justice and his prestigious record have confirmed that opinion.

The Globe- Democrat has long espoused a return to a strict constructionist policy in the federal courts and we have been much encouraged by President Nixon's appointments to the United States Supreme Court. It is vital for this Republic that strict constructionists also be appointed to the Court of Appeals here so it can continue the fine traditions of such jurists as Judge Matthes.

Retirement of Judge Matthes demands appointment of a judge who will interpret laws as it exists and not allow social conditions to dictate or override the law. Judge Meredith would provide such a voice. His nomination is imperative.

13 SURE WAYS TO RUN HOMETOWN

The El Dorado (Kas.) Times has published the following item to which they add, "If these 13 steps don't ruin your town, it isn't your fault." Here they are:

1. Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because streets are not kept up.

2. Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside and then cust those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

3. Get all the city will give, and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax money.

4. Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for your city unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

5. Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker.

6. Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a better town, howl because that town is run by a clique.

7. Don't back your fire department. Don't thank them for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment, raise cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking laws.

8. Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one that gets the most good out of it, vote against it. Never consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

9. Don't do anything for the youth of your town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

10. If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude, and talk down everything they say.

11. Don't work on any committees. Tell them, "I'm too busy."

12. Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point up its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in the fire department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

13. And don't support your local stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores in other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask your local stores. Expect them to back, but don't back them.

TEAMSTERS BOSS SHOULD HAVE KNOWN BETTER

One of the more common questions asked by those who would discredit Right to Work is, "If so many union members oppose compulsory unionism, how come they don't say so?" Frank Fitzsimmons, President of the Teamsters union, has supplied the answer. They don't dare.

Recently, we shared with you the story of Albuquerque Teamster official Velton FF. Clark, who was so sure of the democratic nature of his union, and so eager to have the New Mexico legilsature enact a Right to Work law similar to the one of his native Arizona, that he wrote to every state lawmaker asking support for the voluntary union proposal pending in the legislature.

We sadly must report this cost Clark his job.

Clark's opinion didn't sit too well with the entrenched bosses who rule the International Teamsters in Washington, nor with the lesser big bosses who rule the New Mexico Teamsters. After all, they must have thought, "How dare this so - and - so advocate a law which would make us work for a living when we can take a free ride under the present set up?"

Not only was Clark fired from his $22,000 - a - year job as Administrator of Albuquerque Local 492, he was also unceremoniously stripped of an elected post as Secretary - Treasurer (and a salaried post as Business Agent) of the Tucson, Ariz., local from which he had taken a temporary leave of absence in order to set the New Mexico local back on its feet.

What happened to Clark, of course, is the very reason working men and women in America need the protection of a National Right to Work law an;precisely why more union members and officials don't speak up in favor of Right to Work. They know the consequences!

In a newspaper interview prior to his firing, by none other than Frank Fitzsimmons, Teamster President, Clark point out his belief in Right to Work is based on his first- hand knowledge of how well the law has work in Arizona, and that "probably 70 to 80 per cent of the people I service down there (in Arizona) share my feelings."

"... Too many people have forgotten what a union is for: To serve its membership. Involuntary unionism means a captive membership, and a captive membership doesn't have much choice as to how a union's affairs are run."

As Clark wrote the lawmakers, "where Right to Work laws exist and individual employees have a choice, the unions, through their elective and appointed officials, business agents and other representatives, have to get off their duffs and do a better job representing their members than is the case in a state ... which does not have a Right to Work law, and the unions don't have to produce results and satisfaction to their members to be able to voluntarily attract their membership and financial support."

In the eyes of the Teamsters union heirarchy, Clark overstepped his bounds by exercising his right as a free American citizen to express an opinion.

This particular case gives us good cause of reflection. Because if the big bosses are willing and able to exercise such iron- fisted control over a man like Clark, a fellow with considerable savvy and an understanding of the union machine, imagine the control theyyxert over the individual rank - and- file member.

There's no mystery involved in the failure of greater numbers of union members to voice their opinions against compulsory unionsim. They know better.

THE 22ND AMENDMENT

The constitutional process of a free Republic are probably the ultimate in achievement of man in his march toward that high plateau of civilization. The Magna Carta of the English represented a long stride forward in establishing freedom and preserving the dignity of individuals. The men and women who founded this nation accomplished even more. They laid down for history and the people who would live under it a magnificent plan for personal liberty and a government that would work for the people.

From time to time, challenges to that liberty and that government have emerged, but fortunately there were provisions for amending the U.S. Constitution to deal with them. On one wanted a President to own the White House. That fine old residence belonged to the people. It still does, thanks to the 22nd No Third Term Amendment to the Constitution.

Rotating occupancy was threatened for awhile, but sentiment began to grow in the late 1940s to limit the tenure of a President. The Congress, in all its wisdom, offered a Constitutional amendment to the people and it was shortly after the decade of the 1950s began that I entered the fight to get the approval of the states. The issue was clear. Should one man be eligible to serve more than two elective terms--- a total of eight years? The fight was not an easy one. I threw all of my energies into the campaign, which at times seemed like a long fight with a short stick. Fortunately, the legislators who represented the people in the various states saw the dangers of a possible dictator in the future and the 22nd Amendment, prohibiting a third term, was passed. We must be vigilant in protecting this safeguard to our freedom. HLH

So Long, Pal: How to Weed Your Garden of Friendship

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you have too many friends?

Most of us feel we could use a few more. But now and then we meet someone who, perhaps because of a gathering feeling of misanthropy or because he has too many credit cards, decides his garden of friendship has become overcrowded and is threatening to choke him with palship.

His solution is simple. All he has to do is weed out that garden.

How? Well, one way is to put a burr in the glad hand of his fellowship.

Here are a few time- tested remarks that have broken up many lifelong friendships:

"I don't see why you should be having any trouble with your teen- age children. Our two are perfectly well-behaved. Often, in cases like yours, they come about because the parents simply don't make the necessary effort to understand their children."

"I could lend you the money, but I'm not going to because I am convinced I'd be doing you more harm than good."

"If I were you, buddy, I'd start right now looking for another place to hang my hat. The boss has tipped me confidentially that he wants me to take over your job next month."

"Your wife wants me to run off with her, but I've decided against it. When have you ever done that big a favor for me."

"My mother- in- law is staying with us for a month. What weekend can we park the old bag with you. She'd love to show you her album of childhood pictures of all the presidents. The only one missing is Millard Fillmore."

"I'd love to lend you my new car in a year or so, Joe. But right now I don't want to get any dents in it."

"I didn't insinuate that you cheat at poker during any of the games we've been playing at your house. I just said I'd never heard of anyone winning so consistently who didn't use marked cards. What's wrong about saying that?"

"I guess our families won't be seeing so much of each other from now on, Jim. My wife just inherited some money. It isn't a lot — but just enough so that my wife feels we should move up a little socially."

"Now and then I get the feeling I'd rather have you as an enemy than a friend, Fred. Thay way I'd know for sure just where you stood."

"Yes, we ought to get together for a luch as soon as possible, old boy. My calendar is pretty tight through August 1975. But call me up anytime after that, and we'll see if we can't find a day when we're both free."

"Glad to hear your pretty daughter married so well. Whatever happened to the homely one — the one who looks like your side of the family?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Nixon's First Watergate: Broke Into Dean's Office

WASHINGTON — During the summer of '36, Richard Nixon knew his grades at Duke Law School had slipped. He needed high grades to keep his scholarship, which paid the tuition he could never otherwise afford.

"I'm scared," he confided to an upperclassman. "I counted 32 Phi Beta Kappa keys in my class. I don't believe I can stay up top in that group."

Typically, Nixon studied hard. But he also broke into the dean's office along with two roommates, to find out their academic standing. A Duke Law School official told us such a break-in today would "surely" be grounds for disciplinary action and possible expulsion.

Nixon's accomplices were Fred Albrink, now a real estate lawyer in Norfolk, Va., and Bill Perdue, a corporate executive in New York City. As Albrink recalls, "Dick grabbed one of Perdue's legs and I grabbed the other, and the two of us sort of boosted Perdue thrugh the transom of the dean's office door."

SQUEEZED WAY IN

Perdue was chosen because he was "the only one thin enough to squeeze through the transom," said Albrink. Once inside, Perdue found a key in a secretary's desk drawer and let his two associates inside.

"We didn't steal anything," said Albrink. "We just wanted to find out our grades."

Nixon confirmed that he had dropped from his thirdplace class standing but had not lost his scholarship. He worked to improve his grades and graduated third in his class.

The opportunity to run for Congress came to Nixon while he was awaiting discharge from the Navy. He was a Navy lawyer renegotiating Navy contracts in Baltimore. He was so eager for a crack at Congress that he borrowed $150 from the manager of the Erco Company, whose naval contract he was renegotiating, for the plane fare to California. Nixon won the Republican nomination and the Erco Company got a refund from the Navy.

NIXON TACTICS

By his own admission, Nixon ran a "fighting, rocking, socking" campaign. He portrayed his Democratic opponent, Jerry Vooris, a staunch anti- Communist, as "soft on Communism." Later, Nixon used similar tactics in his race for the Senate against Helen Gahagan Douglas.

As the vice presidential nominee in 1952, Nixon threatened to use the Red smear brush on the late Drew Pearson if he wrote a story about the $18,000 slush fund businessmen had raised to pay Nixon's expenses while he was a senator. The warning from Nixon was phoned to me by Bill Rogers, now secretary of state, from the Nixon campaign train.

I passed on the message to Pearson, who replied quietly: "All right, I'll change the story. I'll make it stronger."

Both Nixon and his disciple, H. R. Haldeman, were denounced from the bench for their tactics in the 1962 campaign for the governorship of California. In a biting commentary on Nixon's political methods, the late Adlai Stevenson described "Nixonland" as a "land of slander and scare, of sly innuendo, of a poison pen, the anonymous phone call and hustling, pushing, shoving -- the land of smash and grab and anything to win."

LED THE WAY

Out of this background, President Nixon set the style that led to the Watergate horror. However, we have spent several days talking to White House aides and Watergate investigators alike. We have also had access to the grand jury findings. At this writing, there is no evidence implicating the President in the Watergate crimes.

Not a single witness, so far as we can learn, has offered any testimony that would incriminate the President in the actual Waterbugging. On the contrary, our White House sources have assured us he stayed aloof from the dirty work of his subordinates.

They say the Watergate break-in and bugging came as a shock to him, and he responded with a profane outburst against the culprits. His anger over the stupidity of the Watergate foolishness, suggest our sources, had an intimidating effect on his aides. This may explain why they frantically attempted to cover up their tracks even from him.

As for the spying - sabotage campaign against the Democrats, however, our sources acknowledge that the President not only knew about it but approved it. He grew up in the Murray Chotiner school of politics. "If you do not deflate the opposition candidate before your own campaign gets started," Chotiner preached, "the odds are you are going to be doomed to defeat."

TUCK-TYPE TACTICS

One source recalls that the President referred at political strategy sessions to "a Dick Tuck operation." Tuck was an irrepressible Democratic operative who used to play political pranks on Nixon. Once he dressed in a trainman's uniform and signaled Nixon's campaign train to leave while the candidate was in the middle of a rear- platform speech.

This was the sort of sabotage, says White House sources, that the President had in mind. But to the humorless men around Nixon, Dick Tuck became Niccolo Machiavelli.

The President has a vindictive streak that may also have encouraged the excesses of his aides. A former cabinet member told us that the President, in pantomime, once plunged an imaginary knife into an opponent. "After you get the knife in," said the President gleefully, "you twist it." And he gave his wrist a twist to illustrate.

One thing all his close associated agree on: Richard Nixon is not a quitter. Talk of impeachment or pressure to resign is more likely to increase his determination to stay in the White House.

Sikeston Sectional Center achieves high postal rating

Sikeston was one of 117 Sectional Center facilities in the 13-state central region of the U. S. Postal Service that attained 95 per cent or higher on overnight delivery of first class mail during the two-week span ending April 27, Don Pasaka, sectional center postmaster, said today.

The Sikeston sectional center is comprised of 52 Southeast Missouri cities.

"Mail service definitely has recovered from the post-Christmas slump," Pasaka said. "Weekly complaints received at Postal Service headquarters in Washington have dropped 70 per cent since a mid-January high."

Next day delivery of first-class mail within designated areas has returned to 95 per cent nationally, according to U. S. Postal Service Origin/Destination Information System (ODIS) measurement. This is the same level as a year ago.

By comparison, Pasaka said the Postal Service's next-day delivery standards were being met only 69 per cent of the time during the worst period in January. Service began to improve by February and, for the period February 2 to March 2, the next day delivery standards rose to 93 per cent, but were still two per cent below the 1972 level," he said.

In Chicago, regional postmaster general Clarence B. Gels said that the central region of the U. S. Postal Service achieved an overall 95 per cent record for next day delivery during the two-week span ending April 27.

The survey revealed that 15 of 25 districts in the region scored 95 per cent or higher, and the highest score, 98, was shared by four districts, Fargo, Omaha, Sioux Falls and Wichita.

Other districts recording 95 per cent or better were Minneapolis - St. Paul, Cleveland, Columbus, St. Louis, Akron, Des Moines, Evansville, Louisville, Madison, Springfield Ill., and Springfield, Mo.

Swink suspended for misconduct

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge J. O. Swink, 67, Farmington, has been suspended by the Missouri Supreme Court for 30 days without pay for misconduct.

The court's ruling Tuesday followed a recommendation by the State Commission on Retirement, Removal and Discipline of Judges last month that Swink be suspended for 30 days.

The six-member commission found that Swink misused funds, requested for a library that did not exist, to air condition his office and other offices in the St. Francois County courthouse.

The commission also found Swink guilty of falsely accusing the local prosecuting attorney, Stanley M. Murphy, of misappropriating $50 and trying to influence highway patrolmen to dismiss a ticket to his court reporter for careless driving.

The commission said Swink called the prosecutor "Pinhead Murphy" and other names.

2 men held on felony charges

NEW MADRID — Magistrate Judge Leo Hedgepeth has ordered two men held for Circuit Court action on felony charges and set preliminary hearings for four others charged with felonies.

Jerry Wayne Ueltzen, 19, of St. Louis was bound over to Circuit Court under $5,000 bond following preliminary hearing on felonious assault charge. He is accused of firing a .410 gauge shotgun on April 28 at highway patrolman R. L. Ryan after Ryan stopped a car in which Ueltzen was a passenger. Ryan was not injured.

Henry Burrow of Lilbourn waived preliminary hearing on charge of breaking and entering the home of Carolyn Thomas on May 4 with intent to rape and ravish her. He is in jail under $500 bond.

Four Portageville men requested preliminary hearings on felony charges involving the sale and purchase of a .22-caliber revolver without permits.

The gun is reportedly one stolen in a breakin of the Herbert Cummings home in Portageville on March 31 and allegedly is the murder weapon used in the shooting death the same night of Larry Allen Williams, 16, of Portageville.

June 5 was set for hearings for Jimmy Dale Bridges, Houston Lafferty and Lotus Ray Cantrell. Bridges is charged with selling the revolver in September 1972 without a permit to Houston Lafferty. Lafferty is charged with purchasing the gun without a permit; and Cantrell is charged with purchasing the gun from Lafferty without a permit.

Herbert Cummings is to appear June 6 for hearing on a charge of purchasing the gun without a permit from Cantrell.

Each of the men posted $500 appearance bonds.

Larry Lee Tindle of Lilbourn was levied $175 fine and costs on charges of driving while intoxicated and supplying intoxicating beer to minors. He was given a six-month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for one year.

James Alexander Bradley of Marston was fined $125, given a six-month suspended jail sentence, placed on probation for one year and his driver's license was suspended for one year when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated.

Herbert Scott Burton of Morley drew the same punishment on a driving while intoxicated charge.

John Slayton Randolph of Gideon, charged with possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana and improper parking, was assessed $125, given six-month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for one year.

Charged with possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana, Stanley James Mock of Gideon received the same fine and sentence.

Daniel David Matthews of Lilbourn and George Walter Holland of Sikeston, each charged with illegal possession of intoxicants in separate cases, were fined $75 each, given six-month suspended jail sentences and placed on probation for six months.

W. M. Cochrane of Portageville received 30 days in jail and $50 fine on a charge of public intoxication.

Other cases and dispositions:

Faye Wheeler, cheat and defraud, $30 fine and ordered to make restitution on check; Gary Donald Martin, operating vehicle with no trailer license, $20 fine; Wiley Lee Bell, no operator license, $20 fine; Quaker Enterprises, no Missouri pro-rate or reciprocity cab card, $20 fine; Commercial Transport, no Missouri pro-rate or reciprocity cab card, $20 fine.

Henry Lee Stradford, speeding, $32 fine; James Walker, careless and imprudent driving, $50 fine; and Danny Lee Sweatt forfeited $100 bond on careless and imprudent driving by failure to stop for red light and operating vehicle with no operator license.

A cheat and defraud charge against Steven Barker was dismissed upon payment of $25 court costs.

In civil suits, St. Louis Auto Employes Credit Union was awarded $1,055 judgment against Alvin Leon Robison and Household Finance Corporation received $1,292.25 judgment against Howard D. Powell.

Assistance available for facility damage

Col. James H. Bash, co-ordinator of the State Disaster Operations Office of the adjutant general, announced today that six area offices have been established throughout Missouri for the purpose of assisting political subdivisions in the preparations of damage claims to public facilities such as sewers, streets, public buildings and other publicly owned facilities.

These six area offices, staffed by Disaster Operations Office personnel, are to co-ordinate assistance to the 82 counties declared disaster areas by President Richard M. Nixon.

Southeast area office has been set up at 310 Highway 61 East in Jackson with David A. Williams, co-ordinator. The telephone number is 314-243-2434. The 13 counties in that area are Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Dunklin, New Madrid, Mississippi, Pemiscot, Perry, Reynolds, Ste. Genevieve, Scott, Stoddard and Wayne.

Other offices are in Columbia, St. Louis, Hannibal, St. Joseph and Springfield.

Bash said public officials in these political subdivisions have questions about disaster damages should contact the nearest office for assistance and information.

Van de Ven-Bucher vows

LUTESVILLE — Before an altar adorned with lilies and ferns, Miss Margaret A. Van deVen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Van deVen of Lutesville, became the bride of Francis X. Bucher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bucher of Oran, at St. John's Catholic Church in Leopold April 28.

The double- ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. Eckhoff. Organist was Miss Pamela Jansen of Leopold, and the St. John's girls choir sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over bridal satin with a Venise lace bodice and lace appliques on the sheer skirt and train. A lace cap held her full, layered veil, and she carried a cascade of white carnations and blue- tinted pompons with long white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Delia of St. Louis, cousin of the bride, and attendants were Miss Joyce Bucher of Oran, sister of the groom, and Miss Catherine Jansen of Leopold.

They wore light blue crepe gowns with embroidered empire bodices and long sheer sleeves. Each carried three, long- stemmed, blue and white carnations with streamers.

Best man was Wilfred Bucher of Oran, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Roy Van deVen, brother of the bride, and Robert Westrich of New Hamburg.

Ushers were Denis Bucher of Oran, another brother of the groom, and Roger Van deVen, cousin of the bride.

A reception with a supper and dance followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Serving were Miss Sandy Elfrink, Miss Deborah Elfrink, Miss Cathy Peters and Miss Glenda Beel. Miss Maryann Bucher, sister of the groom, was at the guest book.

Mrs. Bucher is a 1972 graduate of Leopold High School and attended Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau. She was employed at Kent Library on the university campus. Bucher, a 1970 graduate of Oran High School, attended SeMo State and is a computer operator in the Army.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will live at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Bowman-Perman

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Col. John Webster Bowman, USMC (retired), and Mrs. Bowman announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Hempstone Bowman to Dennis Paul Perman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Perman of Lodi, N.J.

Miss Bowman is the granddaughter of Lee Reed Bowman and the late Mrs. Bowman, and the great-granddaughter of the late Judge and Mrs. W. C. Bowman and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cox, all of Sikeston. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Smith Hempstone of Washington and the late Capt. Hempstone, USN (retired).

Her great- grandfather was the late Theodore W. Noyes, editor- publisher of the Washington Star for over 50 years. Miss Bowman's father is manager of engineering for the Washington Star broadcasting stations and affiliates.

The bride- elect attended the Holton- Arms School in Washington and graduated from Miss Porter's School of Farmington, Conn., and from Randolph- Macon Woman's College of Lynchburg, Va. She is employed as an assistant buyer by Woodward and Lothrop, a chain of large department stores in metropolitan Washington.

Perman earned a degree in marketing from Seton Hall University of Orange, N. J., and is employed by Woodward and Lothrop as a divisional supervisor. He served in the Air Force from 1966 to 1970 as an inventory management specialist in Texas, North Dakota and South Korea.

An August wedding in Washington is planned.

STATISTICS TO BUG YOU

CHICAGO (AP) — If two of the flies that mated in April 1973 and all their offspring and their offspring's descendants survived and mated, there would be approximately 191,010,000,000 more flies to contend with in mid-July 1973, according to Velsicol Chemical Corp., manufacturer of pesticides.

Shirley Holmes

Holmes-Wolfe

ORAN — Mr. and Mrs. Willis Holmes announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Shirley Catherine to Dana Franklin Wolfe of Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wolfe.

Miss Holmes is a 1971 graduate of Oran High School and is a sales secretary with Caproco, Inc. in Sikeston and is a part-time beauty consultant.

Wolfe, a 1971 graduate of Chaffee High School, is employed by Florsheim Shoe Co. in Chaffee.

The couple will be married June 30 at First United Methodist Church in Chaffee.

Hatley-Hammon

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haltey, 212 Selma St., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Karen Elizabeth to Charles Gordon Hammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammon of Route Four.

Miss Hatley will graduate Monday from Sikeston High School.

Hammon, who attended Sikeston High School and completed his education in the Army, is employed by Asplundh Tree Trimming Experts, based in Pennsylvania. He is a Vietnam veteran.

The wedding will take place June 23 at First Christian Church.

Karen Hatley

Garrison-Childers

VANDUSER — Mrs. Clara Garrison announces the engagement of her daughter Sybil Ann to Michael D. Childers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Childers of Wolf Island. Miss Garrison is the daughter of the late C. C. Garrison.

The bride- elect is a senior at Scott County Central High School and an employe of Cee Jays Restaurant in Matthews.

Childers, a 1967 graduate of Bernie High School, is a staff sergeant in the Air Force stationed at Blytheville Air Force Base at Blytheville, Ark.

The couple will be married June 9 at 8 p.m. in Christ Gospel Church, 717 Kendall St. in Sikeston.

Beauty contest canceled

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — The "Queen of the Snows" beauty contest, a highlight of Dartmouth College's annual Winter Carnival, is dead at age 43.

A changing attitude toward the role of women in contemporary society and the growing lack of interest in support for such contests at the formerly all-male Ivy League school were blamed for the end of the competition.

George D. Ritcheske, chairman of the Winter Carnival Council that staged the 63rd edition this year, said "Prevailing attitudes, both at Dartmouth and throughout the country, indicates that contests which stress beauty as the primary or only criterion no longer have the widespread popularity or support they once enjoyed."

The Carnival Council polled leading representatives of student and social groups on campus before making its decision.

"The consensus among these groups was that the contest, as it is presently set up and operated, has outlived its usefulness," Ritcheske explained.

The carnival chairman added that the passing of the "Queen of Snows" beauty pageant now opens the door to some newer and more meaningful contest in the coming years.

Recovery, Inc. helps young mothers control bad emotions

Dear Ann Landers: With so much being said and written these days about battered children, may I add my two cents worth?

I am a mother who used to get so angry with my children I'd beat them black and blue. My six- year- old was on drugs for a nervous condition. We were both under psychiatric care. I begged my doctor to help me be a better mother. His advice was, "Control yourself! Don't lose your temper."

This went on for over a year. Then a friend told me about Recovery, Inc. Two months after I attended my first meeting I was able to control my impulses.

That was three years ago and I'm still going to meetings. I can't tell you what this organization has meant to me and to my family. I would not have believed it possible had I not experienced it myself. Please tell others that Recovery, Inc., sometimes succeeds when psychiatry fails.--- A True Believer

Dear True: I have recommended this organization before and am pleased to do so again. Recovery, Inc., has 950 chapters in the U.S. and Canada. The meetings are open and free. The members are people who have, or are trying to recover from emotional illness. Their record of success is phenomenal. Look in the phone book. If you do not see a listing, write to Recovery, Inc., National Headquarters, 116 South Michigan, Chicago 60603, for information and guidance.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is kind and considerate and everyone thinks we are happily married. The truth is I am miserable.

For 14 years I've tried to tell myself that friends, movies, plays, concerts, clubs, all the things I thoroughly enjoy, are not important, that it's better to have a faithful husband and good children. Well, it won't work. I feel like the four walls are closing in on me. My husband never wants to go anyplace. He could stay home 365 nights a year. If he yelled and argued I'd probably feel better. He just smiles and says, "You go, dear. I'm happy at home."

Our sex life is wonderful. We have no money problems. We both enjoy good health. When I tell him I'm going stir-crazy, he says, "It's just a mood, dear, you'll feel better tomorrow."

Tonight I said, "I'm going to write to Ann Landers." His replay was, "Go ahead. She has all the answers." So what's mine?--- Unfulfilled

Dear Un: The problem is that you are home all day and when evening comes you want to get out. Your husband is out all day and when evening comes he wants to stay home. My advice is to do your thing during the day--- the movies, plays, concerts, etc. Accept the fact that you are not going to change him, so you'd better change yourself. He sounds too good to dump.

Dear Ann Landers: We are three Long Island high school students who want your opinion. A member of our class died last week. We went to the principal and asked if we could be excused to attend the funeral. The principal said we would have to get permission from the office of the Board of Education.

Last fall anyone who had a ticket was excused to go to see the Chinese acrobats. What kind of a world is this, anyway?--- Turned Off

Dear T.O.: Your story sounds flaky. You didn't name your school or the principal, nor did you say whether you called the Board of Education. The only thing authentic was the postmark. I looked to see if perhaps it was from New Haven, but by golly it WAS from Long Island. I don't buy it, however.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers' booklet, "Booze And You--- For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper with your request.

Calendar of Events

FRIDAY

"Fun Night" for senior citizens will begin at 7 p.m. The Highway Wives are sponsors for the evening's entertainment.

SATURDAY

Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo Queen contestants, girls 17 or older, are asked to meet at the rodeo grounds at 5 p.m. to enter the horsemanship contest.

SATURDAY

Morehouse Kiwanis Club will sponsor a bean dinner at the Kiwanis building from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The menu will include beans, cornbread, slaw, drink and dessert.

Without Summer

In American history, the year 1816 is popularly known as the year without a summer because in the northern states there were frosts and snows in practically every month of the year.

Sweet Old Time

Trees tapped for maple sugar are just as they are found in the wild. No effort has been made to graft better sugar trees because it takes some 40 years to get a good run of high-quality sap.

Mrs. Kelley to serve on B&PW state board

KENNETT — Mrs. Geraldine Kelley of Kennett will serve on the state board of Missouri Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., as director of District Six for the coming year.

District Six is composed of clubs from Kennett, Malden, Dexter, Doniphan, Poplar Bluff, Chaffee, Sikeston, Charleston, East Prairie, Portageville, Cape Girardeau, Hayti, Caruthersville and South Pemiscot (Steele).

Mrs. Kelley is the wife of Milton Kelley and they have one son, Mike. She is secretary of Kelley Electric Co. and is a member of the Kennett B&PW Club. She is president- elect of the club for the 1973-74 year.

District director is the liaison officer of the district and works with all clubs in this capacity.

Missy Hornback

Celebrates birthday

Missy Hornback was honored with a surprise party Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hornback, 161 Presnell, for her third birthday.

Attending were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ladelle Berkbigler; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hornback and son Allen; paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norvle Hornback; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hartlein and son Rodney; and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bryant.

Refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream and punch were served.

Piano students have recital

Several piano students of Dorothy Ashbaugh were presented in a piano recital Sunday at 3 p.m. in her studio on Kennedy Drive.

Joe Williams, First Baptist Church minister of music, sang two solos, accompanied by his daughter Pam and Mrs. Ashbaugh.

SeMo chapter of MACLD to meet Monday

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The Southeast Missouri Chapter of the Missouri Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the basement community room of Cape Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Mike Matvy will be guest speaker for the final meeting until fall.

An Observation

Watching the maiden voyage of Robert Fulton's successful sidewheel steamboat, one observer saw it as "an ungainly craft looking precisely like a backwoods sawmill mounted on a scow and set on fire."

Air Traffic

In the United States, the Federal Aviation Administration is charged with controlling air traffic to keep order and prevent accidents, just as local governments control automobile traffic on the ground.

Federated Club plans celebration

BLOOMFIELD — Mrs. Jewel Grady, University of Missouri extension worker, discussed fashion at a Junior Federated Club meeting last week in the community building.

Plans were discussed for the club's 20th anniversary celebration to be held June 7.

NOTICE: The Daily Standard is now accepting recipes for the annual Spring- Summer Cookbook to be published in June.

Handicapped girl codes curves

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Not only does Jane Denton know what infrared curves are, but she is eager to tell all they've done for her.

The telling isn't easy. Slowly and carefully the young Buffalo woman "talks" by pointing to words and letters on the language board that is always with her, at bedside and in her wheelchair.

Chemistry was to be her field when she was graduated from the State University at Buffalo in January 1966. Between the time she finished her exams and graduation ceremonies, she was stricken with encephalitis.

Jane became bedridden. She couldn't talk. She had trouble eating.

Her strength began to leave her. Thoughts of how she was going to live and how pointless her existence was haunted her.

But Sharon Bailey, a college friend, had other thoughts.

Sharon was working as an industrial chemist with Eastman Kodak. She told her supervisor, George Covert, that Jane might be able to do some coding of data for member laboratories on infrared spectra compounds.

Covert worked out a program with the American Society for Testing and Materials in which Jane could code curves. Then he arranged with Jane's family to teach her the coding procedures on weekends.

"When I first saw her, I was amazed. I didn't realize the seriousness of her condition. But I learned that she certainly knew her chemistry," Covert said.

Jane's work was done at home, primarily with pencils, paper, reference books and her dad's willing assistance.

Then Jane's battles really began. She had several relapses. It became increasingly difficult for her to do her work, and for her mom and dad to take care of her.

So Jane moved to the Erie County, N.Y., Home and Infirmary, for weekdays and spent her weekends at home.

A new corps of friends replaced George Covert. They were rehabilitation counselor Doris Martin, physical therapist Marion Kerr and sociologist and computer instructor Dr. Robert Cabral.

"When she first came to us," one of her friends remembers, "she was so frustrated. You know, not being able to talk, she just can't get rid of the pressure and tension."

Because of her friend's encouragement, Jane took a basic computer programing course at Rosary Hill College.

She was loaned a computer for several weeks and a dictionary was devloped by Dr. Cabral so that she could talk by using the teletype terminal.

Recently Jane returned to Kodak to see how her coding work was used. She observed the infrared spectrophotometer from her wheelchair. It was a special event for Jane, forging a final link in the chain she has had with her chosen profession for the last six and a half years.

And the company has decided to try other innovative ways to utilize Jane's capabilities.

Driver walked away

Daniel Sanders of Bernie, driver for TDC Trucking of Sikeston, walked away from the remains of this truck that he was driving with only minor cuts when it struck an I- 55 sign post in St. Louis. Sanders was southbound on I- 55 when another driver cut in front of his vehicle, forcing him to swerve off the road and into the sign standard. Sanders had time to open his door to jump when the truck hit the standard and he was thrown clear of the demolished cab.

Jaynes bound over on manslaughter

KENNETT — Separate counts of first and second degree murder against Oscar Jaynes of Malden were dismissed Monday by Magistrate Leon McAnally, who ordered the defendant bound over on a third count of manslaughter following a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court.

The discharge of the two separate counts came after Judge McAnally ruled that all testimony and evidence presented by state's witnesses "points to the fact the deceased made the attack on Jaynes," he told the prosecutor and defense attorneys.

Jaynes, who has been freed on a $12,000 bond, will appear in Circuit Court June 23 on the manslaughter accusation.

Pros. Atty. Charles H. Baker charged Jaynes in connection with the shooting death of 24- year - old Parker Arrington of Malden on April 21 on a Campbell street.

Witnesses called to the stand by Baker included Trooper Gene Cox, Coroner Tom Doherty, Deputy Sheriff Bob McDonald and three of the four witnesses at the scene, Lois Tanner, 18, Dale Ezell, 14, and Jerry Gumm, 27, all of Campbell. A fourth witness, Jewel Kilwin, was subpoenaed but was not put on the stand. Copies of her deposition were made available to the defense.

Miss Tanner and Ezell told the court the victim, Arrington, had picked them up at Campbell Gin Co. shortly before the shooting to take them home. While driving down Bailey St., Arrington spotted Jaynes talking to Miss Kilwin and Gumm and came to a sudden stop in front of Jaynes' car, jumped out and went to Jaynes' car window, shooting and then proceeded to strike Jaynes with a bicycle chain. When Jaynes refused to get out of the car upon Arrington's demand, the victim climbed in the front seat and continued the attack, attempting to wrap the chain around Jaynes' neck. As the two struggled in the car, the five fatal shots were fired.

Farmers in 11 counties eligible for assistance

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz announced that farmers in 11 Missouri counties who have suffered severely from extended periods of floods and excessive rainfall are eligible for emergency loans through the Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration.

Between July and November of 1972, a large percentage of cotton, soybeans, corn, wheat, and milo crops were damaged in the counties of Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Dunklin, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Ripley, Scott, Stoddard and Wayne.

FHA emergency loans are made to farmers to finance crop production and for other expenses necessary to continue normal farming operations.

Applications will be received in the local offices of Farmers Home Administration until July 6. The applicant must be in need of credit and cannot obtain credit elsewhere other than Farmers Home Administration. Each person applying for credit will be given equal consideration without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

Loans are repayable in their entirety at an interest rate of 5 per cent.

Hornersville native killed in plane crash

HOLLAND PATENT, N.Y. (AP) — Air Force investigators are examining the scattered wreckage of a supersonic warplane that exploded in flight, killing its pilot, a two-star general.

Maj. Gen. James L. Price, 51, commander of units based in Syracuse, N.Y., and responsible for the air defense of a large portion of northeastern North America, died in the accident Tuesday.

Price, who was born in Hornersville, Mo., but considered Dallas, Tex., home, had just taken off in a rainstorm from Griffiss Air Force Base in Rome, N.Y., on a routine training flight when lightning struck his delta-winged F106 fighter-interceptor, an Air Force spokesman said.

The crash was the third of a Griffiss-based F106 in the last three months.

Several witnesses reported seeing the plane explode into a fireball. The wreckage fell over a wide area east of here.

Flooded river cost shippers $50 million

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Shippers and suppliers of raw materials say the Mississippi River flood, now in its 66th day, cost them an estimated $50 million when the high water forced the river to be closed to commercial barge traffic.

The Corps of Engineers said Tuesday the direct loss to shippers amounted to $25 million, while expenses incurred in shipping cargo by alternate modes of transportation came to another $25 million.

A spokesman for the corps said the river had been effectively closed for "40 out of the last 47 days." He said the closing of the lock at Alton, Ill., had the most economic impact because that lock connects Mississippi River traffic with the Illinois River.

"Once you've closed that lock," the spokesman said, "shippers can't go anywhere." The lock was closed April 1, reopened April 15 and closed again April 23.

The corps said the Alton lock and several others may be opened by the coming weekend.

The Mississippi River stood at 37.5 feet Tuesday at St. Louis, still 7.5 feet over flood stage. The National Weather Service said, however, the river should drop to 33 feet by Friday.

What's the Law?

The case of the hairy question

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Marvin had a load on his mind. It was primarily due to the fact that from the time he took a job in a supermarket as a food clerk, he stopped cutting his hair. What's more, it ultimately reached his shoulders and the manager of the supermarket reached the end of his rope. He fired marvelous Marvin for violating the company's written grooming standards for male and female employees having contact with the public. Specifically prohibited for male employees was long hair.

Claiming sex discrimination under the civil rights law and claiming that he was unlawfully discharged, Marvin sued the supermarket company for damages.

"The company maintains a double standard," he argued in court. "Women are permitted to wear long hair and men aren't."

"So what?" retorted the store manager. "Men are permitted to wear mustaches and women aren't. It's not a case of discrimination. It's a case of public accommodation. When people come shopping in our store, we don't want them to think they're in a zoo. Men should look like men and women should look like women with never the twain to meet."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you find that Marvin was a victim of sex discrimination and unlawfully discharged under the civil rights law?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held, in effect, that an employer may set grooming standards for those of his employees dealing with the public. And in this case, he noted, the midl grooming rules were not unjustified. Prohibiting men from wearing long hair no more constitutes discrimination based upon sex than prohibiting them from wearing skirts.

Desserts use strawberries

Fabulous fresh strawberries are in the market in good supply. Enjoy them to the hilt just as they are. Then try some different dishes with them, such as the ones suggested here.

The cultivation of strawberries is relatively recent, compared with other fruits and vegetables, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association tells us. Cultivation is generally supposed to have started in Europe during the 15th century. But one authority points out that at least 1,200 plants were being grown in the Royal Gardens at the Louvre under Charles V, early in the 14th century.

When you're seeking new fresh strawberry desserts, a good place to find them is in England. The English dearly love fresh strawberries and one of their favorite ways to enjoy them is in an old-fashioned Strawberry Syllabub. This is a glorious mixture of pureed fresh strawberries blended with whipped cream. A few sliced strawberries are folded into the mixture for texture interest. Make this old- fashioned delight with modern ease in an electric blender or a food mill.

Another excellent English idea is to jell fresh strawberries in a mold that has the natural color of the berries and fresh orange juice. It can be heightened with red food coloring, if desired. This is the most refreshing dessert anyone could serve at the height of the fresh strawberry season.

The English enjoy Madeira in their cooking. It was an idea that George Washington carried out in his kitchen, too. A dessert in a very old tradition is fresh strawberries in Madeira sauce. It is best prepared ahead and, for that reason as well as its delectable taste, it makes an imaginative company dessert.

To buy strawberries at their best, look for those that are clean, bright, fresh- looking with solid red color or at least very little white or green. Their caps should be in place and the berries should be free from moisture or mold.

STRAWBERRY SYLLABUB

1 cup strawberries, washed and hulled
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon grated fresh orange rind
2 cups heavy cream
1 cup sliced strawberries

In electric blender or food mill puree strawberries to make 2/3 cup puree. Mix puree, sugar and orange rind in medium bowl. Whip cream until stiff. Fold in strawberry puree mixture.

Chill several hours. Fold in sliced strawberries. Spoon into serving dishes.

Makes: 8 servings.

FRESH STRAWBERRY MOLD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup sugar
1¾ cups fresh orange juice
1 cup strawberry puree (1½ cups fresh strawberries)
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
Red food coloring, optional
1 cup sliced strawberries

Sprinkle gelatin over water in medium saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in orange juice, strawberry puree, lemon juice and a few drops of red food coloring.

Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in sliced strawberries. Turn into 4-cup mold. Chill until firm.

To serve, unmold and garnish with whipped cream.

Coffee Corner by Cherie

Well, I'm reading the Harper's Bazaar and on the cover I find the title of several articles telling me "How I Can Look Fabulous and Healthy", "Special Diets, Exercises, and Make Up Secrets", and even how to "Give Tender and Loving Care To Your Feet." Unfortunately, upon opening the magazine I find it takes several hundred dollars worth of a new wardrobe to make me look fabulous; plus, several hundred more dollars to buy the plane ticket to jet me to some exotic resort to obtain my healthy look. Personally I found that the real problem would be getting the dollars and this they fail to tell you how to do. Therefore, I shall give up my fabulous healthy look and see what the article on diets and exercises has to offer. Well, it has quite a lot going for it, however, it doesn't give me any hints about how to increase my will power enough so that while I'm preparing a three course dinner for the fellas I keep from cheating and licking my fingers; or how to sit down at the table and pass the bread and gravy between my nose and lips and yet keep my tongue in its proper place while all that I have on my plate is a tablespoon of cottage cheese and a stalk of celery. Neither does it give any suggestions as to how to keep from fainting while doing your housework or how to keep your stomach from growling in public places! As for the exercises — it fails to tell you how you go about exercising when you're in a prone position and the dog is sitting on your stomach; or how do you remember how many sit ups you've done when the phone keeps ringing and breaking up your train of thought, and last but not least, how do you get back up after you've gotten down (once you've removed the dog from your stomatch that is). Since those were a total flop as far as I was concerned, I found myself avidly flipping through the pages to "Makeup Secrets" because (I thought) even I can surely manage those. But alas, there must be even more wrong with me than I've been suspecting for years, because first off, I couldn't stand all those layers of base coats on my face. Heavens, I smiled and I had cracks like the Grand Canyon running horizontally across my kisser. Then I don't drink, but when I went to try the eye liner my hand shook so bad I looked like I was having a severe case of the D.T.'s, and my eyes looked like the morning after when I'd finished. Thus, I found myself left with only "Give Tender and Loving Care To Your Feet" — now really, they've got to be kidding!!!

WOLF PROBLEM

WARREN, Ont. (AP) — Reggie MacDonald, a farmer in this small community south of North Bay, has a problem with hungry wolves.

The wolves are snatching his cats off the porch of his farm residence. MacDonald said: "I see the wolves every day. They come from behind the garage and the barn and they have eaten seven cats this year."

Bernie council votes to establish landfill

BERNIE — The city council voted to buy land for a sanitary landfill and equipment to operate the landfill at a special meeting Tuesday night. Bids were advertised for a contractor. The landfill should be in operation by July 1.

The council voted to sign a contract for cable television if the terms are acceptable to the company.

The city also voted to submit an application for $192,000 sewer project to enlarge the sewer lagoon and existing sewer facilities in the north end of town, which will include two airlift stations. The city was allocated a 75 per cent federal fund grant and a 10 per cent state grant. The city's share is $60,000.

Bids were opened for a new police car and the council voted to take the bids under advisement. The car is to be purchased with revenue sharing funds.

The council opened bids for the courtroom addition to the city jail. Ray White Building Supply was low bidder with $4,200. The council voted to accept the bid and order materials. The city received a $1,900 grant from the Bootheel Law Enforcement Committee.

Ratchford accused of misleading

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee charged today that President C. Brice Ratchford of the University of Missouri "is deliberately misleading the people" about appropriations for the Agriculture Extension Service.

"He has never asked to see the letter of intent approved by our committee," Sen. Norman L. Merrell, D-Monticello, said. "So it's obvious that he doesn't know what he is talking about.

"All we're trying to do is get rid of wine tasting and other such ridiculous courses while preserving the 4-H clubs and other valuable work of the extension division."

The Senate committee cut $4 million from the extension division's current budget in deciding on appropriations for the next fiscal year.

Ratchford criticized the action in news conferences around the state, saying the Senate was trying to run the university and that the cuts would cause a loss of more than 400 jobs.

Merrell charged Ratchford was using taxpayers' money by calling in extension people to campaign against the appropriations committee and of carrying on a statewide lobby against the legislature.

"He's turned all of his dogs on the political trail and this is wrong, not only because this is a tax supported institution but also because it is morally wrong to mislead the people in this way," said Merrell, a former school administrator.

Merrell said Ratchford had never asked to see the legislative letter of intent or called to ask about it. The letter says:

"The University of Missouri should emphasize academic programs, particularly in the fields of medicine and decrease urban extension activities by shifting $2 million from urban extension activities to academic programs.

"There shall be no reduction in rural extension or in correspondence course offerings. No state or other funds used by the university shall be for promoting activities in violation of state or federal laws."

"He dreamed up this (urban agriculture extension) scheme several years ago as director of extension in order to get more money from the General Assembly, but now that we've finally caught up with some of these frivolous programs he's screaming bloody murder and mounting a pressure campaign against us," Merrell said.

SEC chairman Cook, resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman G. Bradford Cook of the Securities and Exchange Commission Wednesday announced his resignation.

In a letter to President Nixon, Cook said: "I deeply regret having to tender my resignation as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, but in light of unfortunate circumstances now prevailing, I believe it is best to do so."

Cook, named SEC chairman by Nixon only a few months ago, has been criticized for his handling of a report of a cash contribution to the Nixon 1972 campaign by Robert L. Vesco, who has been under investigation by the SEC.

Cook turned 36 last Thursday and was one of the youngest chairmen in history of the SEC.

He testified earlier this week at a closed- door hearing before a Senate committee on the Vesco matter. The nature of the testimony was not disclosed.

Cook's resignation is certain to affect Wall Street in view of the fact he has been at the forefront of moves to reform the country's securities markets to create a single central market system.

A federal grand jury in New York alleged that Cook yielded to pressure from Nixon campaign fund raiser Maurice Stans by deleting mention of a large cash donation from Vesco from an SEC suit against Vesco, a New York financier.

It has been alleged that a $200,000 contribution from Vesco was made in secret to the Nixon campaign.

Council Cancels meeting

MALDEN — The City Council decided Monday night to cancel a meeting scheduled with Associated Natural Gas Co. on the advice of City Attorney Gordon Fritz as a result of new developments in the city's suit against the gas company.

The council will discuss the developments at the next meeting and will set a new date to meet with gas company representatives.

The suit stems from the fact that when the city entered into an agreement with the Blytheville, Ark., based company, an option to purchase the distribution facilities was part of the contract. The franchise agreement called for the Missouri Public Service Commission to set a price on the facilities, but the PSC has declined to do so.

Thec ity and the gas company have been unable to agree on a price, so the city has filed suit.

Dunklin County Court Judge Ralph Stropp presented to the council rules and regulations for a proposed solid waste disposal plan and spoke to the council about a disposal area. He asked the city to decide as soon as possible whether Malden will use Dunklin County disposal facilities or go elsewhere.

Mayor G. H. Anderson appointed a solid waste committee to look into the matter and meet with Judge Stropp to pursue the Dunklin County plan. Appointed to the committee were Leroy Evans, chairman; Mart Bostic; Tim Corder; and Phil Santie.

Councilman Leroy Evans requested that the city purchase bleacher seats for the Little League baseball field. The council requested that the park committee place an order for the seats at a cost to the city of $1,358.

A discussion was held pertaining to young people being in the city park after curfew, 10 p.m. on weekdays and 11 p.m. on Saturdays. It was decided to notify all citizens that this law will be enforced

Santie recommended that the council look over the airport board appointment and decide on recommendations of coucilmen who are not active on other committees. He also requested a decision on a full-time building inspector.

Santie also informed the council that Gregory Phelps, park truck driver, had resigned as of May 15 and asked that Jim Garris be allowed to replace Phelps. The council voted to approve the appointment.

A letter was read by councilman Hank Watson from the Missouri Outdoor Recreation Committee regarding the matching funds for industrial recreation. Watson informed the council that he had talked to committee representatives and they had promised the first payment of $8,534 within 45 to 60 days.

Watson requested the council to borrow the money on the strength of the promise since the park is in need of the money now, and the council gave the Industrial Recreation Park Committee permission to borrow the money.

Weeds on vacant lots were discussed and the council approved a request of Councilman Leroy Evans that all weed problems be turned over to him in the name of the person owning the property. Evans will write a letter giving the owner one week from letter date to mow weeds, or the city will mow the weeds at a minimum charge of $10.

Dennis Roach, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed his appreciation to the council for good attendance at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. Roach also gave the names of the newly formed Industrial Development Committee as Mart Bostic, Sparrel Davis, Phil Santie, George Anderson and himself.

Hank Watson, chairman of the Industrial Recreation Park Committee, came before the council and gave a report on the progress on the Industrial Recreation Park and told the council he had the resignations of Jerry Broyles and C. P. Lowrey from the committee. Dennis Blake and Jim Darnell were appointed to replace the two men.

A request from fireman Rod Dill to erect a gas pump at his home was granted after it was explained that the pump would be equipped with safety devices.

A discussion was tabled concerning the tearing up of a curb along the south side of Main Street between Douglas and Cedar streets.

The council agreed to erect a "No Parking Sundays Only" sign on the south side of Park Street from Highway 25 east to the first alley.

The next council meeting was set for May 29 instead of May 28 which is Memorial Day.

Russell Tuesday by Lt. Gov. William C. Phelps. A spokesman for Phelps said the bill had been delayed awaiting an attorney general's opinion on whether to channel the money through the state Division of Welfare or through the governor's statutory emergency relief powers.

The money will be used to buy land and put in sewer and water lines for mobile homes to be supplied by the federal government.

Federal regulations require the state to put in the utility lines and provide the sites.

Damage hits $12.8 million

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — City officials have placed damage from Friday's killer storm at $12.8 million.

City Manager Robert Metzinger said some commercial buildings suffered about $5.5 million damage, private dwellings another $4 million. Damage to vehicles was estimated at $1.25 million, with $800,000 for trees and debris cleanup, $750,000 to public property, $400,000 to public utilities and $100,000 to sidewalks and other thoroughfares.

Civil Defense Director Mrs. Lea Kungle said a 1971 storm resulted in about $2.5 million.

The storm killed three persons and injured 99 others—22 seriously enough for hospitalization.

Jackson sports .011 ERA

MORLEY— Coach Jim Thornsberry's Kelly Hawks had their final tuneup before their encounter with the Illmo— Scott City Rams in the Regional playoff at Van Buren Friday afternoon by overpowering the Scott Central Braves 9- 2 in a Scott- Mississippi County baseball game here Tuesday.

The Hawks sport a 15- 2 record overall and are 8- 1 in conference play.

Jeff "Jethro" Jackson hurled the Hawks to victory with a four hitter. The win was his seventh of the season to go along with two losses. Jackson has an earned run average of .011 and has allowed only one earned run in 61 innings this year. He has fanned 100 batters and has backed his pitching and fielding with a .550 batting average and 25 runs batted in in 17 games.

The Hawks jumped on the Braves starting pitcher in the top of the first inning, scoring four runs on two doubles, a triple and a single, and two stolen bases.

Kelly added single runs in the second and third and led 6- 0 before the Braves were able to score their first run in the third. The Hawks crossed the plate three more times in the fifth. The Braves managed to score once more in the bottom of the seventh.

Mike Brasher had a triple and Jeff Jackson stroked two doubles and Ernie Duncan hit a two bagger for KHS

Torre raises average

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hard-hitting Joe Torre took a tip Tuesday from George Kissell and helped return the St. Louis Cardinals to the winning side in baseball.

"I really hadn't been kissing the ball," said Torre, who carried a husky .315 average into a matinee engagement with the Philadlephia Phillies.

"Kissell called me over, though, and asked me if I was felling all right. I started thinking. I got three hits last night. You put all together and they wouldn't reach the wall."

Torre, who perennially strikes terror in the hearts of pitchers, responded with three wicked line drives for singles in an 8-4 Cardinals victory.

"I hadn't been aggressive," said the 32-year-old first baseman, who raised his average to .327 and his runs-batted-in total to 16 with three RBI.

"I've been getting hits off my wrists," he added. "I haven't been using my hips. I'd been listless lately.

"I just tried to get myself revved up a little while the pitcher was warming up," Torre noted. "I've just been too selective with pitches I've been hitting."

Torre's drives, including a two-run single contributing to a four-run Cardinals eighth, were part of a 13-hit assault.

But Barry Lersch, employing an effective knuckle ball, stood Torre and Co. off until his own wild throw permitted St. Louis to tie 4-4.

Darrell Brandon relieved the next inning and was greeted by Mike Tyson's single, then elected to go to second base too late with the sacrifice bunt of Cards pitcher Rick Wise.

Lou Brock's fourth hit, a drag bunt, followed to load the bases and Brandon, 0-1, walked Jose Cruz to snap the tie.

Torre connected for a solid hit to left-center scoring Wise and Brock, and Ted Simmons capped the rally with a single chasing home Cruz.

Wise, 4-2, pitched a six-hitter and survived Mike Schmidt's two-run homer in the second and two wild pitches which provided the Phils a 4-3 lead in the sixth.

"I just tried to make it too good a curve ball," he said of the second errant delivery. "It didn't make me mad to see those runs in the eighth. I just has to keep battling."

86 PROOF KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY DISTILLED AND BOTTLED BY THE JAMES B. BEAM DISTILLING CO., CLERMONT, BEAM, KENTUCKY

Girl makes hit

CONCORD, N.C.(AP) — In her first time at bat, 13-yearold Yvonne Burch hit the first pitch for a triple for her Babe Ruth baseball team.

The rule book says that Babe Ruth baseball is for boys only. But R.W. Case of Trenton, N.J., international president of the organization, said in a telephone interview that his office will take no action to keep Yvonne from playing unless a formal complaint is filed.

And the coaches of the eight teams in Cabarrus County have not objected, so it looks as if Yvonne, an attractive tomboy, will in continue in right field for the South Cabarrus Optimists.

Case said that times have changed since Babe Ruth baseball for teen-aged boys started in 1951. He said that when his 33-member board meets again in the fall he may suggest a study of whether girls should be allowed to play. Almost 300,000 boys in the United States and 16 foreign countries play in the league.

Yvonne got two hits in three at bats and caught some fly balls easily as her team won its opening game 10-6 Monday night.

Stripers Anyone?

The Missouri striped bass fisherman may never be as colorful as his Atlantic coast counterpart byt hopefully one of these days he'll be as successful.

There is nothing quite as pictorial in the angling world as a striper fisherman standing knee- deep in a pounding Atlantic Ocean surf casting two- handed for the big trophy fish.

Certainly nothing like it in Missouri where oceans are rare. But stripers inhabit Lake of the Ozarks and currently are one of those fingers- crossed experiments which sometimes pay off, sometimes don't.

The big problem with Missouri's striped bass is that not enough of them have been stocked since the first introduction in 1967. It's tough to get enough eggs or fry from other states which have their own and many other commitments to meet, and Missouri's brood fish are not quite old enough to spawn.

First stocking of stripers in Lake of the Ozarks was 2,000 in 1967. In 1968, the Department of Conservation stocked 29,700 fingerlings.

The biggest stocking was in 1969 when 126,800 went into the lake. In 1970, the Department stocked 65,155 fingerlings and in 1971, there were 8,054 fish, averaging four inches, which went into the lake.

Striper young are tempermental and tough to raise in hatcheries and 1972 was a bad year, consequently few fish were stocked.

Most stockings were in the lower end of the lake-- the Glaize- Gravois area. Growth rates are uncertain, but on fish caught Nov. 7, 1972, had grown from four inches in 1970 to four pounds in 1972.

Missouri has had two striped bass submitted for record and neither came from Lake of the Ozarks.

The first was a 5:12 pounder from Norfork Lake, result of an Arkansas stocking.

The second and current state record is 12:04, caught in the St. Francis River. No one knows how the fish got in the river, above Wappappello Dam. It could have been caught originally from Taum Sauk Reservoir where there was an experimental stocking, then released in the river, but that's just a guess.

Agent class scheduled

JEFFERSON CITY— The odds of making it to the final round are about as good as those favoring the club duffer making it to the last hole of the Professional Golfers Association tournament, but still several hundred Missourians apply for a spot as a conservation agent each time there is a class opening.

The Department of Conservation now is accepting applications for a new class which will run from January through April, 1974. Deadline for applications is July 16, 1973.

Usually there are about 400 applications for what ends as a class of 10 to 12 agents.

Applicants should write Personnel Officer, Department of Conservation, Box 180, Jefferson City, Missouri 65101. They will be given a written test in the latter part of August.

The top candidates from that group then will be interviewed and the final group will begin the intensive four- month training course.

Conservation agents must be Missouri citizens and must have lived here for at least two years continuously. They must be between 22- 36 years, between 68 and 76 inches in height without shoes and between 140 and 225 pounds.

They must have earned at least a high school diploma or its equivalent.

MU signs 6-7 Texan

COLUMBIA, Mo.— Danny Van Rheen, a highly-recruited all- stater from Houston, Tex., has signed a national letter- of- intent to join Coach Norm Stewart's basketball forces at Missouri.

The 6- 7 and 210- pound Texan led his Deer Park prep team to four straight district titles during his career. He reputedly was courted by more than 200 universities and colleges.

Van Rheen averaged 24 points and 18 rebounds a game last season in district competition. In addition to his all- state honors, he was named to several all-American lists as well.

SPORTS

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Midshipman Kurt Yost, co-captain of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy swim team, has been named winner of the 1973 Stedman Trophy for academic and athletic achievement.

Yost, a senior from Sandusky, Ohio, led the team to an 8-3 season and earned AllAmerican honors in four events of the 1973 National Collegiate Athletic Association college division championships.

Managers angry at umps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Niekro's five-hit pitching wasn't what bothered Houston General Manager Spec Richardson and Manager Leo Durocher.

Nor was it Dusty Baker's three-run homer, which provided the batting support for the Atlanta Braves' 4-1 victory over the Astros Tuesday night.

It was the umpiring.

"I'm fed up with them," was Richardson's comment about the umpiring. "I'm tired of my ball club being beaten...by umpires."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 4-3, Pittsburgh nipped Montreal 9-8 in 11 innings, St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 8-4, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 4-1 and San Francisco topped San Diego 4-2.

In the American League, Nolan Ryan pitched a no-hitter as California beat Kansas City 3-0, Minnesota defeated Texas 7-5, Chicago beat Oakland 6-5 in 12 innings and Milwaukee edged Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings. Detroit at New York and Baltimore at Boston were postponed due to rain.

The play that irked Richardson, Durocher and the Astros came in the ninth inning. With one out and Atlanta ahead 3-1, Baker singled and Mike Lum walked.

Dave Johnson then hit into what looked like a double-play grounder, but second base umpire Bruce Froemming ruled that second baseman Tommy Helms did not touch the bag.

First baseman Lee May, thinking the double play had ended the game, flipped the ball to first base umpire Paul Pryor—and Baker scampered home with the Braves' fourth run.

Durocher then announced he was playing the game under protest, claiming Pryor did not let the Astros make a play on Baker at the plate.

"Pryor had the ball in his hands," Durocher said. "As soon as he saw the man (Baker) running home and the signal (by Froemming), he threw the ball to the ground.

"If May has the ball he throws the man out. But there's no way you can throw a man out if you do not have the ball. And that's why we protested."

Second baseman Glenn Beckert's sparkling fielding play in the ninth inning saved the Cubs' victory.

With Chicago ahead 4-2, the Mets got one run in the ninth and loaded the bases.

John Milner then grounded out to end the game.

Joe Torre boosted his average to .327 by lashing three line-drive singles in the Cardinals' victory.

Tony Perez clubbed two home runs, giving him five for the season, as the Reds beat the Dodgers. Don Gullett, 4-2, was the winner.

Ryan holds Royals hitless

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I was terrible warming up," said Nolan Ryan—but a warm Nolan Ryan is nothing like a hot one.

And the California Angels' flamethrower was once again his usual searing self Tuesday night, hurling the American League's second no-hitter of the baseball season, a dazzling, remarkably easy 12-strikeout performance against Kansas City.

It was the first no-hitter for the 26-year-old right-hander, who has spent the past few seasons coming oh, so close to achieving that feat.

Having finally made it, did he think it was his most thrilling moment in baseball?

Obviously, you say.

Wrong, he replies.

"Coming into a World Series game was a greater thrill," Ryan insisted. "That was it!"

That was when he was a member of New York's Miracle Mets in 1969, when he pitched 2 1-3 innings of scoreless, threestrikeout relief to preserve a victory over Baltimore.

In Tuesday night's other American League games, Milwaukee outlasted Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings, Minnesota mauled Texas 9-5 and the Chicago White Sox edged Oakland 6-5 in 12 innings. The Baltimore-atBoston and Detroit-at-New York Yankees games were rained out.

In the National League it was St. Louis 8, Philadelphia 4; the Chicago Cubs 4, the Mets 3; San Francisco 4, San Diego 2; Atlanta 4, Houston 1; Cincinnati 4, Los Angeles 1, and Pittsburgh 9, Montreal 8 in 11 innings.

Ryan likely was not even thinking of a no-hitter—not after what happened to him last Friday in his last start. He lasted a scant one-third of an inning against the White Sox, who drove him from the mound with a five-run, four-hit barrage.

But of such misfortunes stars are made.

"I think that shelling helped me bear down," said Ryan, last year's major league strikeout leader with 329 who raised his major league-leading total to 82 with his dozen against the Royals—the 35th time in his career he's fanned 10 or more in a game.

"Something like that," he said of the White Sox' shellacking, "makes you wake up and bear down."

And bear down he did, fanning the side in the first inning, in which he gave up one of his three walks. Inning after inning went by. By the seventh, it would seem, the 12,205 Kansas City fans would be in an uproar. After all, they knew what no-hitters were all about. Their own Steve Busby had thrown one at Detroit less than three weeks ago.

But the fans were surprisingly quiet...almost funereal, as Ryan set down batter after batter. Only when the Royals appeared on the verge of breaking the spell did they come alive.

So Ryan toiled in silence—until the eighth inning, when pinch-hitter Gail Hopkins stepped up with two out.

It was Hopkins who, last year in Anaheim, stepped up in the eighth inning and wrecked Ryan's no-hit bid with a single.

He nearly did it again, punching a looping liner over second and into short center field. But shortstop Rudy Meoli dashed out and backhanded the ball. It was, until the last pitch of the game, as close as the Royals would come to getting a hit.

"Being a fastball pitcher," Ryan said, "you have a tendency to overthrow more than control pitchers do...Somebody with a fastball gets away with bad pitches and that's where I've been hurt. It's taken time to realize this."

So now it was the ninth. He disposed of Fred Patek on a pop foul off first base, then fanned Steve Hovley. That left it up to Amos Otis. The Kansas City slugger came within a few feet of shattering the dream.

He slammed a shot out toward the right field fence. Ken Berry took off after it. Berry had taken over for Bob Oliver in the seventh inning as a defensive replacement. Oliver, after all, had done his job on offense, drilling a home run and a single to knock in two of the Angels' runs.

The ball and Berry arrived at the wall almost simultaneously, Berry snared it with his back about a foot from the fence and Ryan had his niche in the record book.

In Milwaukee Dave May jumped on a Brent Strom pitch with one out in the 17th inning and crashed his 10th homer of the season, tying him for the major league lead and boosting the Brewers into first place in the East Division.

Pat Kelly's double with two out in the 12th inning lifted the White Sox to a two-game West Division lead.

SPORTS

MONTREAL (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's all-time leading scorer, will try his hand at volleyball beginning June 3.

Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers' 7-foot-1 center, is part of a pick-up team that will play a Quebec squad in Montreal in a best-of-five series. His teammates include Japanese star Toshi Toyora and former U.S. Olympic volleyball team member Rudy Suwara.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Litwack, one of the most respected coaches in college basketball who retired last season from Temple University after 21 years, was honored at a dinner Tuesday night.

Litwack, who had a 373-193 won-lost record during his tenure at Temple, led the team to 14 straight winning seasons, including 13 postseason tournament berths and the 1969 National Invitation Tournament.

Goldwater urges Nixon to show leadership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater urged President Nixon today "to start making moves in the direction of leadership," and Sen. Stuart Symington charged Nixon's chief aides "tried to obstruct justice" by hiding the Watergate affair under a CIA umbrella.

Testimony before the Senate Armed Services committee indicates the ploy didn't work because the CIA refused to go along. But convicted conspirator James W. McCord Jr., says he believes the White House tried to use the cover anyway.

"It is not easy for me to say this about my country or my President," said Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, "but I think the time has come when someone must say to both of them, 'let's get going.'"

Goldwater said "we are witnessing the loss of confidence in America's ability to govern, we are watching the price of gold go to disastrous heights having an equally bad effect upon our stock market.

"We have a far greater responsibility to our children and I might say to ourselves than to allow the sordid Watergate to wash out all other concepts of responsibility," the Arizonan continued in a statement.

"I mean responsibility to the world, to our own people and particularly that responsibility which is ours as a world leader to continue to lead. It is to this end that I urge my President to start moves in the direction of leadership which have suffered from lack of an understandable concern about Watergate."

Eds: The following is embargoed for Noon EDT

Nixon announced one move today in asking Congress to create a special 17-member nonpartisan commission to completely re-examine the system of elections and campaign practices.

His special message said "recent disclosures of widespread abuses" in the 1972 campaign make reform a priority item to "restore the faith of the American people in the integrity of their political processes."

He made no mention of Watergate but said more disclosures of 1972 campaign misdeeds "will doubtless soon be made."

End embargoed matter.

In U.S. district court, Chief Judge John J. Sirica signed an order compelling Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy to testify before the Senate Watergate committee which starts public televised hearings Thursday. The order, granted over protests by Liddy's attorney, gives Liddy immunity for anything he might say.

Sirica had granted similar immunity to Liddy for his grand jury testimony but the former counsel for the re-election committee still refused to testify and was sentenced to up to 18 months for contempt. The sentence was in addition to the 6-20 year term Sirica imposed for the Watergate incident.

Symington released a summary Tuesday of testimony offered by Army Lt. Gen. Vernon A. Walters, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

That summary and an official digest of the same incident as disclosed by former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III make possible a detailed reconstruction of one element of the alleged White House coverup of the Watergate affair.

Gray, who told his story to Senate Watergate investigators, and Walters gave differing accounts, but the two versions show these developments:

On June 23, six days after five men were arrested inside Democratic headquarters at the Watergate, then — CIA Director Richard Helms and Walters were summoned to the White House to meet with chief of staff H. R. Haldeman and domestic- affairs adviser John D. Ehrlichman in Ehrlichman's office.

Walters said Haldeman told him to tell Gray that if the FBI pursued an investigation of certain funds in Mexico, connected with the Watergate case, the inquiry would compromise certain CIA activities and resources in Mexico.

Walters met with Gray an hour later and conveyed the message, and Gray indicated he was aware the two agencies don't uncover each other's sources and activities.

Gray's account indicated the FBI postponed interviews with two witnesses because of the Walters meeting.

Walters said that after the meeting he checked and discovered that the investigation would not interfere with CIA activities.

On June 26, Walters met with White House Counsel John W. Dean III, since fired, and told him there was no CIA involvement in the Watergate case or related money matters in Mexico.

Walters said he went back and told his own boss, Helms, about the meeting, and Helms told him he had done the right thing.

On June 27, the Symington summary said, Dean reportedly called Walters to his office again and "asked if there was some way the CIA could go bail or pay the salaries of the individuals accused in the Watergate case while they were in jail."

Walters said he was prepared to resign rather than do that.

On June 28, Walters said, Dean called him in again to ask if there could have been some CIA involvement in the affair that Walters didn't know about. Walters said he told Dean there could not be.

Walters said he told Dean that if he were ordered to compromise the agency in the affair "he would ask to see the President and to explain to him how dangerous he thought such an action would be," the summary said.

Williams preliminary hearing date set

NEW MADRID — Preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court has been tentatively set for June 5 for Bill Williams, a truck driver being held under $10,000 bond on kidnaping charge.

Williams is accused of abducting Phyllis Dean Shannon of Hot Springs, Ark., at 11:45 p.m. Monday. He allegedly had given the woman and her husband Jimmy Shannon a ride from Little Rock, Ark., and when Shannon went into Scotty's Truck Stop near Matthews on Interstate 55, Williams drove off with Mrs. Shannon asleep in the truck cab.

Williams was arrested in Kirkwood Tuesday and returned to New Madrid County by the sheriff's department.

Pound pleads guilty

David Lee Pound, 837 Anderson, pleaded guilty in Magistrate Court Tuesday to a charge of cashing a stolen check. Judge Lloyd Briggs took Pound's punishment under advisement until June 5.

Pound admitted cashing a $58 check stolen from Shirley Tarrillion, 206 Bynum. Sentencing was delayed when he told the judge he was trying to join the Navy. If the Navy accepts Pound, Judge Briggs may decide not to send him to jail or place him on probation.

Maurice Thompson of Sikeston waived a preliminary hearing on bogus check charges and was ordered to appear in Circuit Court on May 24. Thompson is charged with cashing a bogus check of $4,100 to SeMo Motor Co. on March 24, 1972, and a bogus check of $20 to Fred's Package Store on Sept. 28, 1972. He is alleged to have cashed a total of 17 bogus checks.

Andrew Sales, 210 Dixie, pleaded guilty to an April 27 break- in of Wetterau Foods, Inc. warehouse on Branum Street and was placed on two-year probation.

Barry Becker of St. Louis was sentenced to one year in jail for nonsupport. The sentence was suspended on condition that he pays $50 a month support for his daughter.

George H. Kester of 2006 Main St., Scott City, was ordered to pay $71.56 for state taxes he had failed to pay. The sum includes interest and penalty on the taxes.

Other cases before the court included Larry William Watkins of Route Two, fined $100 for driving while intoxicated; Bobby Delk of Charleston, $15 bogus check, case dismissed; and Ruth Karraker of Dongola, Ill., $17.41 bogus check, case dismissed.

Hayti student is top actress

HAYTI — Toni Cross, a Hayti High School speech and drama student, has been named the number one actress in the state.

Miss Cross performed in the Hayti class production of "Giant's Stair" during the State School Drama and Speech Festival at University of Missouri- Columbia. The play was rated superior.

Belinda Plunkett was awarded the fourth spot in the state for her performance in the same play.

Bill Sample and David McCoy also appeared in the play which was called "a most impressive team effort" by the adjudicator.

Eleven schools, selected in district competition, were competing for the top slots in drama.

Hayti students, competing in 10 events at the district contests in Cape Girardeau, were also represented at the state contests in story- telling by Debbie Hall and in radio newscasting by Miss Cross. They received average ratings.

Mrs. Jasamyn Garrett directed the group, assisted by Diane Suddarth.

BC 8th grade to graduate May 18

BELL CITY — Eighth grade commencement exercises will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the high school gymnasium. The two top ranking students, Teresa Patterson and Sara Knoderer, will speak.

CITY OF SIKESTON, MO.

RESOLUTION

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of One and one- half inch Hotmix Asphaltic Pavement on Six Inch Soil Cement Base with Concrete Curb and Gutter on and along Garwood Street from Edward to Dead end in the city of Sikeston, Missouri; stating the nature of the improvement; the esimated cost and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the council of the city of Sikeston, state of Missouri, as follows: section 1: that the council of the city of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the city of Sikeston. section 2: that the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. section 3: that the estimated cost of the improvement is $5.85 per lineal foot of ab utting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. section 4: that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills evidencing special assessmentsagainst the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the state of Missouri and the ordinances of the city of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the city council the general revenue fund of the city of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefrom to pay for the improvement. section 5: that any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the state of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the industrial commission of Missouri. section 6: that the city clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 7th day of may, 1973. Approved: Frank Ferrell, Mayor; Attest: John W. vaughn, City Clerk.

Winnebago is the largest of the several motor home companies with more than 350 dealers.

Miller named first vice president of Wetterau

SCOTT CITY — William R. Miller, vice president and general manager of the Scott City division of Wetterau Foods, Inc., has been named a first vice president of the company, it was announced by O. J. Cleveland, executive vice president of Wetterau Foods, Inc.

Leonard V. Waldron, vice president and general manager of Wetterau's Bloomington, Ind., division will replace Miller in the same capacity at Scott City.

H. Wallace Truelock, vice president- marketing, will be vice president and general manager of the Bloomington division.

William S. Panos has been named director of marketing. He was assistant to the director of marketing.

Before moving to Scott City to head that division in 1971, Miller had served as corporate director of store development, sales manager of the Hazelwood division and manager of store development at Scott City. He joined Wetterau in 1960.

Watch out for buried cables

Your home telephones are in danger. In the spring and summer especially, people get out in their yards and fields and dig for a variety of reasons.

Reliable telephone service is at the mercy of those who dig, but a few precautions will help assure that underground telephone lines remain intact and continue to serve customers around the clock, according to David Schmieg, Sikeston manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Virtually all phone lines are placed underground in new development areas," he said, "and many cross country long distance cables are buried."

He explained that damage to buried telephone cables can interrupt service to hundreds, sometimes thousands, of telephone customers. Such mishaps can be tragic. Lines in a phone cable carry urgent calls to doctors, ambulance services, fire and police departments as well as the wide variety of other calls.

Schmieg said, "The phone company takes every precaution it knows to prevent service interruptions, but much depends on cooperation from those whose business involves digging.

"Some who dig may not be aware of where lines are buried. This can hazard service throughout the community unless the digger finds out before he starts to dig."

Schmieg said that, to locate buried phone lines, the digger has only to dial "O" for Operator and ask for Enterprise 9800. This is a universal number which tells the telephone operator to direct the call to the Bell office nearest the caller's location.

When the company receives such a call, a company representative will go to the site to locate the cable so workmen can avoid it.

"To save delay," Schmieg said, "the person or firm who plans to dig should call the phone company a day or so before work starts. The company will see that someone is there to locate the cable before starting time."

Local distributors view trailer models

OKLAHOMA CITY — Distributors from 21 states and the province of Ontario, Canada, were on hand April 19-20 for the unveiling of eight new trailer models during the annual American Trailer Sales Conference April at Skirvin Hotel.

Distributors taking part in the program included Leo Horn and Don Curry of Sikeston, Mo., who represented Curry Trailer and Equipment Co. of Sikeston.

In addition to examining each new model and gathering information about them, the distributors also learned of improvements made this year in other American models.

The group also heard talks from American officials on subjects ranging from marketing trends to new American Trailer engineering innovations.

The distributors also took part in several workshops and in discussions of general business activities.

During another portion of the program, the 55 American representatives were taken on a tour of the 100,000 square-foot American production plant in western Oklahoma City.

Sikeston Land Bank officials attend 3-state conference

Hal F. Robertson, manager of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston, and Michael Bollinger, associate manager, participated in a three- state credit conference of association managers and associate managers May 7-9 in St. Louis.

The conference was held for development of additional procedures for making loans under broadened authorities and responsibilities delegated to local associations by Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. The purpose of the broadened authorities is to give better credit service to farm and rural families.

During the meeting, Glenn E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, reported that the strong demand for long- term financing continues. The bank has already loaned more than $100 million new money in Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri during 1973. The outstanding loan volume of the bank reached $900 million on April 26, and Heitz predicts the bank will have $1 billion loaned to farm and rural home owners by March 1974.

"Although the supplies of money are becoming less plentiful, the Land Bank is exerting every effort to assure that adequate funds will be available to meet the needs of farmers," Heitz said. He added that "farmers would be well advised to anticipate their future credit needs and arrange for loan terms best suited to their individual needs at the earliest convenient date."

Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston has loaned $1,061,798 in new money in Scott, New Madrid, Mississippi, Stoddard and Cape Girardeau counties during the first four months of this year.

Bethlehem Steel hikes prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest steel company, followed the lead of other major steelmakers Monday and boosted the prices of its sheet and strip products.

Last Thursday U.S. Steel, the biggest steelmaker, announced it was raising prices on high-volume sheet steel by an average of 4.8 per cent, effective June 15. Other steelmakers, including Jones & Laughlin, Wheeling-Pittsburgh, Kaiser and Armco, announced similar hikes the following day.

The proposed increases have encountered opposition from the Cost of Living Council, however, which says it plans to review U.S. Steel's justification for the boost.

Attend Land Bank meeting

Hal F. Robertson, center, manager of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston, and Michael Bollinger, left, associate manager, are greeted at a three-state credit conference in St. Louis by Glenn E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank of St. Louis.

Market threatens higher fees

Focus On Business

By CROCKETT SCOTT

"Always pay, for first or last you must pay your entire debt."

... Emerson

Years ago used car salesmen sometimes would raise the price of their commodity when faced with a hesitant prospect; - and quite often that brought him into line; and the deal was closed; -- at the higher price.

Today's stock market and yesterday's used car market are quite different; yet the New York Stock Exchange now is considering the imposition of the same, or at least a similar tactic upon the small investor; that is, if he is going to be so contemplative and cautious, make him pay more.

If the higher commissions are only a threat, they haven't produced much new business to date; though there have been quite a few bad jokes.

However, with so many equities -- both of good and questionable quality, selling near or below their lows of recent years - this may be what it takes to get the market moving again. For if stocks are so low, the poor soul who wants to buy should be willing to pay a better tip for the privilege of completing the transaction.

Whatever will ensue, there are a great many SEC-registered representatives in the Mid- South and Midwest who are just as disgusted with the attitude of the New York Stock Exchange toward the small investor as the small investor himself.

Also, there are any number of analysts -- those who still have a job (what with so few people to perform an equity analysis for) -- who look upon the market presently with considerable skepticism.

How about the oil stocks, the auto and the tire equities currently?

Wouldn't some of them be good short sales? This is the question a lot of potential investors are asking their SEC-registered analysts these days.

And the clients of the analysts in a great many instances can ask just as intelligent a question as can the mutual fund managers who are making commitments at various times for millions of dollars.

If there is an energy crisis upon us, with filling stations about to shut down for various periods as gasoline and oil are rationed, how are you going to sell automobiles and tires at quantities equal to that of the recent past? So why, the question is raised, wouldn't equities in these fields be good short sales?

Why too, wouldn't equities of electric and gas appliance manufacturers be good short sales, if there may not be enough fuel available to keep them humming full time; and wouldn't the utilities, too, be good short sales?

Moreover, there has been a lot of talk recently about the machine tool industry of West Germany and Japan being far ahead of our own tool industry. So why wouldn't equities in any number of manufacturing industries be candidates for short sales presently -- unless the market already has discounted this elemental difficulty.

These are some of the questions analysts are getting from the poor, unsophisticated potential investor today, as the New York Stock Exchange contemplates raising commission rates.

For long positions currently, some potential investors are asking about the airlines and bus companies.

If the gasoline shortage takes the family car off the roads, won't the airlines and the buses have more business?

The ecologists should be pleased, too. For, the air should be much closer to purity with millions of cars off the road.

And if we truly are faced with a gasoline shortage, how about long positions in stocks of the bicycle manufacturers?

Should the energy crisis get so bad that our television sets went dead, think of the potential in equities of the playing card manufacturers.

As anyone in the stock market can tell you, there always are opportunities for making (and losing) money.

It would seem to be a time propitious for studying the possibilities with an SEC-registered representative.

Colley heads committee

Lynn A. Coley has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the Sikeston Life Underwriters Association to spearhead the formation of local classes in the Life Underwriter Council's course of life and disability income insurance sales training.

The appointment was announced by Herb Marshall of Charleston, the association president.

The Sikeston- SeMo Association has sponsored the LUTC program for four years. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., LUTC was officially formed through the joint efforts of company and field organizations in 1947 as an independent non- profit educational organization.

The Council offers a two-year practical sales training program in life insurance with weekly 2½- hour classes running from October to May each year.

Colley has been a member of the association for two years and has been associated with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Sikeston for five years. In addition to his association activities, he is also president of Sikeston Little Theatre and chairman of the Scott County Republican Party.

In preparation for his duties as education chairman, Colley attended a two- day seminar in Memphis for LUTC chairmen from 10 states, conducted by a representative of the home office in Washington, D.C.

Ark-Mo elects board directors

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. — The annual meeting of Arkansas- Missouri Power Company was held April 24 at the company's general office.

At the stockholders' meeting, directors re- elected were: Kendall Berry, Blytheville banker; Edmund S. Cummings Jr., Chicago attorney; Charles C. Czeschin, chairman of the board of the company, Blytheville; August L. Griesedieck, St. Louis attorney; Hal E. Hunter Jr., New Madrid, Mo., attorney; Floyd W. Lewis, president and chief executive officer of Middle South Utilities, Inc., New Orleans; George K. Reeves, Caruthersville, Mo., attorney; Frank G. Smith Jr., president of the company, Blytheville; Henry F. Trotter, Pine Bluff automobile dealer and planter and Gus B. Walton Jr., Little Rock attorney.

At a directors' meeting following the stockholders' meeting, officers re- elected were: Frank G. Smith Jr., president and chief executive officer; Charles C. Czeschin, chairman; Chas. R. Newcomb, vice president and secretary; John H. Germain, vice president, engineering and purchasing; L. T. McSpadden, vice president, Legal and Personnel; John C. Watson, vice president, marketing and development; E. L. McKenzie, treasurer and assistant secretary; and E. E. Brown, assistant treasurer.

The progress the company has made during the past year was reviewed as well as progress on plans for the construction of a $15 million electric generating plant of 150,000- kilowatt capacity at Blytheville. The Arksnasas Public Service Commission has issued the company a certificate of convenience and necessity to construct and operate the plant.

Also, it was noted that the Federal Power Commission has now issued the company a permanent order for operation of the $4 million liquefied natural gas plant recently completed just north of Blytheville. The storage facility is now being filled with natural gas to supplement the pipeline supply of natural gas.

Mogul names foreman

MALDEN — Mrs. Penny Todd, the daughter of Mrs. Margie Hall of Holcomb and the late Harvey Brigman, has been promoted to finishing foreman with Federal- Mongul Company in Malden.

In this position, the Holcomb native will supervise the grinder, tinplate and inspection area on the second shift.

She started with the company in 1965 as an inspector. Later she worked in the office as personnel clerk and a payroll clerk. Since returning to the inspection department, she has worked as both a senior and a junior inspector.

She is a graduate of Holcomb High School and now lives with her husband Joel and their four- year - old son Jeffrey on Clarkton Route One.

Jones attends institute

Michael H. Jones, 701 Mimosa, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, recently attended the firms' field management institute at the home office in Omaha, Neb.

Included in the five- day seminar were courses covering various phases of agency management, such as training, supervision and recruiting.

To qualify for the institute, a representative must have completed the companies' basic training schools and achieved a high level of sales production.

Jones is associated with the Jack B. Williams Division Office, general agency for Mutual and United in Cape Girardeau.

Hirsch construction begins

DEXTER — Construction has begun on a new P. N. Hirsch Department Store to be located on Highway 114 West adjacent to Wal- Mart Discount Citv.

The building will be owned by Lewis Rogers, and Rogers Construction Co. will be the builder. Construction is scheduled for completion in July.

Lewis is regional manager

ATLANTA, Ga. — Michael R. Lewis was promoted April 1 to regional sales manager of the Southeastern region of Allied Chemical Corporation and is headquartered in Atlanta.

He was previously the assistant regional manager of Allied's mid-Atlantic region in Valley Forge, Pa.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Lewis of Miner, Mo.

He graduated from the Miner Grade School and was valedictorian of the 1951 graduating class at Sikeston High School. He graduated from University of Missouri - Columbia with a bachelor of arts degree in chemistry in 1955. He spent the next four years in the Navy with overseas service in Japan.

He joined Allied Chemical Corp. in the Industrial Chemicals Division, in 1960.

STILL NOT A CRIME WAVE

Kohlfield offers Old Milwaukee

CAPE GIRARDEAU — One of the nation's fastest growing major brands of beer was introduced last week in the Sikeston area. The product is Old Milwaukee, a popular priced beer from the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company.

Old Milwaukee's introduction was mapped at a meeting in Cape Girardeau between Schlitz Company officials from Milwaukee and representatives of Kohlfeld Distributing Inc., 110 Missouri Ave., Sikeston, wholesale firm for the brewery.

Leo Kohlfeld, operator of Kohlfeld Distributing, said consumers would be acquainted with Old Milwaukee through advertising and merchandising programs.

Kohlfeld said the Old Milwaukee brand is in distribution in all or parts of 40 states and currently is undergoing market expansion, including Sikeston.

Schlitz company officials from Milwaukee attending the introductory meeting included Thomas Erath, Old Milwaukee brand manager; Davis Morris, ad manager for the brand, and Ralph Gibson, Old Milwaukee merchandising manager.

Schlitz, the world's second largest brewing firm, had record sales volume in 1972 for the 11th consecutive year -- 18,906,000 barrels of beer -- and record gross sales of $779,359,000.

IBC cites loss in earnings

KANSAS CITY — Substantially higher operating costs without adequate price relief were cited today by Interstate Brands Corporation as cause of a loss in earnings for the first quarter of 1973.

For the 16 weeks ended April 21, the bakery-food firm reported a net loss of $642,031 compared with earnings of $800,130 for the same period a year ago. The loss of 28 cents per common share compares with earnings of 34 cents per commo share for first quarter 1972.

Net sales for the period were $86,976,702 compared with $85,912,703 for the like period last year.

Hart's Bakery is a subsidiary of Interstate Brands.

In commenting on the first quarter results, B. J. Hinkle, IBC's newly- elected president, said: "IBC suffered from a profit squeeze caused by rapidly rising wage and ingredient costs while the government continued tight controls on prices."

Hinkle also pointed out that "if it were not for the increase cost of flour alone, the company would not be reporting a loss for the first quarter."

To help counter the severe squeeze on profits, IBC has taken a number of steps to improve efficiencies. Cost reduction programs have been instituted at all levels -- plant, region and corporate headquarters.

"One encouraging factor is the construction progress of the new bread bakery at Glendale, Calif. -- slated to be the most modern of its kind in the industry -- which is scheduled for start- up this summer," he concluded.

Doctors honored

OSAGE BEACH — Dr. Eldon L. Loper of Dexter was recognized for more than 40 years of service to the optometric profession at recent Missouri Optometric Association Convention.

Honored for more than 25 years of service were Dr. Carl Oliver DeHoff of Couthersville, Dr. Rennato F. Guerra of Charleston, Dr. Joseph L. Mosley of Cape Girardeau and Dr. John T. Van Cleve of Poplar Bluff.

The National Spelling Bee, conducted by Scripps-Howard Newspapers and other newspapers since 1939, was instituted by the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal in 1925. The World Almanac says. Children under 16 years of age are eligible to compete for cash prizes and prize trips. Robin Kral, 14, of Lamesa, Tex., (sponsored by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal) was the 1972 champion.

Duncans attend seminar

Mr. and Mrs. W. Keith Duncan of Sikeston are shown arriving at the Southampton Princess Hotel in Bermuda for the Top Hatter portion of Kansas City Life Insurance Company's 1973 President's Club Seminar. The Top Hatter designation is awarded only to the company's top producers and is the highest company honor that an agent can receive. Only 68 of the company's more than 2,000 agents across the country qualified as Top Hatters.

SBA clarifies loan program

Focus On Business

ST. LOUIS — Gerald D. Jepson, deputy regional director of the U. S. Small Business Administration, Kansas City, has clarified SBA's disaster loan assistance program as it pertains to farmers in Missouri.

"Any farmer who lives in one of the 81 Missouri counties which have been declared disaster areas by President Nixon, and whose home has been damaged by the recent flooding disaster, may apply to SBA for a long-term, low-interest loan to repair or replace his home and personal property; that is, the contents of his home," Jepson explained.

"In addition," Jepson said, "a landlord who owns farm tenant dwellings that have been damaged by flood waters may apply to SBA for a business disaster loan to repair or replace these tenant homes. And, any tenant farmer whose residence has been flooded may apply to SBA for a personal property disaster loan to repair or replace his furniture, clothing and other household contents."

In essence, the situation is this: any Missouri farmer who is a disaster victim in one of the 81 disaster counties is currently eligible for the same SBA home, personal property and tenant real estate disaster loan assistance that SBA has provided to non=farm residents in the past. In other words, any Missouri disaster victim in one of the 81 counties, no matter what his occupation, can now apply to SBA for a home and personal property disaster loan.

Jepson said, "SBA disaster home loans may be made for as much as $50,000. Personal property loans may go up to $10,000. However, a combination home and personal property loan may not exceed a total of $55,000."

A landlord of farm tenant dwellings may apply to SBA for a business disaster loan to repair or replace these residential real estate structures. The landlord does not have to live in one of the 81 disaster counties, but the tenant homes, his business, must be located in one of those 81 counties.

SBA disaster business loans may not exceed $500,000.

Any Missouri flood victim who receives an SBA disaster loan or loans does not have to repay the first $5,000 of his or her loan, or his or her total loan package, as long as it is used to restore the victim's eligible property to its pre-disaster condition.

All such SBA disaster loans bear an interest rate of one per cent and may be made for a period of up to 30 years."

"In the past," Jepson noted, "SBA has not provided any type of disaster loan assistance to farmers, because federal disaster aid to farmers has traditionally been covered by the Farmers Home Administration and other divisions of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"However, SBA recently made an agreement with the FHA to extend the home and residence type SBA disaster aid I have just outlined to farmers, farm residents and landlords of farm homes in all disaster areas which have been declared by President Nixon since Dec. 27, 1972. Naturally, Missouri fall into this category."

Requests for federal financial assistance to repair, replace, or restore any other part of a farm (eroded soil, damaged crops, barns, farming equipment, etc.) must be discussed with representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"I want to emphasize that any SBA disaster loan is made for the amount of damaged property not covered by insurance," Jepson stated.

"We want very much to help the farm flood victim and let him know what kind of financial assistance we can provide him. We are working very closely with the Farmers Home Administration on our loans to farmers, particularly where FHA or Production Credit Association has outstanding liens. We want to work out a total financing package that will permit the farmer to continue to operate.

"The intent of our program," Jepson said, "Is to help the disaster victim cope with damage not covered by his insurance and to restore his property to pre-disaster condition as quickly as possible."

For further information, Missouri flood victims should phone this toll-free number: 1-800-392-3470."

Don't pump out basements too quickly

COLUMBIA—Persons returning to homes in flooded areas should not be in a hurry to pump water out of basements, cautions Richard E. Phillips, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

"Many homeowners in Missouri have never experienced flood conditions so severe as what we have had recently," Phillips said, "and may not be aware of the damage that can occur if a basement is pumped before the outside water table sinks."

Even after flood waters have receded below the ground level, there is often sufficient water in the ground surrounding a home that basement walls can collapse under the strain if the inside water is removed too soon, he said.

The pressure of water under the basement floor can also cause the floor to crack badly if water inside the basement is removed too soon.

"Basements aren't boats," said Phillips. "So don't pump water out of a flooded basement until the ground water table drops sufficiently to keep the basement walls and floor from cracking or collapsing.

Charge account interest is deductible

Many of us find it convenient to charge our purchases in stores and gas stations. The catch, of course, is having the money to pay the bills when they become due, or having to pay finance charges.

If you've had to pay finance charges on your revolving charge accounts, the Internal Revenue Service has some good news. You can deduct revolving charge account finance charges as interest on your income tax returns.

The IRS may ask you to prove you actually paid the interest you claimed as a deduction.

Senate OKs jobless fathers welfare bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Senate approved today a bill to allow an unemployed father to remain in the household while his family receives benefits under the aid to dependent children program.

The sponsor, Sen. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, said the bill contained a defect because it applied only to adopted children. He said he would have it amended in the House to include natural children.

Also passed was a bill to allow ADC benefits to a child or legal guardian if the child is without parental support.

The Senate passed a bill to allow state funds for regional planning commissions.

The money would be on a 5050 matching basis with local funds, but it provides that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council in St. Louis could not use such ,funds in connection with a proposed Illinois airport. ,

Tuesday, a bill to give state employes the right to bargain collectively got a hostile reception in the senate.

The senators voted 19-19 to prevent Sen. Donald Gralike, D-St. Louis, from discussing the bill when it came up on the calendar for action Tuesday.

After several senators objected, another vote was taken and Gralike was allowed to prevent the bill.

During the debate Tuesday, Gralike said some state employes are working full time but are "on welfare and getting food stamps."

The bill was laid over for consideration at a later date to allow time for copies to be made of a lengthy amendment that was offered.

In other action, a bill to exempt drugs from state sales tax and to give taxpayers credit for taxes paid on food was withdrawn after receiving stiff opposition and being weakened by an amendment.

Sen. John Schneider, D-Florissant, withdrew the bill after Sen. A. Clifford Jones, R-Brentwood, amended it to eliminate the provision for corporations to pay an increased tax to make up the revenue lost in the drug and food tax provisions.

House Appropriations Committee Chairman James "Jay" Russell, D-St. Louis, said he will submit a $70 million capital improvements bill to the committee with a $472,000 cut in funds for two state colleges.

Russell said $268,000 for Missouri Western College at St. Joseph and $204,000 for Missouri Southern College in Joplin, will be chopped from the bill because he thinks the appropriation might be illegal.

He said under state laws the two schools are required to finance capital improvements with local tax levies. He has asked for an opinion on the issue from the attorney general's office.

Russell also said a $750,000 emergency appropriations bill to pay the state's share in providing temporary housing for flood victims may be approved by the House early next week.

He said he would introduce the bill today.

Somebody moved the river

Close to the Matthews- East Prairie interchange is a sign advertising the nearness of one of the ferries that crosses the Mississippi River to Kentucky. Under normal conditions, that sign is about 20 miles or more from the ferry it advertises, but floodwaters have brought the sign and water together.

City won't collect fees on garbage

The city will not collect garbage disposal fees unless ordered to do so by the state, City Manager Jim Huff said today.

A representative of the state health department said in a solid waste disposal meeting in March that the health department might not approve Sikeston's waste disposal plans if the people who collect the garbage were the same ones who collect the fees.

The city then considered collecting the fees as part of the city utility bills.

The reasoning of the health department was that under law all garbage must be collected, and under the present setup, if a person does not pay his fee, the trash collector stops picking up his trash.

Huff said the city would face an enforcement problem in requiring everyone to have his trash hauled away. Under new environmental regulations, after June 30 all trash must be hauled in closed water tight vehicles to a sanitary landfill. Open burning is banned, as is open dumping.

A city ordinance, passed last month to comply with state regulations, will require all residents to subscribe to a waste disposal service. Huff told the planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday that the ordinance may be amended to allow people to haul away their own trash.

One way of enforcing the regulation without the city going into the business of collecting garbage disposal fees would be for the city to act on complaints filed against residents who did not have their garbage picked up.

Under that system, he said the city would give the violators one warning. If the warning went unheeded, the city would take the violators to court where they would be subject to a fine.

Helen Shy dies here at age 72

Helen Shy

Helen Cruchon Shy, 72, of 214 Daniel St. died at 9:27 p.m. Tuesday at her home following an extended illness.

She was born March 17, 1901 in New Madrid and was the daughter of the late David Isaac Cruchon and Wilhemina Elise Henze. On Sept. 6, 1919, she married Gordon Samuel Shy Sr., who preceded her in death on Dec. 10, 1939. She was born and reared in New Madrid, then moved to Sikeston in 1936 where she had remained. She was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and St. Ann Sodality.

Surviving are five sons, Gordon S. Shy Jr. of Chaffee, David R. Shy of Sikeston, Richard C. Shy of Cupertino, Calif., Lloyd R. Shy of Centralia, Ill., and Harold K. Shy of Columbia; two daughters, Miss Gwendolyn Shy and Mrs. Helen Marie Grady of Sikeston; one sister, Mrs. Louise Wilson of Kansas City; and 24 grandchildren and one great- granddaughter.

The body is at Nunnelee Funeral Chapel where friends may call after 5 p.m. today.

A prayer service will be conducted in the Nunnelee chapel at 7:30 p.m. today.

Funeral mass is scheduled at 10 a.m. Thursday in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church with the Rev. Robert Schumacher officiating.

Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery in New Madrid.

Pallbearers will be three grandsons, David Gordon Shy, Gregory Shy and Lynn Shy, and nephews Jack Lewis, Ralph Lewis and Tommy Young.

Charleston bond issue approved

CHARLESTON— A light turnout of voters Tuesday approved a $125,000 revenue bond issue for water system improvements and a proposal for the annexation of three areas to the city limits.

The bond issue received 156 votes in favor of the measure and 72 against, including one absentee ballot. A total of 188 persons, including one absentee ballot, voted for annexation, and 39 voted against the proposal.

The $125,000 bond issue, along with federal and Ozark Regional Planning Commission grants totaling $290,000 will be used to install new equipment at the water treatment plant to improve the quality of the water. New loops in the water main will also be installed to provide more water and better water pressure throughout the city.

The three areas annexed include one section along the west side of North Main Road and north of Goodin Avenue. The second section is along South Main Street to Interstate 57. The third area is on the east approach to the city to the new Interstate 57 overpass now under construction.

City to spend $117,000 for airport project

A number of people apparently misread an article in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard relating to funds to be spent at Sikeston Memorial Airport.

City Manager Jim Huff said he has received telephone calls from people who misread the article to mean the city is going to spend $117,000 on the first phase of the project. The $117,000 is the total the city will spend on both phases of the project.

Sikeston will put up about $52,000 for the first phase, including $10,000 from the airport fund, Huff said. The second phase of the project will cost the city between $65,000 and $75,000, if the city council approves, according to Huff.

The remainder of the funds for the $425,000 project are being provided by Ozark Regional Planning Commission, Federal Aviation Administration and the state.

Cline explains teacher bill

State Rep. C. F. Cline, 159th District Democrat, said today that many people have apparently misunderstood legislative action taken on the teachers retirement system and funding for the University of Missouri Extension Service.

Cline said the teachers retirement system has been placed under the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. He added that it remains intact with its own staff and board of directors.

Under the original reorganization bill, the system was assigned to the Office of Administration. Cline said teachers didn't want the system in that office.

He said hundreds of letters and telephone calls have been received on the matter and that he wanted to reassure teachers that their retirement system has been placed in the elementary and secondary education department.

Cline said also that $3 million has not been cut from the University of Missouri Extension Service, as many people believe. Cline said the cut was only a recommendation of the Senate Appropriations Committee and has not been acted upon by the whole Senate.

Cline added that the House of Representatives has voted to fund the extension service in full. If the Senate should approve the cuts, Cline said the bill would be returned to the House for further action.

Rep. James Russell of St. Louis assured Cline that the money will be restored if the bill returns to the House.

Cline said he expected the Senate to act on the bill sometime this week.

Keller heads commission

Ira Keller was elected chairman of the Sikeston Planning and Zoning Commission at Tuesday night's meeting, his first since the City Council returned him to the commission earlier this month.

Keller previously was named chairman when the commission was founded in 1953 and served in that capacity until February 1972 when he resigned because of ill health. Keller has now recovered sufficiently from throat surgery to resume his work with the planning commission.

In the only other action considered by the commission Tuesday night, a proposal for a trailer court on the Bea Pegues property, 228 Westgate, was tabled.

Bike safety rodeo set

A bicycle rodeo will be held Saturday on the Bank of Sikeston parking lot, it was announced today by Safety Officer Richard Couch of the Sikeston Police department.

The rodeo is sponsored by Sikeston Optimist Club, University of Missouri Extension Center, the police department, auxiliary police and police cadets.

Couch said the rodeo is designed to promote greater safety practices, among bike riders, and to let them exhibit their skills in maneuvering their bicycles. Police will serve as judges during the rodeo.

A drawing will be held and a bicycle will be given away Couch said. Contestants must be present to win.

Tests arranged for the contestants include a physical checkup for the correct equipment, such as a headlight, bell or horn, good brakes, rear reflector, well-adjusted and tightened seat and handlebars and correctly inflated tires.

Events to be held during the rodeo include crossing a busy street, weaving, left and right turns, straight line riding, balancing, turning curves and turning a figure eight.

Rodeo rules limit competition to contestants between 6 and 13 years old and require contestants to stop for all stop signs, signal for all turns and stops and walk their bicycles across busy streets.

Area bicycle dealers will have new bicycles on display at the rodeo.

County food stamp sign up set next week

All Scott Countians, who receive a welfare check and are interested in registering for Food Stamps, may come to the Scott County Welfare Department office, 312 E. Center St. next week to sign up, Mrs. Cathleen Gipson, county welfare director, announced today.

Registration will be handled as follows:

Monday, persons whose names begin with A, B, C, D.

Tuesday, persons whose names begin with E, F, G, H.

Wednesday, persons whose names begin with I, J, K, L, M.

Thursday, persons whose names begin with N, O, P, Q, R, S.

Friday, persons whose names begin with T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

Course offered

Everything from potholes to complete breakdown of streets and roads has resulted from the wet conditions in the Bootheel area. To help correct these conditions, a three- session short course, Street and Road Construction and Maintenance, will begin at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Vocational Education Building at Sikeston High School, 200 Pine St.

The three sessions will meet at 1 p.m. on May 22, May 29 and June 5.

Frank J. Capek of the Civil Engineering School at University of Missouri—Rolla will be the instructor.

The course is sponsored by the University of Missouri Extension Division and the City of Sikeston.

Retailers invited to food stamp meeting

Food retailers interested in participating in the Food Stamp Program are invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Security National Bank community room, 625 N. Main St.

The program is sponsored by the Food and Nutrition Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Retailers may not accept food coupons unless they receive an official Food Stamp Program authorization from the agriculture department. Retailers who do not attend the meeting will probably have their authorization delayed, according to Ralph Cutter, officer in charge of the program.

The Food Stamp Program is designed to provide more food and better balanced diet to needy families and enlarge the domestic market for farm surpluses.

The program requires that this additional food be supplied through regular food trade distribution channels.

Wright to take mental test

NEW MADRID— Bruce Joseph Wright, 16, of Portageville, charged with murder in the shooting death of March 31 of Larry Allen Williams, 16, of Portageville and burglary and stealing at the home of Herbert Cummings, was transferred Tuesday to State Hospital No. One in Fulton for psychiatric examinations.

The mental tests were ordered by Circuit Judge William H. Ragland upon motion by prosecuting attorney Hal E. Hunter Jr.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

People can always find opportunities to act foolish, talk too much and get into trouble.

* * *

Richard Nixon and his crew of purer- than-anybody else administrative assistants have really messed up this country with the Watergate. I guess that poor old Richard didn't know anything about it, in a pig's eye. We hope the fellows who resigned or the fellows who got fired at least will keep their mouths shut and keep the President still so that he can go before the television and exhort everybody to be pure and to not pay to much attention to the Watergate.

HOME-BUYING MANIA

Chances are the nation's realtors will find little time this year to observe National Realtor Week, which begins Sunday, May 20. They'll have their hands full attempting to their work of acting as go-betweens in the transfer of real estate. Spring traditionally is a busy season in the private housing market and this year's may be one of the busiest ever. For a variety of reasons, people all over the country are rushing to buy houses, and price seemingly is no object.

Rising land, labor, and materials cost have pushed the price of new housing sharply upward. But instead of discouraging buyers, the inflationary trend seems only to egg them on. Many of those looking for a house to buy are convinced that prices are bound to increase further and that higher mortgage interest rates are inevitable. They probably are right. Philip C. Jackson Jr. of the Jackson Company, Birmingham, Ala., warns (U. S. News & World Report, May 14, 1973): "There is a real threat that if money continues to move out of thrift institutions, we may run out of money for home mortgages at any price."

Burgeoning "no growth" sentiment in many areas of the country also contributes to the current house-buying mania. Housing construction in some parts of suburban Washington, D. C., for example, has been hampered by a moratorium on new sewer connections. And residents of certain partially developed areas have expressed hostility toward new housing tracts that would increase traffic and school congestion -- and, eventually, taxes.

The buyer of a new home -- especially if it is his first -- expects it to be trouble- free. Such is not always the case. Complaints about shoddy workmanship have reached the point where consumer advocate Ralph Nader can assert that, "The housing issue is going to be in the Seventies what the auto issue was in the Sixties. There is no question about it, no question at all." Nader favors the creation of "a government- owned agency, completely independent of private industry, to test and certify building products and techniques, to experiment with new construction methods, and to establish a national building code to be adopted by any local government requesting federal funds." A worthy proposal, to be sure. But operating on the assumption that quality exacts a price of its own, the Nader plan probably would put housing costs even farther out of sight if it were adopted.

All of us can profit by occasionally taking a moment out of our busy life for quiet reflection on our state of being. What is our life's purpose? Are we making progress toward achieving this purpose each day as it slips by us never to be recaptured?

Have we lose sight of the fact that we must live our life one day at a time? Do we tend to repudiate today's realities and embrace tomorrow's speculations, settling for some sort of dream world of the future? Are we living out today in disillusion, dreaming of a better life, a better love, a better job?

The full value of life's experience is within the grasp of everyone who learns to live today to the hilt and make it a pattern for tomorrow.

If what we do, each and every day we do it, isn't fun and a fulfilling experience, it may be time to begin a soul searching audit. We have only to look around us to see those who are making progress toward achieving her life's purpose. Such people are to be found at all levels of endeavor and financial reward. Achievement and frustration are often but a desk apart, a machine apart.

Let us live each day as though this is our life.

Columnist Victor Lasky points out that all of a sudden Washington D. C.'s liberals are discovering good things to say about the late J. Edgar Hoover.

Of course, his having departed this vale of tears may have something to do with their newborn affection.

But, more likely, liberal spokesmen have decided to cash in on the late FBI director's reputation for nonpartisanship as a weapon with which they struck out at L. Patrick Gray (who has withdrawn his name as Nixon's nominee) and any other nominee for the job.

For instance, the New York Times, which hated Hoover's guts while he was alive, contended that "at issue" in Gray's confirmation hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee "are the ndependence ad integrity of the FBI as well as the capacity and will of its director to act as a shield against any political penetration of the bureau's activities."

The Times' assumption appears to be that, until Patrick Gray came along, the FBI had been a paragon of virtue. But that's not what the Times had been saying prior to Mr. Hoover's death last May. Almost without letup over a period of many years, the Times editorially denounced Hoover and, at one point, even called for his resignation.

Even more astonishing was Jack Anderson's testimony before the Senate committee in which the columnist called for Gray's rejection. "No serious person ever accused Hoover of running a political police force," said Anderson.

Then Anderson couldn't have been "serious" when, over the years, he ran column after column which accused J. Edgar Hoover of "running a political police force." In fact, the week Anderson testified he published a column which alleged that, among other things, Hoover's 47- year tenute as FBI chief was provided confidential information on pending cases, including even the most politically sensitive.

And who can forget the vicious attack on Hoover and the FBI leveled by the late Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana? Where were those senators when Boggs publicly proclaimed that the FBI had tapped the phones of members of Congress.

The senators currently praising Hoover were absolutely silent when the press and electronic media gave favorable coverage to Boggs' phoney allegation.

CBS commentator Eric Sevareid, for example, not only praised Boggs but suggested that the FBI was a menace to American freedom. Life magazine published a cover bust of Hoover as Julius Caesar as well as a two- page assessment of the director by Tom Wicker who, in the New York Times, had exhorted students to "engage in civil disobedience of all kinds."

The fact that Boggs was never able to produce any evidence to back-up his charges was given minimal attention by the media.

As Victor Lasky says, the point is that J. Edgar Hoover is now being canonized by the very people who despised and carped at him when he was alive. The motivation is obvious. And so is the hypocrisy.

NOMINATE MEREDITH

When James H. Meredith was sworn in as a United States District Judge in 1962, the new robe was placed on his shoulders by Judge Marion C. Matthes of the 8th United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Meredith has worn that robe with distinction.

Now that Judge Matthes has announced he will retire from regular service on July 14, the man who should succeed him is Judge Meredith. His 11 years on the federal bench have proven him a distinguished jurist worthy of nomination by President Nixon to the equally distinguished Court of Appeals.

Before Judge Meredith's original appointment, a few less- than - objective critics opposed him because of his success in Democratic politics. The Globe- Democrat said then that such criticism was unjust and that Judge Meredith's political capabilities "obscure Mr. Meredith's very real legal talents. He is thoroughly qualified to ascend to the federal bench." Judge Meredith's devotion to the principles of justice and his prestigious record have confirmed that opinion.

The Globe- Democrat has long espoused a return to a strict constructionist policy in the federal courts and we have been much encouraged by President Nixon's appointments to the United States Supreme Court. It is vital for this Republic that strict constructionists also be appointed to the Court of Appeals here so it can continue the fine traditions of such jurists as Judge Matthes.

Retirement of Judge Matthes demands appointment of a judge who will interpret laws as it exists and not allow social conditions to dictate or override the law. Judge Meredith would provide such a voice. His nomination is imperative.

13 SURE WAYS TO RUN HOMETOWN

The El Dorado (Kas.) Times has published the following item to which they add, "If these 13 steps don't ruin your town, it isn't your fault." Here they are:

1. Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because streets are not kept up.

2. Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside and then cust those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

3. Get all the city will give, and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax money.

4. Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for your city unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

5. Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker.

6. Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a better town, howl because that town is run by a clique.

7. Don't back your fire department. Don't thank them for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment, raise cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking laws.

8. Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one that gets the most good out of it, vote against it. Never consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

9. Don't do anything for the youth of your town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

10. If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude, and talk down everything they say.

11. Don't work on any committees. Tell them, "I'm too busy."

12. Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point up its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in the fire department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

13. And don't support your local stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores in other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask your local stores. Expect them to back, but don't back them.

TEAMSTERS BOSS SHOULD HAVE KNOWN BETTER

One of the more common questions asked by those who would discredit Right to Work is, "If so many union members oppose compulsory unionism, how come they don't say so?" Frank Fitzsimmons, President of the Teamsters union, has supplied the answer. They don't dare.

Recently, we shared with you the story of Albuquerque Teamster official Velton FF. Clark, who was so sure of the democratic nature of his union, and so eager to have the New Mexico legilsature enact a Right to Work law similar to the one of his native Arizona, that he wrote to every state lawmaker asking support for the voluntary union proposal pending in the legislature.

We sadly must report this cost Clark his job.

Clark's opinion didn't sit too well with the entrenched bosses who rule the International Teamsters in Washington, nor with the lesser big bosses who rule the New Mexico Teamsters. After all, they must have thought, "How dare this so - and - so advocate a law which would make us work for a living when we can take a free ride under the present set up?"

Not only was Clark fired from his $22,000 - a - year job as Administrator of Albuquerque Local 492, he was also unceremoniously stripped of an elected post as Secretary - Treasurer (and a salaried post as Business Agent) of the Tucson, Ariz., local from which he had taken a temporary leave of absence in order to set the New Mexico local back on its feet.

What happened to Clark, of course, is the very reason working men and women in America need the protection of a National Right to Work law an;precisely why more union members and officials don't speak up in favor of Right to Work. They know the consequences!

In a newspaper interview prior to his firing, by none other than Frank Fitzsimmons, Teamster President, Clark point out his belief in Right to Work is based on his first- hand knowledge of how well the law has work in Arizona, and that "probably 70 to 80 per cent of the people I service down there (in Arizona) share my feelings."

"... Too many people have forgotten what a union is for: To serve its membership. Involuntary unionism means a captive membership, and a captive membership doesn't have much choice as to how a union's affairs are run."

As Clark wrote the lawmakers, "where Right to Work laws exist and individual employees have a choice, the unions, through their elective and appointed officials, business agents and other representatives, have to get off their duffs and do a better job representing their members than is the case in a state ... which does not have a Right to Work law, and the unions don't have to produce results and satisfaction to their members to be able to voluntarily attract their membership and financial support."

In the eyes of the Teamsters union heirarchy, Clark overstepped his bounds by exercising his right as a free American citizen to express an opinion.

This particular case gives us good cause of reflection. Because if the big bosses are willing and able to exercise such iron- fisted control over a man like Clark, a fellow with considerable savvy and an understanding of the union machine, imagine the control theyyxert over the individual rank - and- file member.

There's no mystery involved in the failure of greater numbers of union members to voice their opinions against compulsory unionsim. They know better.

THE 22ND AMENDMENT

The constitutional process of a free Republic are probably the ultimate in achievement of man in his march toward that high plateau of civilization. The Magna Carta of the English represented a long stride forward in establishing freedom and preserving the dignity of individuals. The men and women who founded this nation accomplished even more. They laid down for history and the people who would live under it a magnificent plan for personal liberty and a government that would work for the people.

From time to time, challenges to that liberty and that government have emerged, but fortunately there were provisions for amending the U.S. Constitution to deal with them. On one wanted a President to own the White House. That fine old residence belonged to the people. It still does, thanks to the 22nd No Third Term Amendment to the Constitution.

Rotating occupancy was threatened for awhile, but sentiment began to grow in the late 1940s to limit the tenure of a President. The Congress, in all its wisdom, offered a Constitutional amendment to the people and it was shortly after the decade of the 1950s began that I entered the fight to get the approval of the states. The issue was clear. Should one man be eligible to serve more than two elective terms--- a total of eight years? The fight was not an easy one. I threw all of my energies into the campaign, which at times seemed like a long fight with a short stick. Fortunately, the legislators who represented the people in the various states saw the dangers of a possible dictator in the future and the 22nd Amendment, prohibiting a third term, was passed. We must be vigilant in protecting this safeguard to our freedom. HLH

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you have too many friends?

Most of us feel we could use a few more. But now and then we meet someone who, perhaps because of a gathering feeling of misanthropy or because he has too many credit cards, decides his garden of friendship has become overcrowded and is threatening to choke him with palship.

His solution is simple. All he has to do is weed out that garden.

How? Well, one way is to put a burr in the glad hand of his fellowship.

Here are a few time- tested remarks that have broken up many lifelong friendships:

"I don't see why you should be having any trouble with your teen- age children. Our two are perfectly well-behaved. Often, in cases like yours, they come about because the parents simply don't make the necessary effort to understand their children."

"I could lend you the money, but I'm not going to because I am convinced I'd be doing you more harm than good."

"If I were you, buddy, I'd start right now looking for another place to hang my hat. The boss has tipped me confidentially that he wants me to take over your job next month."

"Your wife wants me to run off with her, but I've decided against it. When have you ever done that big a favor for me."

"My mother- in- law is staying with us for a month. What weekend can we park the old bag with you. She'd love to show you her album of childhood pictures of all the presidents. The only one missing is Millard Fillmore."

"I'd love to lend you my new car in a year or so, Joe. But right now I don't want to get any dents in it."

"I didn't insinuate that you cheat at poker during any of the games we've been playing at your house. I just said I'd never heard of anyone winning so consistently who didn't use marked cards. What's wrong about saying that?"

"I guess our families won't be seeing so much of each other from now on, Jim. My wife just inherited some money. It isn't a lot — but just enough so that my wife feels we should move up a little socially."

"Now and then I get the feeling I'd rather have you as an enemy than a friend, Fred. Thay way I'd know for sure just where you stood."

"Yes, we ought to get together for a luch as soon as possible, old boy. My calendar is pretty tight through August 1975. But call me up anytime after that, and we'll see if we can't find a day when we're both free."

"Glad to hear your pretty daughter married so well. Whatever happened to the homely one — the one who looks like your side of the family?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Nixon's First Watergate: Broke Into Dean's Office

WASHINGTON — During the summer of '36, Richard Nixon knew his grades at Duke Law School had slipped. He needed high grades to keep his scholarship, which paid the tuition he could never otherwise afford.

"I'm scared," he confided to an upperclassman. "I counted 32 Phi Beta Kappa keys in my class. I don't believe I can stay up top in that group."

Typically, Nixon studied hard. But he also broke into the dean's office along with two roommates, to find out their academic standing. A Duke Law School official told us such a break-in today would "surely" be grounds for disciplinary action and possible expulsion.

Nixon's accomplices were Fred Albrink, now a real estate lawyer in Norfolk, Va., and Bill Perdue, a corporate executive in New York City. As Albrink recalls, "Dick grabbed one of Perdue's legs and I grabbed the other, and the two of us sort of boosted Perdue thrugh the transom of the dean's office door."

SQUEEZED WAY IN

Perdue was chosen because he was "the only one thin enough to squeeze through the transom," said Albrink. Once inside, Perdue found a key in a secretary's desk drawer and let his two associates inside.

"We didn't steal anything," said Albrink. "We just wanted to find out our grades."

Nixon confirmed that he had dropped from his thirdplace class standing but had not lost his scholarship. He worked to improve his grades and graduated third in his class.

The opportunity to run for Congress came to Nixon while he was awaiting discharge from the Navy. He was a Navy lawyer renegotiating Navy contracts in Baltimore. He was so eager for a crack at Congress that he borrowed $150 from the manager of the Erco Company, whose naval contract he was renegotiating, for the plane fare to California. Nixon won the Republican nomination and the Erco Company got a refund from the Navy.

NIXON TACTICS

By his own admission, Nixon ran a "fighting, rocking, socking" campaign. He portrayed his Democratic opponent, Jerry Vooris, a staunch anti- Communist, as "soft on Communism." Later, Nixon used similar tactics in his race for the Senate against Helen Gahagan Douglas.

As the vice presidential nominee in 1952, Nixon threatened to use the Red smear brush on the late Drew Pearson if he wrote a story about the $18,000 slush fund businessmen had raised to pay Nixon's expenses while he was a senator. The warning from Nixon was phoned to me by Bill Rogers, now secretary of state, from the Nixon campaign train.

I passed on the message to Pearson, who replied quietly: "All right, I'll change the story. I'll make it stronger."

Both Nixon and his disciple, H. R. Haldeman, were denounced from the bench for their tactics in the 1962 campaign for the governorship of California. In a biting commentary on Nixon's political methods, the late Adlai Stevenson described "Nixonland" as a "land of slander and scare, of sly innuendo, of a poison pen, the anonymous phone call and hustling, pushing, shoving -- the land of smash and grab and anything to win."

LED THE WAY

Out of this background, President Nixon set the style that led to the Watergate horror. However, we have spent several days talking to White House aides and Watergate investigators alike. We have also had access to the grand jury findings. At this writing, there is no evidence implicating the President in the Watergate crimes.

Not a single witness, so far as we can learn, has offered any testimony that would incriminate the President in the actual Waterbugging. On the contrary, our White House sources have assured us he stayed aloof from the dirty work of his subordinates.

They say the Watergate break-in and bugging came as a shock to him, and he responded with a profane outburst against the culprits. His anger over the stupidity of the Watergate foolishness, suggest our sources, had an intimidating effect on his aides. This may explain why they frantically attempted to cover up their tracks even from him.

As for the spying - sabotage campaign against the Democrats, however, our sources acknowledge that the President not only knew about it but approved it. He grew up in the Murray Chotiner school of politics. "If you do not deflate the opposition candidate before your own campaign gets started," Chotiner preached, "the odds are you are going to be doomed to defeat."

TUCK-TYPE TACTICS

One source recalls that the President referred at political strategy sessions to "a Dick Tuck operation." Tuck was an irrepressible Democratic operative who used to play political pranks on Nixon. Once he dressed in a trainman's uniform and signaled Nixon's campaign train to leave while the candidate was in the middle of a rear- platform speech.

This was the sort of sabotage, says White House sources, that the President had in mind. But to the humorless men around Nixon, Dick Tuck became Niccolo Machiavelli.

The President has a vindictive streak that may also have encouraged the excesses of his aides. A former cabinet member told us that the President, in pantomime, once plunged an imaginary knife into an opponent. "After you get the knife in," said the President gleefully, "you twist it." And he gave his wrist a twist to illustrate.

One thing all his close associated agree on: Richard Nixon is not a quitter. Talk of impeachment or pressure to resign is more likely to increase his determination to stay in the White House.

Sikeston Sectional Center achieves high postal rating

Sikeston was one of 117 Sectional Center facilities in the 13-state central region of the U. S. Postal Service that attained 95 per cent or higher on overnight delivery of first class mail during the two-week span ending April 27, Don Pasaka, sectional center postmaster, said today.

The Sikeston sectional center is comprised of 52 Southeast Missouri cities.

"Mail service definitely has recovered from the post-Christmas slump," Pasaka said. "Weekly complaints received at Postal Service headquarters in Washington have dropped 70 per cent since a mid-January high."

Next day delivery of first-class mail within designated areas has returned to 95 per cent nationally, according to U. S. Postal Service Origin / Destination Information System (ODIS) measurement. This is the same level as a year ago.

By comparison, Pasaka said the Postal Service's next-day delivery standards were being met only 69 per cent of the time during the worst period in January. Service began to improve by February and, for the period February 2 to March 2, the next day delivery standards rose to 93 per cent, but were still two per cent below the 1972 level," he said.

In Chicago, regional postmaster general Clarence B. Gels said that the central region of the U. S. Postal Service achieved an overall 95 per cent record for next day delivery during the two-week span ending April 27.

The survey revealed that 15 of 25 districts in the region scored 95 per cent or higher, and the highest score, 98, was shared by four districts, Fargo, Omaha, Sioux Falls and Wichita.

Other districts recording 95 per cent or better were Minneapolis - St. Paul, Cleveland, Columbus, St. Louis, Akron, Des Moines, Evansville, Louisville, Madison, Springfield Ill., and Springfield, Mo.

Swink suspended for misconduct

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge J. O. Swink, 67, Farmington, has been suspended by the Missouri Supreme Court for 30 days without pay for misconduct.

The court's ruling Tuesday followed a recommendation by the State Commission on Retirement, Removal and Discipline of Judges last month that Swink be suspended for 30 days.

The six-member commission found that Swink misused funds, requested for a library that did not exist, to air condition his office and other offices in the St. Francois County courthouse.

The commission also found Swink guilty of falsely accusing the local prosecuting attorney, Stanley M. Murphy, of misappropriating $50 and trying to influence highway patrolmen to dismiss a ticket to his court reporter for careless driving.

The commission said Swink called the prosecutor "Pinhead Murphy" and other names.

2 men held on felony charges

NEW MADRID — Magistrate Judge Leo Hedgepeth has ordered two men held for Circuit Court action on felony charges and set preliminary hearings for four others charged with felonies.

Jerry Wayne Ueltzen, 19, of St. Louis was bound over to Circuit Court under $5,000 bond following preliminary hearing on felonious assault charge. He is accused of firing a .410 gauge shotgun on April 28 at highway patrolman R. L. Ryan after Ryan stopped a car in which Ueltzen was a passenger. Ryan was not injured.

Henry Burrow of Lilbourn waived preliminary hearing on charge of breaking and entering the home of Carolyn Thomas on May 4 with intent to rape and ravish her. He is in jail under $500 bond.

Four Portageville men requested preliminary hearings on felony charges involving the sale and purchase of a .22-caliber revolver without permits.

The gun is reportedly one stolen in a breakin of the Herbert Cummings home in Portageville on March 31 and allegedly is the murder weapon used in the shooting death the same night of Larry Allen Williams, 16, of Portageville.

June 5 was set for hearings for Jimmy Dale Bridges, Houston Lafferty and Lotus Ray Cantrell. Bridges is charged with selling the revolver in September 1972 without a permit to Houston Lafferty. Lafferty is charged with purchasing the gun without a permit; and Cantrell is charged with purchasing the gun from Lafferty without a permit.

Herbert Cummings is to appear June 6 for hearing on a charge of purchasing the gun without a permit from Cantrell.

Each of the men posted $500 appearance bonds.

Larry Lee Tindle of Lilbourn was levied $175 fine and costs on charges of driving while intoxicated and supplying intoxicating beer to minors. He was given a six-month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for one year.

James Alexander Bradley of Marston was fined $125, given a six-month suspended jail sentence, placed on probation for one year and his driver's license was suspended for one year when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated.

Herbert Scott Burton of Morley drew the same punishment on a driving while intoxicated charge.

John Slayton Randolph of Gideon, charged with possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana and improper parking, was assessed $125, given six-month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for one year. Charged with possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana, Stanley James Mock of Gideon received the same fine and sentence.

Daniel David Matthews of Lilbourn and George Walter Holland of Sikeston, each charged with illegal possession of intoxicants in separate cases, were fined $75 each, given six-month suspended jail sentences and placed on probation for six months.

W. M. Cochrane of Portageville received 30 days in jail and $50 fine on a charge of public intoxication.

Other cases and dispositions:

Faye Wheeler, cheat and defraud, $30 fine and ordered to make restitution on check; Gary Donald Martin, operating vehicle with no trailer license, $20 fine; Wiley Lee Bell, no operator license, $20 fine; Quaker Enterprises, no Missouri pro-rate or reciprocity cab card, $20 fine; Commercial Transport, no Missouri pro-rate or reciprocity cab card, $20 fine.

Henry Lee Stradford, speeding, $32 fine; James Walker, careless and imprudent driving, $50 fine; and Danny Lee Sweatt forfeited $100 bond on careless and imprudent driving by failure to stop for red light and operating vehicle with no operator license.

A cheat and defraud charge against Steven Barker was dismissed upon payment of $25 court costs.

In civil suits, St. Louis Auto Employes Credit Union was awarded $1,055 judgment against Alvin Leon Robison and Household Finance Corporation received $1,292.25 judgment against Howard D. Powell.

Assistance available for facility damage

Col. James H. Bash, co-ordinator of the State Disaster Operations Office of the adjutant general, announced today that six area offices have been established throughout Missouri for the purpose of assisting political subdivisions in the preparations of damage claims to public facilities such as sewers, streets, public buildings and other publicly owned facilities.

These six area offices, staffed by Disaster Operations Office personnel, are to co-ordinate assistance to the 82 counties declared disaster areas by President Richard M. Nixon.

Southeast area office has been set up at 310 Highway 61 East in Jackson with David A. Williams, co-ordinator. The telephone number is 314-243-2434. The 13 counties in that area are Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Dunklin, New Madrid, Mississippi, Pemiscot, Perry, Reynolds, Ste. Genevieve, Scott, Stoddard and Wayne.

Other offices are in Columbia, St. Louis, Hannibal, St. Joseph and Springfield.

Bash said public officials in these political subdivisions have questions about disaster damages should contact the nearest office for assistance and information.

Van de Ven-Bucher vows

LUTESVILLE — Before an altar adorned with lilies and ferns, Miss Margaret A. Van deVen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Van deVen of Lutesville, became the bride of Francis X. Bucher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bucher of Oran, at St. John's Catholic Church in Leopold April 28.

The double- ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. Eckhoff. Organist was Miss Pamela Jansen of Leopold, and the St. John's girls choir sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over bridal satin with a Venise lace bodice and lace appliques on the sheer skirt and train. A lace cap held her full, layered veil, and she carried a cascade of white carnations and blue- tinted pompons with long white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Delia of St. Louis, cousin of the bride, and attendants were Miss Joyce Bucher of Oran, sister of the groom, and Miss Catherine Jansen of Leopold.

They wore light blue crepe gowns with embroidered empire bodices and long sheer sleeves. Each carried three, long- stemmed, blue and white carnations with streamers.

Best man was Wilfred Bucher of Oran, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Roy Van deVen, brother of the bride, and Robert Westrich of New Hamburg.

Ushers were Denis Bucher of Oran, another brother of the groom, and Roger Van deVen, cousin of the bride.

A reception with a supper and dance followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Serving were Miss Sandy Elfrink, Miss Deborah Elfrink, Miss Cathy Peters and Miss Glenda Beel. Miss Maryann Bucher, sister of the groom, was at the guest book.

Mrs. Bucher is a 1972 graduate of Leopold High School and attended Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau. She was employed at Kent Library on the university campus. Bucher, a 1970 graduate of Oran High School, attended SeMo State and is a computer operator in the Army.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will live at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Bowman-Perman

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Col. John Webster Bowman, USMC (retired), and Mrs. Bowman announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Hempstone Bowman to Dennis Paul Perman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Perman of Lodi, N.J.

Miss Bowman is the granddaughter of Lee Reed Bowman and the late Mrs. Bowman, and the great-granddaughter of the late Judge and Mrs. W. C. Bowman and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cox, all of Sikeston. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Smith Hempstone of Washington and the late Capt. Hempstone, USN (retired).

Her great- grandfather was the late Theodore W. Noyes, editor- publisher of the Washington Star for over 50 years. Miss Bowman's father is manager of engineering for the Washington Star broadcasting stations and affiliates.

The bride- elect attended the Holton- Arms School in Washington and graduated from Miss Porter's School of Farmington, Conn., and from Randolph- Macon Woman's College of Lynchburg, Va. She is employed as an assistant buyer by Woodward and Lothrop, a chain of large department stores in metropolitan Washington.

Perman earned a degree in marketing from Seton Hall University of Orange, N. J., and is employed by Woodward and Lothrop as a divisional supervisor. He served in the Air Force from 1966 to 1970 as an inventory management specialist in Texas, North Dakota and South Korea.

An August wedding in Washington is planned.

STATISTICS TO BUG YOU

CHICAGO (AP) — If two of the flies that mated in April 1973 and all their offspring and their offspring's descendants survived and mated, there would be approximately 191,010,000,000 more flies to contend with in mid-July 1973, according to Velsicol Chemical Corp., manufacturer of pesticides.

Shirley Holmes

Holmes-Wolfe

ORAN — Mr. and Mrs. Willis Holmes announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Shirley Catherine to Dana Franklin Wolfe of Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wolfe.

Miss Holmes is a 1971 graduate of Oran High School and is a sales secretary with Caproco, Inc. in Sikeston and is a part-time beauty consultant.

Wolfe, a 1971 graduate of Chaffee High School, is employed by Florsheim Shoe Co. in Chaffee.

The couple will be married June 30 at First United Methodist Church in Chaffee.

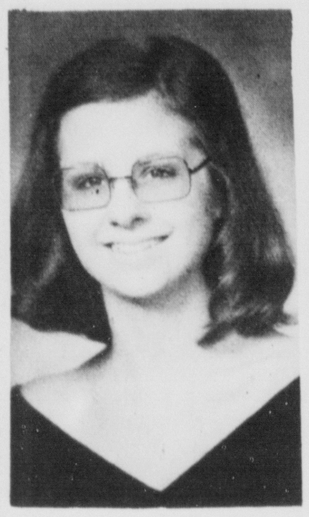
Hatley-Hammon

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haltey, 212 Selma St., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Karen Elizabeth to Charles Gordon Hammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammon of Route Four.

Miss Hatley will graduate Monday from Sikeston High School.

Hammon, who attended Sikeston High School and completed his education in the Army, is employed by Asplundh Tree Trimming Experts, based in Pennsylvania. He is a Vietnam veteran.

The wedding will take place June 23 at First Christian Church.



Karen Hatley

Garrison-Childers

VANDUSER — Mrs. Clara Garrison announces the engagement of her daughter Sybil Ann to Michael D. Childers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Childers of Wolf Island. Miss Garrison is the daughter of the late C. C. Garrison.

The bride- elect is a senior at Scott County Central High School and an employe of Cee Jays Restaurant in Matthews.

Childers, a 1967 graduate of Bernie High School, is a staff sergeant in the Air Force stationed at Blytheville Air Force Base at Blytheville, Ark.

The couple will be married June 9 at 8 p.m. in Christ Gospel Church, 717 Kendall St. in Sikeston.

Beauty contest canceled

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — The "Queen of the Snows" beauty contest, a highlight of Dartmouth College's annual Winter Carnival, is dead at age 43.

A changing attitude toward the role of women in contemporary society and the growing lack of interest in support for such contests at the formerly all-male Ivy League school were blamed for the end of the competition.

George D. Ritcheske, chairman of the Winter Carnival Council that staged the 63rd edition this year, said "Prevailing attitudes, both at Dartmouth and throughout the country, indicates that contests which stress beauty as the primary or only criterion no longer have the widespread popularity or support they once enjoyed."

The Carnival Council polled leading representatives of student and social groups on campus before making its decision.

"The consensus among these groups was that the contest, as it is presently set up and operated, has outlived its usefulness," Ritcheske explained.

The carnival chairman added that the passing of the "Queen of Snows" beauty pageant now opens the door to some newer and more meaningful contest in the coming years.

Recovery, Inc. helps young mothers control bad emotions

Dear Ann Landers: With so much being said and written these days about battered children, may I add my two cents worth?

I am a mother who used to get so angry with my children I'd beat them black and blue. My six- year- old was on drugs for a nervous condition. We were both under psychiatric care. I begged my doctor to help me be a better mother. His advice was, "Control yourself! Don't lose your temper."

This went on for over a year. Then a friend told me about Recovery, Inc. Two months after I attended my first meeting I was able to control my impulses.

That was three years ago and I'm still going to meetings. I can't tell you what this organization has meant to me and to my family. I would not have believed it possible had I not experienced it myself. Please tell others that Recovery, Inc., sometimes succeeds when psychiatry fails.--- A True Believer

Dear True: I have recommended this organization before and am pleased to do so again. Recovery, Inc., has 950 chapters in the U.S. and Canada. The meetings are open and free. The members are people who have, or are trying to recover from emotional illness. Their record of success is phenomenal. Look in the phone book. If you do not see a listing, write to Recovery, Inc., National Headquarters, 116 South Michigan, Chicago 60603, for information and guidance.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is kind and considerate and everyone thinks we are happily married. The truth is I am miserable.

For 14 years I've tried to tell myself that friends, movies, plays, concerts, clubs, all the things I thoroughly enjoy, are not important, that it's better to have a faithful husband and good children. Well, it won't work. I feel like the four walls are closing in on me. My husband never wants to go anyplace. He could stay home 365 nights a year. If he yelled and argued I'd probably feel better. He just smiles and says, "You go, dear. I'm happy at home."

Our sex life is wonderful. We have no money problems. We both enjoy good health. When I tell him I'm going stir-crazy, he says, "It's just a mood, dear, you'll feel better tomorrow."

Tonight I said, "I'm going to write to Ann Landers." His replay was, "Go ahead. She has all the answers." So what's mine?--- Unfulfilled

Dear Un: The problem is that you are home all day and when evening comes you want to get out. Your husband is out all day and when evening comes he wants to stay home. My advice is to do your thing during the day--- the movies, plays, concerts, etc. Accept the fact that you are not going to change him, so you'd better change yourself. He sounds too good to dump.

Dear Ann Landers: We are three Long Island high school students who want your opinion. A member of our class died last week. We went to the principal and asked if we could be excused to attend the funeral. The principal said we would have to get permission from the office of the Board of Education.

Last fall anyone who had a ticket was excused to go to see the Chinese acrobats. What kind of a world is this, anyway?--- Turned Off

Dear T.O.: Your story sounds flaky. You didn't name your school or the principal, nor did you say whether you called the Board of Education. The only thing authentic was the postmark. I looked to see if perhaps it was from New Haven, but by golly it WAS from Long Island. I don't buy it, however.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers' booklet, "Booze And You--- For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper with your request.

Without Summer

In American history, the year 1816 is popularly known as the year without a summer because in the northern states there were frosts and snows in practically every month of the year.

Sweet Old Time

Trees tapped for maple sugar are just as they are found in the wild. No effort has been made to graft better sugar trees because it takes some 40 years to get a good run of high-quality sap.

Missy Hornback

Celebrates birthday

Missy Hornback was honored with a surprise party Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hornback, 161 Presnell, for her third birthday.

Attending were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ladelle Berkbigler; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hornback and son Allen; paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norvle Hornback; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hartlein and son Rodney; and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bryant.

Refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream and punch were served.

SeMo chapter of MACLD to meet Monday

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The Southeast Missouri Chapter of the Missouri Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the basement community room of Cape Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Mike Matvy will be guest speaker for the final meeting until fall.

An Observation

Watching the maiden voyage of Robert Fulton's successful sidewheel steamboat, one observer saw it as "an ungainly craft looking precisely like a backwoods sawmill mounted on a scow and set on fire."

Air Traffic

In the United States, the Federal Aviation Administration is charged with controlling air traffic to keep order and prevent accidents, just as local governments control automobile traffic on the ground.

Handicapped girl codes curves

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Not only does Jane Denton know what infrared curves are, but she is eager to tell all they've done for her.

The telling isn't easy. Slowly and carefully the young Buffalo woman "talks" by pointing to words and letters on the language board that is always with her, at bedside and in her wheelchair.

Chemistry was to be her field when she was graduated from the State University at Buffalo in January 1966. Between the time she finished her exams and graduation ceremonies, she was stricken with encephalitis.

Jane became bedridden. She couldn't talk. She had trouble eating.

Her strength began to leave her. Thoughts of how she was going to live and how pointless her existence was haunted her.

But Sharon Bailey, a college friend, had other thoughts.

Sharon was working as an industrial chemist with Eastman Kodak. She told her supervisor, George Covert, that Jane might be able to do some coding of data for member laboratories on infrared spectra compounds.

Covert worked out a program with the American Society for Testing and Materials in which Jane could code curves. Then he arranged with Jane's family to teach her the coding procedures on weekends.

"When I first saw her, I was amazed. I didn't realize the seriousness of her condition. But I learned that she certainly knew her chemistry," Covert said.

Jane's work was done at home, primarily with pencils, paper, reference books and her dad's willing assistance.

Then Jane's battles really began. She had several relapses. It became increasingly difficult for her to do her work, and for her mom and dad to take care of her.

So Jane moved to the Erie County, N.Y., Home and Infirmary, for weekdays and spent her weekends at home.

A new corps of friends replaced George Covert. They were rehabilitation counselor Doris Martin, physical therapist Marion Kerr and sociologist and computer instructor Dr. Robert Cabral.

"When she first came to us," one of her friends remembers, "she was so frustrated. You know, not being able to talk, she just can't get rid of the pressure and tension."

Because of her friend's encouragement, Jane took a basic computer programing course at Rosary Hill College.

She was loaned a computer for several weeks and a dictionary was devloped by Dr. Cabral so that she could talk by using the teletype terminal.

Recently Jane returned to Kodak to see how her coding work was used. She observed the infrared spectrophotometer from her wheelchair. It was a special event for Jane, forging a final link in the chain she has had with her chosen profession for the last six and a half years.

And the company has decided to try other innovative ways to utilize Jane's capabilities.

Driver walked away

Daniel Sanders of Bernie, driver for TDC Trucking of Sikeston, walked away from the remains of this truck that he was driving with only minor cuts when it struck an I- 55 sign post in St. Louis. Sanders was southbound on I- 55 when another driver cut in front of his vehicle, forcing him to swerve off the road and into the sign standard. Sanders had time to open his door to jump when the truck hit the standard and he was thrown clear of the demolished cab.

Jaynes bound over on manslaughter

KENNETT — Separate counts of first and second degree murder against Oscar Jaynes of Malden were dismissed Monday by Magistrate Leon McAnally, who ordered the defendant bound over on a third count of manslaughter following a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court.

The discharge of the two separate counts came after Judge McAnally ruled that all testimony and evidence presented by state's witnesses "points to the fact the deceased made the attack on Jaynes," he told the prosecutor and defense attorneys.

Jaynes, who has been freed on a $12,000 bond, will appear in Circuit Court June 23 on the manslaughter accusation.

Pros. Atty. Charles H. Baker charged Jaynes in connection with the shooting death of 24- year - old Parker Arrington of Malden on April 21 on a Campbell street.

Witnesses called to the stand by Baker included Trooper Gene Cox, Coroner Tom Doherty, Deputy Sheriff Bob McDonald and three of the four witnesses at the scene, Lois Tanner, 18, Dale Ezell, 14, and Jerry Gumm, 27, all of Campbell. A fourth witness, Jewel Kilwin, was subpoenaed but was not put on the stand. Copies of her deposition were made available to the defense.

Miss Tanner and Ezell told the court the victim, Arrington, had picked them up at Campbell Gin Co. shortly before the shooting to take them home. While driving down Bailey St., Arrington spotted Jaynes talking to Miss Kilwin and Gumm and came to a sudden stop in front of Jaynes' car, jumped out and went to Jaynes' car window, shooting and then proceeded to strike Jaynes with a bicycle chain. When Jaynes refused to get out of the car upon Arrington's demand, the victim climbed in the front seat and continued the attack, attempting to wrap the chain around Jaynes' neck. As the two struggled in the car, the five fatal shots were fired.

Farmers in 11 counties eligible for assistance

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz announced that farmers in 11 Missouri counties who have suffered severely from extended periods of floods and excessive rainfall are eligible for emergency loans through the Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration.

Between July and November of 1972, a large percentage of cotton, soybeans, corn, wheat, and milo crops were damaged in the counties of Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Dunklin, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Ripley, Scott, Stoddard and Wayne.

FHA emergency loans are made to farmers to finance crop production and for other expenses necessary to continue normal farming operations.

Applications will be received in the local offices of Farmers Home Administration until July 6. The applicant must be in need of credit and cannot obtain credit elsewhere other than Farmers Home Administration. Each person applying for credit will be given equal consideration without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

Loans are repayable in their entirety at an interest rate of 5 per cent.

Hornersville native killed in plane crash

HOLLAND PATENT, N.Y. (AP) — Air Force investigators are examining the scattered wreckage of a supersonic warplane that exploded in flight, killing its pilot, a two-star general.

Maj. Gen. James L. Price, 51, commander of units based in Syracuse, N.Y., and responsible for the air defense of a large portion of northeastern North America, died in the accident Tuesday.

Price, who was born in Hornersville, Mo., but considered Dallas, Tex., home, had just taken off in a rainstorm from Griffiss Air Force Base in Rome, N.Y., on a routine training flight when lightning struck his delta-winged F106 fighter-interceptor, an Air Force spokesman said.

The crash was the third of a Griffiss-based F106 in the last three months.

Several witnesses reported seeing the plane explode into a fireball. The wreckage fell over a wide area east of here.

Flooded river cost shippers $50 million

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Shippers and suppliers of raw materials say the Mississippi River flood, now in its 66th day, cost them an estimated $50 million when the high water forced the river to be closed to commercial barge traffic.

The Corps of Engineers said Tuesday the direct loss to shippers amounted to $25 million, while expenses incurred in shipping cargo by alternate modes of transportation came to another $25 million.

A spokesman for the corps said the river had been effectively closed for "40 out of the last 47 days." He said the closing of the lock at Alton, Ill., had the most economic impact because that lock connects Mississippi River traffic with the Illinois River.

"Once you've closed that lock," the spokesman said, "shippers can't go anywhere." The lock was closed April 1, reopened April 15 and closed again April 23.

The corps said the Alton lock and several others may be opened by the coming weekend.

The Mississippi River stood at 37.5 feet Tuesday at St. Louis, still 7.5 feet over flood stage. The National Weather Service said, however, the river should drop to 33 feet by Friday.

What's the Law?

The case of the hairy question

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Marvin had a load on his mind. It was primarily due to the fact that from the time he took a job in a supermarket as a food clerk, he stopped cutting his hair. What's more, it ultimately reached his shoulders and the manager of the supermarket reached the end of his rope. He fired marvelous Marvin for violating the company's written grooming standards for male and female employees having contact with the public. Specifically prohibited for male employees was long hair.

Claiming sex discrimination under the civil rights law and claiming that he was unlawfully discharged, Marvin sued the supermarket company for damages.

"The company maintains a double standard," he argued in court. "Women are permitted to wear long hair and men aren't."

"So what?" retorted the store manager. "Men are permitted to wear mustaches and women aren't. It's not a case of discrimination. It's a case of public accommodation. When people come shopping in our store, we don't want them to think they're in a zoo. Men should look like men and women should look like women with never the twain to meet."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you find that Marvin was a victim of sex discrimination and unlawfully discharged under the civil rights law?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held, in effect, that an employer may set grooming standards for those of his employees dealing with the public. And in this case, he noted, the midl grooming rules were not unjustified. Prohibiting men from wearing long hair no more constitutes discrimination based upon sex than prohibiting them from wearing skirts.

Desserts use strawberries

Fabulous fresh strawberries are in the market in good supply. Enjoy them to the hilt just as they are. Then try some different dishes with them, such as the ones suggested here.

The cultivation of strawberries is relatively recent, compared with other fruits and vegetables, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association tells us. Cultivation is generally supposed to have started in Europe during the 15th century. But one authority points out that at least 1,200 plants were being grown in the Royal Gardens at the Louvre under Charles V, early in the 14th century.

When you're seeking new fresh strawberry desserts, a good place to find them is in England. The English dearly love fresh strawberries and one of their favorite ways to enjoy them is in an old-fashioned Strawberry Syllabub. This is a glorious mixture of pureed fresh strawberries blended with whipped cream. A few sliced strawberries are folded into the mixture for texture interest. Make this old- fashioned delight with modern ease in an electric blender or a food mill.

Another excellent English idea is to jell fresh strawberries in a mold that has the natural color of the berries and fresh orange juice. It can be heightened with red food coloring, if desired. This is the most refreshing dessert anyone could serve at the height of the fresh strawberry season.

The English enjoy Madeira in their cooking. It was an idea that George Washington carried out in his kitchen, too. A dessert in a very old tradition is fresh strawberries in Madeira sauce. It is best prepared ahead and, for that reason as well as its delectable taste, it makes an imaginative company dessert.

To buy strawberries at their best, look for those that are clean, bright, fresh- looking with solid red color or at least very little white or green. Their caps should be in place and the berries should be free from moisture or mold.

STRAWBERRY SYLLABUB

1 cup strawberries, washed and hulled
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon grated fresh orange rind
2 cups heavy cream
1 cup sliced strawberries

In electric blender or food mill puree strawberries to make 2/3 cup puree. Mix puree, sugar and orange rind in medium bowl. Whip cream until stiff. Fold in strawberry puree mixture.

Chill several hours. Fold in sliced strawberries. Spoon into serving dishes.

Makes: 8 servings.

FRESH STRAWBERRY MOLD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup sugar
1¾ cups fresh orange juice
1 cup strawberry puree
(1½ cups fresh strawberries)
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
Red food coloring, optional
1 cup sliced strawberries

Sprinkle gelatin over water in medium saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in orange juice, strawberry puree, lemon juice and a few drops of red food coloring.

Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in sliced strawberries. Turn into 4-cup mold. Chill until firm.

To serve, unmold and garnish with whipped cream.

Coffee Corner by Cherie

Well, I'm reading the Harper's Bazaar and on the cover I find the title of several articles telling me "How I Can Look Fabulous and Healthy" "Special Diets, Exercises, and Make Up Secrets", and even how to "Give Tender and Loving Care To Your Feet." Unfortunately, upon opening the magazine I find it takes several hundred dollars worth of a new wardrobe to make me look fabulous; plus, several hundred more dollars to buy the plane ticket to jet me to some exotic resort to obtain my healthy look. Personally I found that the real problem would be getting the dollars and this they fail to tell you how to do. Therefore, I shall give up my fabulous healthy look and see what the article on diets and exercises has to offer. Well, it has quite a lot going for it, however, it doesn't give me any hints about how to increase my will power enough so that while I'm preparing a three course dinner for the fellas I keep from cheating and licking my fingers; or how to sit down at the table and pass the bread and gravy between my nose and lips and yet keep my tongue in its proper place while all that I have on my plate is a tablespoon of cottage cheese and a stalk of celery. Neither does it give any suggestions as to how to keep from fainting while doing your housework or how to keep your stomach from growling in public places! As for the exercises — it fails to tell you how you go about exercising when you're in a prone position and the dog is sitting on your stomach; or how do you remember how many sit ups you've done when the phone keeps ringing and breaking up your train of thought, and last but not least, how do you get back up after you've gotten down (once you've removed the dog from your stomatch that is). Since those were a total flop as far as I was concerned, I found myself avidly flipping through the pages to "Makeup Secrets" because (I thought) even I can surely manage those. But alas, there must be even more wrong with me than I've been suspecting for years, because first off, I couldn't stand all those layers of base coats on my face. Heavens, I smiled and I had cracks like the Grand Canyon running horizontally across my kisser. Then I don't drink, but when I went to try the eye liner my hand shook so bad I looked like I was having a severe case of the D.T.'s, and my eyes looked like the morning after when I'd finished. Thus, I found myself left with only "Give Tender and Loving Care To Your Feet" — now really, they've got to be kidding!!!

WOLF PROBLEM

WARREN, Ont. (AP) — Reggie MacDonald, a farmer in this small community south of North Bay, has a problem with hungry wolves.

The wolves are snatching his cats off the porch of his farm residence. MacDonald said: "I see the wolves every day. They come from behind the garage and the barn and they have eaten seven cats this year."

Bernie council votes to establish landfill

BERNIE — The city council voted to buy land for a sanitary landfill and equipment to operate the landfill at a special meeting Tuesday night. Bids were advertised for a contractor. The landfill should be in operation by July 1.

The council voted to sign a contract for cable television if the terms are acceptable to the company.

The city also voted to submit an application for $192,000 sewer project to enlarge the sewer lagoon and existing sewer facilities in the north end of town, which will include two airlift stations. The city was allocated a 75 per cent federal fund grant and a 10 per cent state grant. The city's share is $60,000.

Bids were opened for a new police car and the council voted to take the bids under advisement. The car is to be purchased with revenue sharing funds.

The council opened bids for the courtroom addition to the city jail. Ray White Building Supply was low bidder with $4,200. The council voted to accept the bid and order materials. The city received a $1,900 grant from the Bootheel Law Enforcement Committee.

Ratchford accused of misleading

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee charged today that President C. Brice Ratchford of the University of Missouri "is deliberately misleading the people" about appropriations for the Agriculture Extension Service.

"He has never asked to see the letter of intent approved by our committee," Sen. Norman L. Merrell, D-Monticello, said. "So it's obvious that he doesn't know what he is talking about.

"All we're trying to do is get rid of wine tasting and other such ridiculous courses while preserving the 4-H clubs and other valuable work of the extension division."

The Senate committee cut $4 million from the extension division's current budget in deciding on appropriations for the next fiscal year.

Ratchford criticized the action in news conferences around the state, saying the Senate was trying to run the university and that the cuts would cause a loss of more than 400 jobs.

Merrell charged Ratchford was using taxpayers' money by calling in extension people to campaign against the appropriations committee and of carrying on a statewide lobby against the legislature.

"He's turned all of his dogs on the political trail and this is a tax supported institution but also because it is morally wrong to mislead the people in this way," said Merrell, a former school administrator.

Merrell said Ratchford had never asked to see the legislative letter of intent or called to ask about it. The letter says:

"The University of Missouri should emphasize academic programs, particularly in the fields of medicine and decrease urban extension activities by shifting $2 million from urban extension activities to academic programs.

"There shall be no reduction in rural extension or in correspondence course offerings. No state or other funds used by the university shall be for promoting activities in violation of state or federal laws."

"He dreamed up this (urban agriculture extension) scheme several years ago as director of extension in order to get more money from the General Assembly, but now that we've finally caught up with some of these frivolous programs he's screaming bloody murder and mounting a pressure campaign against us," Merrell said.

SEC chairman Cook, resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman G. Bradford Cook of the Securities and Exchange Commission Wednesday announced his resignation.

In a letter to President Nixon, Cook said: "I deeply regret having to tender my resignation as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, but in light of unfortunate circumstances now prevailing, I believe it is best to do so."

Cook, named SEC chairman by Nixon only a few months ago, has been criticized for his handling of a report of a cash contribution to the Nixon 1972 campaign by Robert L. Vesco, who has been under investigation by the SEC.

Cook turned 36 last Thursday and was one of the youngest chairmen in history of the SEC.

He testified earlier this week at a closed- door hearing before a Senate committee on the Vesco matter. The nature of the testimony was not disclosed.

Cook's resignation is certain to affect Wall Street in view of the fact he has been at the forefront of moves to reform the country's securities markets to create a single central market system.

A federal grand jury in New York alleged that Cook yielded to pressure from Nixon campaign fund raiser Maurice Stans by deleting mention of a large cash donation from Vesco from an SEC suit against Vesco, a New York financier.

It has been alleged that a $200,000 contribution from Vesco was made in secret to the Nixon campaign.

On the opening, soybeans were 5 to 16 cents a bushel lower, May 8.00; wheat was unchanged to 1⅛ lower, May 2.50; corn was ⅛ to 2¼ lower, May 1.96 and oats were ⅛ to ⅝ lower, July new 96¼ cents.

Council Cancels meeting

MALDEN — The City Council decided Monday night to cancel a meeting scheduled with Associated Natural Gas Co. on the advice of City Attorney Gordon Fritz as a result of new developments in the city's suit against the gas company.

The council will discuss the developments at the next meeting and will set a new date to meet with gas company representatives.

The suit stems from the fact that when the city entered into an agreement with the Blytheville, Ark., based company, an option to purchase the distribution facilities was part of the contract. The franchise agreement called for the Missouri Public Service Commission to set a price on the facilities, but the PSC has declined to do so.

Thec ity and the gas company have been unable to agree on a price, so the city has filed suit.

Dunklin County Court Judge Ralph Stropp presented to the council rules and regulations for a proposed solid waste disposal plan and spoke to the council about a disposal area. He asked the city to decide as soon as possible whether Malden will use Dunklin County disposal facilities or go elsewhere.

Mayor G. H. Anderson appointed a solid waste committee to look into the matter and meet with Judge Stropp to pursue the Dunklin County plan. Appointed to the committee were Leroy Evans, chairman; Mart Bostic; Tim Corder; and Phil Santie.

Councilman Leroy Evans requested that the city purchase bleacher seats for the Little League baseball field. The council requested that the park committee place an order for the seats at a cost to the city of $1,358.

A discussion was held pertaining to young people being in the city park after curfew, 10 p.m. on weekdays and 11 p.m. on Saturdays. It was decided to notify all citizens that this law will be enforced

Santie recommended that the council look over the airport board appointment and decide on recommendations of coucilmen who are not active on other committees. He also requested a decision on a full-time building inspector.

Santie also informed the council that Gregory Phelps, park truck driver, had resigned as of May 15 and asked that Jim Garris be allowed to replace Phelps. The council voted to approve the appointment.

A letter was read by councilman Hank Watson from the Missouri Outdoor Recreation Committee regarding the matching funds for industrial recreation. Watson informed the council that he had talked to committee representatives and they had promised the first payment of $8,534 within 45 to 60 days.

Watson requested the council to borrow the money on the strength of the promise since the park is in need of the money now, and the council gave the Industrial Recreation Park Committee permission to borrow the money.

Weeds on vacant lots were discussed and the council approved a request of Councilman Leroy Evans that all weed problems be turned over to him in the name of the person owning the property. Evans will write a letter giving the owner one week from letter date to mow weeds, or the city will mow the weeds at a minimum charge of $10.

Dennis Roach, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed his appreciation to the council for good attendance at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. Roach also gave the names of the newly formed Industrial Development Committee as Mart Bostic, Sparrel Davis, Phil Santie, George Anderson and himself.

Hank Watson, chairman of the Industrial Recreation Park Committee, came before the council and gave a report on the progress on the Industrial Recreation Park and told the council he had the resignations of Jerry Broyles and C. P. Lowrey from the committee. Dennis Blake and Jim Darnell were appointed to replace the two men.

A request from fireman Rod Dill to erect a gas pump at his home was granted after it was explained that the pump would be equipped with safety devices.

A discussion was tabled concerning the tearing up of a curb along the south side of Main Street between Douglas and Cedar streets.

The council agreed to erect a "No Parking Sundays Only" sign on the south side of Park Street from Highway 25 east to the first alley.

The next council meeting was set for May 29 instead of May 28 which is Memorial Day.

Russell Tuesday by Lt. Gov. William C. Phelps. A spokesman for Phelps said the bill had been delayed awaiting an attorney general's opinion on whether to channel the money through the state Division of Welfare or through the governor's statutory emergency relief powers.

The money will be used to buy land and put in sewer and water lines for mobile homes to be supplied by the federal government.

Federal regulations require the state to put in the utility lines and provide the sites.

Damage hits $12.8 million

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — City officials have placed damage from Friday's killer storm at $12.8 million.

City Manager Robert Metzinger said some commercial buildings suffered about $5.5 million damage, private dwellings another $4 million. Damage to vehicles was estimated at $1.25 million, with $800,000 for trees and debris cleanup, $750,000 to public property, $400,000 to public utilities and $100,000 to sidewalks and other thoroughfares.

Civil Defense Director Mrs. Lea Kungle said a 1971 storm resulted in about $2.5 million.

The storm killed three persons and injured 99 others—22 seriously enough for hospitalization.

Jackson sports .011 ERA

MORLEY— Coach Jim Thornsberry's Kelly Hawks had their final tuneup before their encounter with the Illmo— Scott City Rams in the Regional playoff at Van Buren Friday afternoon by overpowering the Scott Central Braves 9- 2 in a Scott- Mississippi County baseball game here Tuesday.

The Hawks sport a 15- 2 record overall and are 8- 1 in conference play.

Jeff "Jethro" Jackson hurled the Hawks to victory with a four hitter. The win was his seventh of the season to go along with two losses. Jackson has an earned run average of .011 and has allowed only one earned run in 61 innings this year. He has fanned 100 batters and has backed his pitching and fielding with a .550 batting average and 25 runs batted in in 17 games.

The Hawks jumped on the Braves starting pitcher in the top of the first inning, scoring four runs on two doubles, a triple and a single, and two stolen bases.

Kelly added single runs in the second and third and led 6- 0 before the Braves were able to score their first run in the third. The Hawks crossed the plate three more times in the fifth. The Braves managed to score once more in the bottom of the seventh.

Mike Brasher had a triple and Jeff Jackson stroked two doubles and Ernie Duncan hit a two bagger for KHS

Torre raises average

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hard-hitting Joe Torre took a tip Tuesday from George Kissell and helped return the St. Louis Cardinals to the winning side in baseball.

"I really hadn't been kissing the ball," said Torre, who carried a husky .315 average into a matinee engagement with the Philadlephia Phillies.

"Kissell called me over, though, and asked me if I was felling all right. I started thinking. I got three hits last night. You put all together and they wouldn't reach the wall."

Torre, who perennially strikes terror in the hearts of pitchers, responded with three wicked line drives for singles in an 8-4 Cardinals victory.

"I hadn't been aggressive," said the 32-year-old first baseman, who raised his average to .327 and his runs-batted-in total to 16 with three RBI.

"I've been getting hits off my wrists," he added. "I haven't been using my hips. I'd been listless lately.

"I just tried to get myself revved up a little while the pitcher was warming up," Torre noted. "I've just been too selective with pitches I've been hitting."

Torre's drives, including a two-run single contributing to a four-run Cardinals eighth, were part of a 13-hit assault.

But Barry Lersch, employing an effective knuckle ball, stood Torre and Co. off until his own wild throw permitted St. Louis to tie 4-4.

Darrell Brandon relieved the next inning and was greeted by Mike Tyson's single, then elected to go to second base too late with the sacrifice bunt of Cards pitcher Rick Wise.

Lou Brock's fourth hit, a drag bunt, followed to load the bases and Brandon, 0-1, walked Jose Cruz to snap the tie.

Wise, 4-2, pitched a six-hitter and survived Mike Schmidt's two-run homer in the second and two wild pitches which provided the Phils a 4-3 lead in the sixth.

"I just tried to make it too good a curve ball," he said of the second errant delivery. "It didn't make me mad to see those runs in the eighth. I just has to keep battling."

Girl makes hit

CONCORD, N.C.(AP) — In her first time at bat, 13-yearold Yvonne Burch hit the first pitch for a triple for her Babe Ruth baseball team.

The rule book says that Babe Ruth baseball is for boys only. But R.W. Case of Trenton, N.J., international president of the organization, said in a telephone interview that his office will take no action to keep Yvonne from playing unless a formal complaint is filed.

And the coaches of the eight teams in Cabarrus County have not objected, so it looks as if Yvonne, an attractive tomboy, will in continue in right field for the South Cabarrus Optimists.

Case said that times have changed since Babe Ruth baseball for teen-aged boys started in 1951. He said that when his 33-member board meets again in the fall he may suggest a study of whether girls should be allowed to play. Almost 300,000 boys in the United States and 16 foreign countries play in the league.

Yvonne got two hits in three at bats and caught some fly balls easily as her team won its opening game 10-6 Monday night.

Stripers Anyone?

The Missouri striped bass fisherman may never be as colorful as his Atlantic coast counterpart byt hopefully one of these days he'll be as successful.

There is nothing quite as pictorial in the angling world as a striper fisherman standing knee- deep in a pounding Atlantic Ocean surf casting two- handed for the big trophy fish.

Certainly nothing like it in Missouri where oceans are rare. But stripers inhabit Lake of the Ozarks and currently are one of those fingers- crossed experiments which sometimes pay off, sometimes don't.

The big problem with Missouri's striped bass is that not enough of them have been stocked since the first introduction in 1967. It's tough to get enough eggs or fry from other states which have their own and many other commitments to meet, and Missouri's brood fish are not quite old enough to spawn.

First stocking of stripers in Lake of the Ozarks was 2,000 in 1967. In 1968, the Department of Conservation stocked 29,700 fingerlings.

The biggest stocking was in 1969 when 126,800 went into the lake. In 1970, the Department stocked 65,155 fingerlings and in 1971, there were 8,054 fish, averaging four inches, which went into the lake.

Striper young are tempermental and tough to raise in hatcheries and 1972 was a bad year, consequently few fish were stocked.

Most stockings were in the lower end of the lake-- the Glaize- Gravois area. Growth rates are uncertain, but on fish caught Nov. 7, 1972, had grown from four inches in 1970 to four pounds in 1972.

Missouri has had two striped bass submitted for record and neither came from Lake of the Ozarks. The first was a 5:12 pounder from Norfork Lake, result of an Arkansas stocking.

The second and current state record is 12:04, caught in the St. Francis River. No one knows how the fish got in the river, above Wappappello Dam. It could have been caught originally from Taum Sauk Reservoir where there was an experimental stocking, then released in the river, but that's just a guess.

Agent class scheduled

JEFFERSON CITY— The odds of making it to the final round are about as good as those favoring the club duffer making it to the last hole of the Professional Golfers Association tournament, but still several hundred Missourians apply for a spot as a conservation agent each time there is a class opening.

The Department of Conservation now is accepting applications for a new class which will run from January through April, 1974. Deadline for applications is July 16, 1973.

Usually there are about 400 applications for what ends as a class of 10 to 12 agents.

Applicants should write Personnel Officer, Department of Conservation, Box 180, Jefferson City, Missouri 65101. They will be given a written test in the latter part of August.

The top candidates from that group then will be interviewed and the final group will begin the intensive four- month training course.

Conservation agents must be Missouri citizens and must have lived here for at least two years continuously. They must be between 22- 36 years, between 68 and 76 inches in height without shoes and between 140 and 225 pounds.

They must have earned at least a high school diploma or its equivalent.

MU signs 6-7 Texan

COLUMBIA, Mo.— Danny Van Rheen, a highly-recruited all- stater from Houston, Tex., has signed a national letter- of- intent to join Coach Norm Stewart's basketball forces at Missouri.

The 6- 7 and 210- pound Texan led his Deer Park prep team to four straight district titles during his career. He reputedly was courted by more than 200 universities and colleges.

Van Rheen averaged 24 points and 18 rebounds a game last season in district competition. In addition to his all- state honors, he was named to several all-American lists as well.

SPORTS

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Midshipman Kurt Yost, co-captain of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy swim team, has been named winner of the 1973 Stedman Trophy for academic and athletic achievement.

Yost, a senior from Sandusky, Ohio, led the team to an 8-3 season and earned All American honors in four events of the 1973 National Collegiate Athletic Association college division championships.

Managers angry at umps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Niekro's five-hit pitching wasn't what bothered Houston General Manager Spec Richardson and Manager Leo Durocher.

Nor was it Dusty Baker's three-run homer, which provided the batting support for the Atlanta Braves' 4-1 victory over the Astros Tuesday night.

It was the umpiring.

"I'm fed up with them," was Richardson's comment about the umpiring. "I'm tired of my ball club being beaten...by umpires."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 4-3, Pittsburgh nipped Montreal 9-8 in 11 innings, St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 8-4, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 4-1 and San Francisco topped San Diego 4-2.

In the American League, Nolan Ryan pitched a no-hitter as California beat Kansas City 3-0, Minnesota defeated Texas 7-5, Chicago beat Oakland 6-5 in 12 innings and Milwaukee edged Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings. Detroit at New York and Baltimore at Boston were postponed due to rain.

The play that irked Richardson, Durocher and the Astros came in the ninth inning. With one out and Atlanta ahead 3-1, Baker singled and Mike Lum walked.

Dave Johnson then hit into what looked like a double-play grounder, but second base umpire Bruce Froemming ruled that second baseman Tommy Helms did not touch the bag.

First baseman Lee May, thinking the double play had ended the game, flipped the ball to first base umpire Paul Pryor—and Baker scampered home with the Braves' fourth run.

Durocher then announced he was playing the game under protest, claiming Pryor did not let the Astros make a play on Baker at the plate.

"Pryor had the ball in his hands," Durocher said. "As soon as he saw the man (Baker) running home and the signal (by Froemming), he threw the ball to the ground.

"If May has the ball he throws the man out. But there's no way you can throw a man out if you do not have the ball. And that's why we protested."

Second baseman Glenn Beckert's sparkling fielding play in the ninth inning saved the Cubs' victory.

With Chicago ahead 4-2, the Mets got one run in the ninth and loaded the bases.

Speedy Bud Harrelson slapped a grounder up the middle against a drawn-in Cub infield, but Beckert darted to his left, gloved the ball, leaped and threw home, barely nailing sliding Ed Kranepool.

John Milner then grounded out to end the game.

Joe Torre boosted his average to .327 by lashing three line-drive singles in the Cardinals' victory.

Tony Perez clubbed two home runs, giving him five for the season, as the Reds beat the Dodgers. Don Gullett, 4-2, was the winner.

Ryan holds Royals hitless

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I was terrible warming up," said Nolan Ryan—but a warm Nolan Ryan is nothing like a hot one.

And the California Angels' flamethrower was once again his usual searing self Tuesday night, hurling the American League's second no-hitter of the baseball season, a dazzling, remarkably easy 12-strikeout performance against Kansas City.

It was the first no-hitter for the 26-year-old right-hander, who has spent the past few seasons coming oh, so close to achieving that feat.

Having finally made it, did he think it was his most thrilling moment in baseball?

Obviously, you say.

Wrong, he replies.

"Coming into a World Series game was a greater thrill," Ryan insisted. "That was it!"

That was when he was a member of New York's Miracle Mets in 1969, when he pitched 2 1-3 innings of scoreless, threestrikeout relief to preserve a victory over Baltimore.

In Tuesday night's other American League games, Milwaukee outlasted Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings, Minnesota mauled Texas 9-5 and the Chicago White Sox edged Oakland 6-5 in 12 innings. The Baltimore-atBoston and Detroit-at-New York Yankees games were rained out.

In the National League it was St. Louis 8, Philadelphia 4; the Chicago Cubs 4, the Mets 3; San Francisco 4, San Diego 2; Atlanta 4, Houston 1; Cincinnati 4, Los Angeles 1, and Pittsburgh 9, Montreal 8 in 11 innings.

Ryan likely was not even thinking of a no-hitter—not after what happened to him last Friday in his last start. He lasted a scant one-third of an inning against the White Sox, who drove him from the mound with a five-run, four-hit barrage.

But of such misfortunes stars are made.

"I think that shelling helped me bear down," said Ryan, last year's major league strikeout leader with 329 who raised his major league-leading total to 82 with his dozen against the Royals—the 35th time in his career he's fanned 10 or more in a game.

"Something like that," he said of the White Sox' shellacking, "makes you wake up and bear down."

And bear down he did, fanning the side in the first inning, in which he gave up one of his three walks. Inning after inning went by. By the seventh, it would seem, the 12,205 Kansas City fans would be in an uproar. After all, they knew what no-hitters were all about. Their own Steve Busby had thrown one at Detroit less than three weeks ago.

But the fans were surprisingly quiet...almost funereal, as Ryan set down batter after batter. Only when the Royals appeared on the verge of breaking the spell did they come alive.

So Ryan toiled in silence—until the eighth inning, when pinch-hitter Gail Hopkins stepped up with two out.

It was Hopkins who, last year in Anaheim, stepped up in the eighth inning and wrecked Ryan's no-hit bid with a single.

He nearly did it again, punching a looping liner over second and into short center field. But shortstop Rudy Meoli dashed out and backhanded the ball. It was, until the last pitch of the game, as close as the Royals would come to getting a hit.

"Being a fastball pitcher," Ryan said, "you have a tendency to overthrow more than control pitchers do...Somebody with a fastball gets away with bad pitches and that's where I've been hurt. It's taken time to realize this."

So now it was the ninth. He disposed of Fred Patek on a pop foul off first base, then fanned Steve Hovley. That left it up to Amos Otis. The Kansas City slugger came within a few feet of shattering the dream.

He slammed a shot out toward the right field fence. Ken Berry took off after it. Berry had taken over for Bob Oliver in the seventh inning as a defensive replacement. Oliver, after all, had done his job on offense, drilling a home run and a single to knock in two of the Angels' runs.

The ball and Berry arrived at the wall almost simultaneously, Berry snared it with his back about a foot from the fence and Ryan had his niche in the record book.

In Milwaukee Dave May jumped on a Brent Strom pitch with one out in the 17th inning and crashed his 10th homer of the season, tying him for the major league lead and boosting the Brewers into first place in the East Division.

Pat Kelly's double with two out in the 12th inning lifted the White Sox to a two-game West Division lead.

SPORTS

MONTREAL (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's all-time leading scorer, will try his hand at volleyball beginning June 3.

Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers' 7-foot-1 center, is part of a pick-up team that will play a Quebec squad in Montreal in a best-of-five series. His teammates include Japanese star Toshi Toyora and former U.S. Olympic volleyball team member Rudy Suwara.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Litwack, one of the most respected coaches in college basketball who retired last season from Temple University after 21 years, was honored at a dinner Tuesday night.

Litwack, who had a 373-193 won-lost record during his tenure at Temple, led the team to 14 straight winning seasons, including 13 postseason tournament berths and the 1969 National Invitation Tournament.

Goldwater urges Nixon to show leadership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater urged President Nixon today "to start making moves in the direction of leadership," and Sen. Stuart Symington charged Nixon's chief aides "tried to obstruct justice" by hiding the Watergate affair under a CIA umbrella.

Testimony before the Senate Armed Services committee indicates the ploy didn't work because the CIA refused to go along. But convicted conspirator James W. McCord Jr., says he believes the White House tried to use the cover anyway.

"It is not easy for me to say this about my country or my President," said Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, "but I think the time has come when someone must say to both of them, 'let's get going.'"

Goldwater said "we are witnessing the loss of confidence in America's ability to govern, we are watching the price of gold go to disastrous heights having an equally bad effect upon our stock market.

"We have a far greater responsibility to our children and I might say to ourselves than to allow the sordid Watergate to wash out all other concepts of responsibility," the Arizonan continued in a statement.

"I mean responsibility to the world, to our own people and particularly that responsibility which is ours as a world leader to continue to lead. It is to this end that I urge my President to start moves in the direction of leadership which have suffered from lack of an understandable concern about Watergate."

Eds: The following is embargoed for Noon EDT

Nixon announced one move today in asking Congress to create a special 17-member nonpartisan commission to completely re-examine the system of elections and campaign practices.

His special message said "recent disclosures of widespread abuses" in the 1972 campaign make reform a priority item to "restore the faith of the American people in the integrity of their political processes."

He made no mention of Watergate but said more disclosures of 1972 campaign misdeeds "will doubtless soon be made."

End embargoed matter.

In U.S. district court, Chief Judge John J. Sirica signed an order compelling Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy to testify before the Senate Watergate committee which starts public televised hearings Thursday. The order, granted over protests by Liddy's attorney, gives Liddy immunity for anything he might say.

Sirica had granted similar immunity to Liddy for his grand jury testimony but the former counsel for the re-election committee still refused to testify and was sentenced to up to 18 months for contempt. The sentence was in addition to the 6-20 year term Sirica imposed for the Watergate incident.

Symington released a summary Tuesday of testimony offered by Army Lt. Gen. Vernon A. Walters, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

That summary and an official digest of the same incident as disclosed by former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III make possible a detailed reconstruction of one element of the alleged White House coverup of the Watergate affair.

Gray, who told his story to Senate Watergate investigators, and Walters gave differing accounts, but the two versions show these developments:

On June 23, six days after five men were arrested inside Democratic headquarters at the Watergate, then — CIA Director Richard Helms and Walters were summoned to the White House to meet with chief of staff H. R. Haldeman and domestic- affairs adviser John D. Ehrlichman in Ehrlichman's office.

Walters said Haldeman told him to tell Gray that if the FBI pursued an investigation of certain funds in Mexico, connected with the Watergate case, the inquiry would compromise certain CIA activities and resources in Mexico.

Walters met with Gray an hour later and conveyed the message, and Gray indicated he was aware the two agencies don't uncover each other's sources and activities.

Gray's account indicated the FBI postponed interviews with two witnesses because of the Walters meeting.

Walters said that after the meeting he checked and discovered that the investigation would not interfere with CIA activities.

On June 26, Walters met with White House Counsel John W. Dean III, since fired, and told him there was no CIA involvement in the Watergate case or related money matters in Mexico.

Walters said he went back and told his own boss, Helms, about the meeting, and Helms told him he had done the right thing.

On June 27, the Symington summary said, Dean reportedly called Walters to his office again and "asked if there was some way the CIA could go bail or pay the salaries of the individuals accused in the Watergate case while they were in jail."

Walters said he was prepared to resign rather than do that.

On June 28, Walters said, Dean called him in again to ask if there could have been some CIA involvement in the affair that Walters didn't know about. Walters said he told Dean there could not be.

Walters said he told Dean that if he were ordered to compromise the agency in the affair "he would ask to see the President and to explain to him how dangerous he thought such an action would be," the summary said.

Williams preliminary hearing date set

NEW MADRID — Preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court has been tentatively set for June 5 for Bill Williams, a truck driver being held under $10,000 bond on kidnaping charge.

Williams is accused of abducting Phyllis Dean Shannon of Hot Springs, Ark., at 11:45 p.m. Monday. He allegedly had given the woman and her husband Jimmy Shannon a ride from Little Rock, Ark., and when Shannon went into Scotty's Truck Stop near Matthews on Interstate 55, Williams drove off with Mrs. Shannon asleep in the truck cab.

Williams was arrested in Kirkwood Tuesday and returned to New Madrid County by the sheriff's department.

Pound pleads guilty

David Lee Pound, 837 Anderson, pleaded guilty in Magistrate Court Tuesday to a charge of cashing a stolen check. Judge Lloyd Briggs took Pound's punishment under advisement until June 5.

Pound admitted cashing a $58 check stolen from Shirley Tarrillion, 206 Bynum. Sentencing was delayed when he told the judge he was trying to join the Navy. If the Navy accepts Pound, Judge Briggs may decide not to send him to jail or place him on probation.

Maurice Thompson of Sikeston waived a preliminary hearing on bogus check charges and was ordered to appear in Circuit Court on May 24. Thompson is charged with cashing a bogus check of $4,100 to SeMo Motor Co. on March 24, 1972, and a bogus check of $20 to Fred's Package Store on Sept. 28, 1972. He is alleged to have cashed a total of 17 bogus checks.

Andrew Sales, 210 Dixie, pleaded guilty to an April 27 break- in of Wetterau Foods, Inc. warehouse on Branum Street and was placed on two-year probation.

Barry Becker of St. Louis was sentenced to one year in jail for nonsupport. The sentence was suspended on condition that he pays $50 a month support for his daughter.

George H. Kester of 2006 Main St., Scott City, was ordered to pay $71.56 for state taxes he had failed to pay. The sum includes interest and penalty on the taxes.

Other cases before the court included Larry William Watkins of Route Two, fined $100 for driving while intoxicated; Bobby Delk of Charleston, $15 bogus check, case dismissed; and Ruth Karraker of Dongola, Ill., $17.41 bogus check, case dismissed.

Hayti student is top actress

HAYTI — Toni Cross, a Hayti High School speech and drama student, has been named the number one actress in the state.

Miss Cross performed in the Hayti class production of "Giant's Stair" during the State School Drama and Speech Festival at University of Missouri- Columbia. The play was rated superior.

Belinda Plunkett was awarded the fourth spot in the state for her performance in the same play.

Bill Sample and David McCoy also appeared in the play which was called "a most impressive team effort" by the adjudicator.

Eleven schools, selected in district competition, were competing for the top slots in drama.

Hayti students, competing in 10 events at the district contests in Cape Girardeau, were also represented at the state contests in story- telling by Debbie Hall and in radio newscasting by Miss Cross. They received average ratings.

Mrs. Jasamyn Garrett directed the group, assisted by Diane Suddarth.

BC 8th grade to graduate May 18

BELL CITY — Eighth grade commencement exercises will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the high school gymnasium. The two top ranking students, Teresa Patterson and Sara Knoderer, will speak.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed fixed price proposals will be received by the City of Caruthersville, Missouri at the office of the City Clerk until 5 o'clock P.M. Daylight Savings Time, on May 21, 1973, for the construction of Water Treatment Plant Improvements including construction of a chemical storage and feed room, aerator enclosure, pumping equipment, instrumentation, heating, piping and other miscellaneous and appurtenant work.

Any and all proposals received after the time specified above will be returned unopened.

Copies of the Plans, Specifications and other Contract Documents are on file at the office of the City Clerk and of the Consulting Engineer, Buescher Frankenberg Associates, 301 East Main Street, Union, Missouri 63084. A set of the Documents may be obtained from the Engineer at the address stipulated above upon deposit of $25.00. The full amount of the deposit for one set only of such Documents will be refunded to each actual bidder making such deposit and who submits a proposal thereunder, upon the return of the Documents, and $10.00 of each other deposit will be refunded upon the return of all Documents covered thereby, within 30 days after the bids are opened.

Each bidder shall file with his bid a Cashier's check or a certified check drawn on an acceptable bank, or an acceptable bidder's bond, in an amount of not less than 5 per cent of the total amount of his bid.

The successful bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be required to furnish a performance bond, acceptable to the City of Caruthersville, Missouri, in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract, in conformity with the requirements of the contract documents.

The right is reserved by the City of Caruthersville, Missouri to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the time set for receipt of bids.

Presley shows Winnebago

Sikeston Land Bank officials attend 3-state conference

Hal F. Robertson, manager of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston, and Michael Bollinger, associate manager, participated in a three- state credit conference of association managers and associate managers May 7-9 in St. Louis.

The conference was held for development of additional procedures for making loans under broadened authorities and responsibilities delegated to local associations by Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. The purpose of the broadened authorities is to give better credit service to farm and rural families.

During the meeting, Glenn E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, reported that the strong demand for long- term financing continues. The bank has already loaned more than $100 million new money in Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri during 1973. The outstanding loan volume of the bank reached $900 million on April 26, and Heitz predicts the bank will have $1 billion loaned to farm and rural home owners by March 1974.

"Although the supplies of money are becoming less plentiful, the Land Bank is exerting every effort to assure that adequate funds will be available to meet the needs of farmers," Heitz said. He added that "farmers would be well advised to anticipate their future credit needs and arrange for loan terms best suited to their individual needs at the earliest convenient date."

Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston has loaned $1,061,798 in new money in Scott, New Madrid, Mississippi, Stoddard and Cape Girardeau counties during the first four months of this year.

Attend Land Bank meeting

Hal F. Robertson, center, manager of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston, and Michael Bollinger, left, associate manager, are greeted at a three-state credit conference in St. Louis by Glenn E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank of St. Louis.

Bethlehem Steel hikes prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest steel company, followed the lead of other major steelmakers Monday and boosted the prices of its sheet and strip products.

Last Thursday U.S. Steel, the biggest steelmaker, announced it was raising prices on high-volume sheet steel by an average of 4.8 per cent, effective June 15. Other steelmakers, including Jones & Laughlin, Wheeling-Pittsburgh, Kaiser and Armco, announced similar hikes the following day.

The proposed increases have encountered opposition from the Cost of Living Council, however, which says it plans to review U.S. Steel's justification for the boost.

Focus on business

Miller named first vice president of Wetterau

SCOTT CITY — William R. Miller, vice president and general manager of the Scott City division of Wetterau Foods, Inc., has been named a first vice president of the company, it was announced by O. J. Cleveland, executive vice president of Wetterau Foods, Inc.

Leonard V. Waldron, vice president and general manager of Wetterau's Bloomington, Ind., division will replace Miller in the same capacity at Scott City.

H. Wallace Truelock, vice president- marketing, will be vice president and general manager of the Bloomington division.

William S. Panos has been named director of marketing. He was assistant to the director of marketing.

Before moving to Scott City to head that division in 1971, Miller had served as corporate director of store development, sales manager of the Hazelwood division and manager of store development at Scott City. He joined Wetterau in 1960.

Watch out for buried cables

Your home telephones are in danger. In the spring and summer especially, people get out in their yards and fields and dig for a variety of reasons.

Reliable telephone service is at the mercy of those who dig, but a few precautions will help assure that underground telephone lines remain intact and continue to serve customers around the clock, according to David Schmieg, Sikeston manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Virtually all phone lines are placed underground in new development areas," he said, "and many cross country long distance cables are buried."

He explained that damage to buried telephone cables can interrupt service to hundreds, sometimes thousands, of telephone customers. Such mishaps can be tragic. Lines in a phone cable carry urgent calls to doctors, ambulance services, fire and police departments as well as the wide variety of other calls.

Schmieg said, "The phone company takes every precaution it knows to prevent service interruptions, but much depends on cooperation from those whose business involves digging.

"Some who dig may not be aware of where lines are buried. This can hazard service throughout the community unless the digger finds out before he starts to dig."

Schmieg said that, to locate buried phone lines, the digger has only to dial "O" for Operator and ask for Enterprise 9800. This is a universal number which tells the telephone operator to direct the call to the Bell office nearest the caller's location.

When the company receives such a call, a company representative will go to the site to locate the cable so workmen can avoid it.

"To save delay," Schmieg said, "the person or firm who plans to dig should call the phone company a day or so before work starts. The company will see that someone is there to locate the cable before starting time."

Local distributors view trailer models

OKLAHOMA CITY — Distributors from 21 states and the province of Ontario, Canada, were on hand April 19-20 for the unveiling of eight new trailer models during the annual American Trailer Sales Conference April at Skirvin Hotel.

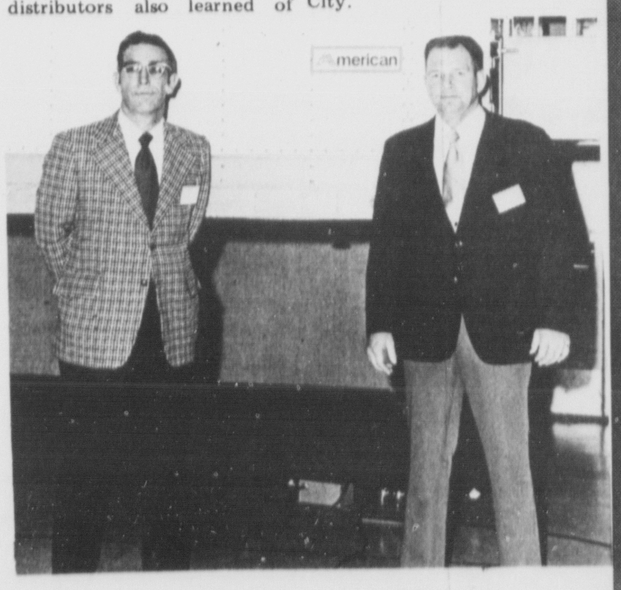
Distributors taking part in the program included Leo Horn and Don Curry of Sikeston, Mo., who represented Curry Trailer and Equipment Co. of Sikeston.

In addition to examining each new model and gathering information about them, the distributors also learned of improvements made this year in other American models.

The group also heard talks from American officials on subjects ranging from marketing trends to new American Trailer engineering innovations.

The distributors also took part in several workshops and in discussions of general business activities.

During another portion of the program, the 55 American representatives were taken on a tour of the 100,000 square-foot American production plant in western Oklahoma City.



Trailer salesmen

On hand for the recent American Trailer Sales Conference in Oklahoma City, Okla., were Leo Horn, left, and Don Curry of Sikeston who represented Curry Trailer and Equipment Co. in Sikeston.

Market threatens higher fees

Focus On Business

By CROCKETT SCOTT

"Always pay, for first or last you must pay your entire debt."

... Emerson

Years ago used car salesmen sometimes would raise the price of their commodity when faced with a hesitant prospect; and quite often that brought him into line; and the deal was closed; -- at the higher price.

Today's stock market and yesterday's used car market are quite different; yet the New York Stock Exchange now is considering the imposition of the same, or at least a similar tactic upon the small investor; that is, if he is going to be so contemplative and cautious, make him pay more.

If the higher commissions are only a threat, they haven't produced much new business to date; though there have been quite a few bad jokes.

However, with so many equities -- both of good and questionable quality, selling near or below their lows of recent years - this may be what it takes to get the market moving again. For if stocks are so low, the poor soul who wants to buy should be willing to pay a better tip for the privilege of completing the transaction.

Whatever will ensue, there are a great many SEC-registered representatives in the Mid- South and Midwest who are just as disgusted with the attitude of the New York Stock Exchange toward the small investor as the small investor himself.

Also, there are any number of analysts -- those who still have a job (what with so few people to perform an equity analysis for) -- who look upon the market presently with considerable skepticism.

How about the oil stocks, the auto and the tire equities currently?

Wouldn't some of them be good short sales? This is the question a lot of potential investors are asking their SEC-registered analysts these days.

And the clients of the analysts in a great many instances can ask just as intelligent a question as can the mutual fund managers who are making commitments at various times for millions of dollars.

If there is an energy crisis upon us, with filling stations about to shut down for various periods as gasoline and oil are rationed, how are you going to sell automobiles and tires at quantities equal to that of the recent past? So why, the question is raised, wouldn't equities in these fields be good short sales?

Why too, wouldn't equities of electric and gas appliance manufacturers be good short sales, if there may not be enough fuel available to keep them humming full time; and wouldn't the utilities, too, be good short sales?

Moreover, there has been a lot of talk recently about the machine tool industry of West Germany and Japan being far ahead of our own tool industry. So why wouldn't equities in any number of manufacturing industries be candidates for short sales presently -- unless the market already has discounted this elemental difficulty.

These are some of the questions analysts are getting from the poor, unsophisticated potential investor today, as the New York Stock Exchange contemplates raising commission rates.

For long positions currently, some potential investors are asking about the airlines and bus companies.

If the gasoline shortage takes the family car off the roads, won't the airlines and the buses have more business?

The ecologists should be pleased, too. For, the air should be much closer to purity with millions of cars off the road.

And if we truly are faced with a gasoline shortage, how about long positions in stocks of the bicycle manufacturers?

Should the energy crisis get so bad that our television sets went dead, think of the potential in equities of the playing card manufacturers.

As anyone in the stock market can tell you, there always are opportunities for making (and losing) money.

It would seem to be a time propitious for studying the possibilities with an SEC-registered representative.

Colley heads committee

Lynn A. Coley has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the Sikeston Life Underwriters Association to spearhead the formation of local classes in the Life Underwriter Council's course of life and disability income insurance sales training.

The appointment was announced by Herb Marshall of Charleston, the association president.

The Sikeston- SeMo Association has sponsored the LUTC program for four years. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., LUTC was officially formed through the joint efforts of company and field organizations in 1947 as an independent non- profit educational organization.

The Council offers a two-year practical sales training program in life insurance with weekly 2½- hour classes running from October to May each year.

Colley has been a member of the association for two years and has been associated with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Sikeston for five years. In addition to his association activities, he is also president of Sikeston Little Theatre and chairman of the Scott County Republican Party.

In preparation for his duties as education chairman, Colley attended a two- day seminar in Memphis for LUTC chairmen from 10 states, conducted by a representative of the home office in Washington, D.C.

Ark-Mo elects board directors

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. — The annual meeting of Arkansas- Missouri Power Company was held April 24 at the company's general office.

At the stockholders' meeting, directors re- elected were: Kendall Berry, Blytheville banker; Edmund S. Cummings Jr., Chicago attorney; Charles C. Czeschin, chairman of the board of the company, Blytheville; August L. Griesedieck, St. Louis attorney; Hal E. Hunter Jr., New Madrid, Mo., attorney; Floyd W. Lewis, president and chief executive officer of Middle South Utilities, Inc., New Orleans; George K. Reeves, Caruthersville, Mo., attorney; Frank G. Smith Jr., president of the company, Blytheville; Henry F. Trotter, Pine Bluff automobile dealer and planter and Gus B. Walton Jr., Little Rock attorney.

At a directors' meeting following the stockholders' meeting, officers re- elected were: Frank G. Smith Jr., president and chief executive officer; Charles C. Czeschin, chairman; Chas. R. Newcomb, vice president and secretary; John H. Germain, vice president, engineering and purchasing; L. T. McSpadden, vice president, Legal and Personnel; John C. Watson, vice president, marketing and development; E. L. McKenzie, treasurer and assistant secretary; and E. E. Brown, assistant treasurer.

The progress the company has made during the past year was reviewed as well as progress on plans for the construction of a $15 million electric generating plant of 150,000- kilowatt capacity at Blytheville. The Arksnasas Public Service Commission has issued the company a certificate of convenience and necessity to construct and operate the plant.

Also, it was noted that the Federal Power Commission has now issued the company a permanent order for operation of the $4 million liquefied natural gas plant recently completed just north of Blytheville. The storage facility is now being filled with natural gas to supplement the pipeline supply of natural gas.

Mogul names foreman

MALDEN — Mrs. Penny Todd, the daughter of Mrs. Margie Hall of Holcomb and the late Harvey Brigman, has been promoted to finishing foreman with Federal- Mongul Company in Malden.

In this position, the Holcomb native will supervise the grinder, tinplate and inspection area on the second shift.

She started with the company in 1965 as an inspector. Later she worked in the office as personnel clerk and a payroll clerk. Since returning to the inspection department, she has worked as both a senior and a junior inspector.

She is a graduate of Holcomb High School and now lives with her husband Joel and their four- year - old son Jeffrey on Clarkton Route One.

Jones attends institute

Michael H. Jones, 701 Mimosa, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, recently attended the firms' field management institute at the home office in Omaha, Neb.

Included in the five- day seminar were courses covering various phases of agency management, such as training, supervision and recruiting.

To qualify for the institute, a representative must have completed the companies' basic training schools and achieved a high level of sales production.

Jones is associated with the Jack B. Williams Division Office, general agency for Mutual and United in Cape Girardeau.

Hirsch construction begins

DEXTER — Construction has begun on a new P. N. Hirsch Department Store to be located on Highway 114 West adjacent to Wal-Mart Discount City.

The building will be owned by Lewis Rogers, and Rogers Construction Co. will be the builder. Construction is scheduled for completion in July.

Lewis is regional manager

ATLANTA, Ga. — Michael R. Lewis was promoted April 1 to regional sales manager of the Southeastern region of Allied Chemical Corporation and is headquartered in Atlanta.

He was previously the assistant regional manager of Allied's mid-Atlantic region in Valley Forge, Pa.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Lewis of Miner, Mo.

He graduated from the Miner Grade School and was valedictorian of the 1951 graduating class at Sikeston High School. He graduated from University of Missouri - Columbia with a bachelor of arts degree in chemistry in 1955. He spent the next four years in the Navy with overseas service in Japan.

He joined Allied Chemical Corp. in the Industrial Chemicals Division, in 1960.

STILL NOT A CRIME WAVE

Kohlfield offers Old Milwaukee

CAPE GIRARDEAU — One of the nation's fastest growing major brands of beer was introduced last week in the Sikeston area. The product is Old Milwaukee, a popular priced beer from the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company.

Old Milwaukee's introduction was mapped at a meeting in Cape Girardeau between Schlitz Company officials from Milwaukee and representatives of Kohlfeld Distributing Inc., 110 Missouri Ave., Sikeston, wholesale firm for the brewery.

Leo Kohlfeld, operator of Kohlfeld Distributing, said consumers would be acquainted with Old Milwaukee through advertising and merchandising programs.

Kohlfeld said the Old Milwaukee brand is in distribution in all or parts of 40 states and currently is undergoing market expansion, including Sikeston.

Schlitz company officials from Milwaukee attending the introductory meeting included Thomas Errath, Old Milwaukee brand manager; Davis Morris, ad manager for the brand, and Ralph Gibson, Old Milwaukee merchandising manager.

Schlitz, the world's second largest brewing firm, had record sales volume in 1972 for the 11th consecutive year -- 18,906,000 barrels of beer -- and record gross sales of $779,359,000.

IBC cites loss in earnings

KANSAS CITY — Substantially higher operating costs without adequate price relief were cited today by Interstate Brands Corporation as cause of a loss in earnings for the first quarter of 1973.

For the 16 weeks ended April 21, the bakery-food firm reported a net loss of $642,031 compared with earnings of $800,130 for the same period a year ago. The loss of 28 cents per common share compares with earnings of 34 cents per commo share for first quarter 1972.

Net sales for the period were $86,976,702 compared with $85,912,703 for the like period last year.

Hart's Bakery is a subsidiary of Interstate Brands.

In commenting on the first quarter results, B. J. Hinkle, IBC's newly- elected president, said: "IBC suffered from a profit squeeze caused by rapidly rising wage and ingredient costs while the government continued tight controls on prices."

Hinkle also pointed out that "if it were not for the increased cost of flour alone, the company would not be reporting a loss for the first quarter."

To help counter the severe squeeze on profits, IBC has taken a number of steps to improve efficiencies. Cost reduction programs have been instituted at all levels -- plant, region and corporate headquarters.

"One encouraging factor is the construction progress of the new bread bakery at Glendale, Calif. -- slated to be the most modern of its kind in the industry -- which is scheduled for start- up this summer," he concluded.

Doctors honored

OSAGE BEACH — Dr. Eldon L. Loper of Dexter was recognized for more than 40 years of service to the optometric profession at recent Missouri Optometric Association Convention.

Honored for more than 25 years of service were Dr. Carl Oliver DeHoff of Caruthersville, Dr. Rennato F. Guerra of Charleston, Dr. Joseph L. Mosley of Cape Girardeau and Dr. John T. Van Cleve of Poplar Bluff.

SBA clarifies loan program

ST. LOUIS — Gerald D. Jepson, deputy regional director of the U. S. Small Business Administration, Kansas City, has clarified SBA's disaster loan assistance program as it pertains to farmers in Missouri.

"Any farmer who lives in one of the 81 Missouri counties which have been declared disaster areas by President Nixon, and whose home has been damaged by the recent flooding disaster, may apply to SBA for a long-term, low-interest loan to repair or replace his home and personal property; that is, the contents of his home," Jepson explained.

"In addition," Jepson said, "a landlord who owns farm tenant dwellings that have been damaged by flood waters may apply to SBA for a business disaster loan to repair or replace these tenant homes. And, any tenant farmer whose residence has been flooded may apply to SBA for a personal property disaster loan to repair or replace his furniture, clothing and other household contents."

In essence, the situation is this: any Missouri farmer who is a disaster victim in one of the 81 disaster counties is currently eligible for the same SBA home, personal property and tenant real estate disaster loan assistance that SBA has provided to non=farm residents in the past. In other words, any Missouri disaster victim in one of the 81 counties, no matter what his occupation, can now apply to SBA for a home and personal property disaster loan.

Jepson said, "SBA disaster home loans may be made for as much as $50,000. Personal property loans may go up to $10,000. However, a combination home and personal property loan may not exceed a total of $55,000."

A landlord of farm tenant dwellings may apply to SBA for a business disaster loan to repair or replace these residential real estate structures. The landlord does not have to live in one of the 81 disaster counties, but the tenant homes, his business, must be located in one of those 81 counties.

SBA disaster business loans may not exceed $500,000.

Any Missouri flood victim who receives an SBA disaster loan or loans does not have to repay the first $5,000 of his or her loan, or his or her total loan package, as long as it is used to restore the victim's eligible property to its pre-disaster condition.

All such SBA disaster loans bear an interest rate of one per cent and may be made for a period of up to 30 years."

"In the past," Jepson noted, "SBA has not provided any type of disaster loan assistance to farmers, because federal disaster aid to farmers has traditionally been covered by the Farmers Home Administration and other divisions of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"However, SBA recently made an agreement with the FHA to extend the home and residence type SBA disaster aid I have just outlined to farmers, farm residents and landlords of farm homes in all disaster areas which have been declared by President Nixon since Dec. 27, 1972. Naturally, Missouri fall into this category."

Requests for federal financial assistance to repair, replace, or restore any other part of a farm (eroded soil, damaged crops, barns, farming equipment, etc.) must be discussed with representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"I want to emphasize that any SBA disaster loan is made for the amount of damaged property not covered by insurance," Jepson stated.

"We want very much to help the farm flood victim and let him know what kind of financial assistance we can provide him. We are working very closely with the Farmers Home Administration on our loans to farmers, particularly where FHA or Production Credit Association has outstanding liens. We want to work out a total financing package that will permit the farmer to continue to operate.

"The intent of our program," Jepson said, "Is to help the disaster victim cope with damage not covered by his insurance and to restore his property to pre-disaster condition as quickly as possible."

For further information, Missouri flood victims should phone this toll-free number: 1-800-392-3470."

Don't pump out basements too quickly

COLUMBIA—Persons returning to homes in flooded areas should not be in a hurry to pump water out of basements, cautions Richard E. Phillips, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

"Many homeowners in Missouri have never experienced flood conditions so severe as what we have had recently," Phillips said, "and may not be aware of the damage that can occur if a basement is pumped before the outside water table sinks."

Even after flood waters have receded below the ground level, there is often sufficient water in the ground surrounding a home that basement walls can collapse under the strain if the inside water is removed too soon, he said.

The pressure of water under the basement floor can also cause the floor to crack badly if water inside the basement is removed too soon.

"Basements aren't boats," said Phillips. "So don't pump water out of a flooded basement until the ground water table drops sufficiently to keep the basement walls and floor from cracking or collapsing.

Charge account interest is deductible

Many of us find it convenient to charge our purchases in stores and gas stations. The catch, of course, is having the money to pay the bills when they become due, or having to pay finance charges.

If you've had to pay finance charges on your revolving charge accounts, the Internal Revenue Service has some good news. You can deduct revolving charge account finance charges as interest on your income tax returns.

The IRS may ask you to prove you actually paid the interest you claimed as a deduction.

Today in U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 16, the 136th day of 1973. There are 229 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1960, a Big Four summit conference in Paris collapsed as the Soviets leveled spy charges against the United States after shooting down an American U2 reconnaissance plane over the USSR.

On this date—

In 1639, New Port, R.I., was founded.

In 1770, Marie Antoinette was married to King Louis XVI of France.

In 1775, the first state constitution in the United States was adopted by Massachusetts.

In 1871, British Columbia became a province of the Dominion of Canada.
